Careful Eating: Bodies, Food and Care Emma-Jayne Abbotts, Anna Lavis, Luci Attala, 2016-03-03 Critically reflecting on the interplays between food and care this multidisciplinary volume asks why do individuals institutions and agencies care about what other people eat It explores how acts of caring about food and eating shape and intervene in individual bodies as well as being enacted in and through those bodies In so doing the volume extends current critical debates regarding food and care as political mechanisms through which social hierarchies are constructed and both self and other re produced Addressing the ways in which eating and caring interact on multiple scales and sites from public health and clinical settings to the market the home and online communities Careful Eating asks what eating and caring are what relationships they create and rupture and how their interplay is experienced in myriad spaces of everyday life Taking account of this two directional flow of engagement between eating and caring the chapters are organized into three central theoretical dimensions how eating practices mobilize discourses and forms of care how discourses and practices of care look to shape particular forms of eating and food preferences and how it is often in the bodies of individual consumers that eating and care encounter one another

Localism, Landscape, and the Ambiguities of Place David Blackburn, James Retallack, 2015-01-15 What makes a person call a particular place home Does it follow simply from being born there Is it the result of a language shared with neighbours or attachment to a familiar landscape Perhaps it is a piece of music or a painting or even a travelogue that captures the essence of home And what about the sense of belonging that inspires nationalist or local autonomy movements Each of these can be a marker of identity but all are ambiguous Where you were born has a different meaning if like so many modern Germans you have moved on and now live elsewhere Representing the national interest in parliament becomes more difficult when voters demand attention to local and regional issues or when ethnic tensions erupt In all these situations the landscape of home takes on a more elusive meaning Localism Landscape and the Ambiguities of Place is about the German nation state and the German speaking lands beyond it from the 1860s to the 1930s The authors explore a wide range of subjects music and art elections and political festivities local landscape and nature conservation tourism and language struggles in the family and the school Yet they share an interest in the ambiguities of German identity in an age of extraordinarily rapid socio economic change These essays do not assume the primacy of national allegiance Instead by using the sense of place as a prism to look at German identity in new ways they examine a sense of Germanness that was neither self evident nor unchanging

Geographies and Moralities Roger Lee, David M. Smith, 2011-07-22 This topical book addresses contemporary concern with the interconnections between geography and morality Covers both the geographical context of morality and moralities in geographical methods and practices Contains up to date case studies based on original research Deals with controversial issues such as problems of globalization European integration human rights in Nigeria territorial conflict in Israel and land reform in post apartheid South Africa The editors are well published leading international authorities The contributors are drawn from Australia Eastern Europe Israel South Africa the UK and the US

Imprints John N. Low, 2016-02-01 The Pokagon Band of Potawatomi Indians has been a part of Chicago since its founding In very public expressions of indigeneity they have refused to hide in plain sight or assimilate Instead throughout the city's history the Pokagon Potawatomi Indians have openly and aggressively expressed their refusal to be marginalized or forgotten and in doing so they have contributed to the fabric and history of the city Imprints The Pokagon Band of Potawatomi Indians and the City of Chicago examines the ways some Pokagon Potawatomi tribal members have maintained a distinct Native identity their rejection of assimilation into the mainstream and their desire for inclusion in the larger contemporary society without forfeiting their Indianness Mindful that contact is never a one way street Low also examines the ways in which experiences in Chicago have influenced the Pokagon Potawatomi Imprints continues the recent scholarship on the urban Indian experience before as well as after World War II

The Oxford Handbook of Modern German History Helmut Walser Smith, 2011-09-29 This is the first comprehensive multi author survey of German history that features cutting edge syntheses of major topics by an international team of leading scholars Emphasizing demographic economic and political history this Handbook places German history in a denser transnational context than any other general history of Germany It underscores the centrality of war to the unfolding of German history and shows how it dramatically affected the development of German nationalism and the structure of German politics It also reaches out to scholars and students beyond the field of history with detailed and cutting edge chapters on religious history and on literary history as well as to contemporary observers with reflections on Germany and the European Union and on multi cultural Germany Covering the period from around 1760 to the present this Handbook represents a remarkable achievement of synthesis based on current scholarship It constitutes the starting point for anyone trying to understand the complexities of German history as well as the state of scholarly reflection on Germany s dramatic often destructive integration into the community of modern nations As it brings this story to the present it also places the current post unification Federal Republic of Germany into a multifaceted historical context It will be an indispensable resource for scholars students and anyone interested in modern Germany

Building Better Societies Rowland Atkinson, Lisa Mckenzie, Simon Winlow, 2017-05-31 What would it take to make society better For the majority conditions are getting worse and this will continue unless strong action is taken This book offers a wide range of expert contributors outlining what might help to make better societies and which mechanisms interventions and evidence are needed when we think about a better society The book looks at what is needed to prevent the proliferation of harm and the gradual collapse of civil society It argues that social scientists need to cast aside their commitment to the established order and its ideological support systems look ahead at the likely outcomes of various interventions and move to the forefront of informed political debate Providing practical steps and policy programmes this is ideal for academics and students across a wide range of social science fields and those interested in social inequality

Why We Eat, How We Eat Emma-Jayne Abbotts, Anna Lavis, 2016-02-11 Why We Eat How We Eat maps new terrains in thinking about relations between bodies and foods With the central premise that food is both symbolic and material the volume explores the intersections of current critical debates regarding how individuals eat and why they eat Through a wide ranging series of case studies it examines how foods and bodies both haphazardly encounter and actively engage with one another in ways that are simultaneously material social and political The aim and uniqueness of this volume is therefore the creation of a multidisciplinary dialogue through which to produce new understandings of these encounters that may be invisible to more established paradigms In so doing Why We Eat How We Eat concomitantly employs eating as a tool a novel way of looking while also drawing attention to the term eating itself and to the multiple ways in which it can be constituted The volume asks what eating is what it performs and silences what it produces and destroys and what it makes present and absent It thereby traces the webs of relations and multiple scales in which eating bodies are entangled in diverse and innovative ways contributors demonstrate that eating draws into relationships people places and objects that may never tangibly meet and show how these relations are made and unmade with every mouthful By illuminating these contemporary encounters Why We Eat How We Eat offers an empirically grounded richness that extends previous approaches to foods and bodies The Encyclopedia of Sustainable Tourism Carl I Cater,Brian Garrod,Tiffany Low,2015-10-01 Tourism is the world s fastest growing industry and impacts globally upon ecology economies peoples cultures and the built environment Development therefore must be sustainable and sympathetic in order to preserve the environment and culture it exploits Despite sustainable tourism being an area of considerable recent interest there has been no synthesis of the diverse considerations of sustainable tourism and the language and terms particular to this subject An important resource for researchers of tourism this reference work defines and explains terms associated with considering and preserving the environment host peoples communities cultures customs lifestyles and social and economic systems Maxwell Street Tim Cresswell,2019-03-22 What is the nature of place and how does one undertake to write about it To answer these questions geographer and poet Tim Cresswell looks to Chicago s iconic Maxwell Street Market area Maxwell Street was for decades a place where people from all corners of the city mingled to buy and sell goods play and listen to the blues and encounter new foods and cultures Now redeveloped and renamed University Village it could hardly be more different In Maxwell Street Cresswell advocates approaching the study of place as an assemblage of things meanings and practices He models this innovative approach through a montage format that exposes the different types of texts primary secondary and photographic sources that have attempted to capture the essence of the area Cresswell studies his historical sources just as he explores the different elements of Maxwell Street exposing them layer by layer Brilliantly interweaving words and images Maxwell Street sheds light on a historic Chicago neighborhood and offers a new model for how to write about place that will interest anyone in the fields of geography urban studies or cultural history Territory David Delaney,2008-04-15 This short introduction conveys the complexities associated with the term territory in a clear and accessible manner It surveys the field and brings theory to ground in the case of Palestine A clear and accessible introduction to the complexities associated with the term territory Provides an interdisciplinary survey of the many strands of research in the field Addresses specific areas including interpretations of territorial structures the relationship between territoriality and scale the validity and fluidity of territory and the practical social processes associated with territorial re configurations Stresses that our understanding of territory is inseparable from our understanding of power Uses Israel Palestine as an extended illustrative case study The author s strong legal and geographical background gives the work an authoritative perspective Making Political Geography John Agnew,Luca Muscarà,2012-02-16 Dating from its inception in the late nineteenth century political geography as a field has been heavily influenced by global events of the time Thus rather than trying to impose a single fashionable theory leading geographers John Agnew and Luca Muscar consider the underlying role of changing geopolitical context as their framework for understanding the evolution of the discipline The authors trace the development of key thinkers and theories during three distinct periods 1875 1945 the Cold War and the post Cold War emphasizing the ongoing struggle between theoretical monism and pluralism or one path to knowledge versus many The world has undergone dramatic shifts since the book s first publication in 2002 and this thoroughly revised and updated second edition focuses especially on reinterpretations of the post Cold War period Agnew and Muscar explore the renewed questioning of international borders the emergence of the Middle East and displacement of Europe as the center of global geopolitics the rise of China and other new powers the reappearance of environmental issues and the development of critical geopolitics With its deeply knowledgeable and balanced history and overview of the field this concise work will be a valuable and flexible text for all courses in political geography

Reanimating Places Tom Mels, 2016-12-05 Time space relationships are central to human geography This book seeks to reanimate time space by considering the links between lived experience various temporalities and particular places in terms of compounded and contested rhythms Time space rhythms emphasize the practical symbolic everyday and embodied qualities in the experience and making of our geographical environment Bringing together a team of renowned geographers who have been exploring such ideas over the past decades this book provides a unique and varied set of geographical approximations to the reanimation of place nature and landscape revealing a complex disputed world of politics sensory experiences and representations of space time Including case studies from Europe and North America the book addresses some important issues ranging from the symbolic orchestrations of landscape to deeply personal memories of particular natural rhythms

Place Tim Cresswell, 2014-08-29 Thoroughly revised and updated this text introduces students of human geography and allied disciplines to the fundamental concept of place combining discussion about everyday uses of the term with the complex theoretical debates that have grown up around it A thoroughly revised and updated edition of this highly successful short introduction to place Features a new chapter on the use of place in non geographical arenas such as in ecological theory art theory and practice philosophy and social theory Combines discussion about everyday uses of the term place with the more complex theoretical debates that have grown up around it Uses familiar stories drawn from the news popular culture and everyday life as a way to explain abstract ideas and debates Traces the development of the concept from the 1950s through its subsequent appropriation by cultural geographers and the linking of place to politics

Place, Space and Hermeneutics Bruce B. Janz, 2017-03-29 This book analyzes the hermeneutics of place raising questions about central issues such as textuality dialogue and play It discusses the central figures in the development of hermeneutics and place and surveys disciplines and areas in which a hermeneutic approach to place has been fruitful It covers the range of philosophical hermeneutic theory both within philosophy itself as well as from other disciplines In doing so the volume reflects the state of theorization on these issues and also looks forward to the implications and opportunities that exist Philosophical hermeneutics has fundamentally altered philosophy's approach to place Issues such as how we dwell in place how place is imagined created preserved and lost and how philosophy itself exists in place have become central While there is much research applying hermeneutics to place there is little which both reflects on that heritage and critically analyzes a hermeneutic approach to place This book fills that void by offering a sustained analysis of the central elements major figures and disciplinary applications of hermeneutics and place

Planning in Ten Words Or Less Michael Gunder, Jean Hillier, 2009 Based on a range of international studies on planning policy and practice this book takes a Lacanian and related post structuralist perspective to demythologize ten of the most heavily utilized terms in spatial planning

Space, Place, and Landscape in Ancient Greek Literature and Culture Kate Gilhuly, Nancy Worman, 2014-09-22 This book brings together a collection of original essays that engage with cultural geography and landscape studies to produce new ways of understanding place space and landscape in Greek literature from the fifth and fourth centuries BCE The authors draw on an eclectic collection of contemporary approaches to bring the study of ancient Greek literature into dialogue with the burgeoning discussion of spatial theory in the humanities The essays in this volume treat a variety of textual spaces from the intimate to the expansive the bedroom ritual space the law courts theatrical space the poetics of the city and the landscape of war And yet all of the contributions are united by an interest in recuperating some of the many ways in which the ancient Greeks in the archaic and classical periods invested places with meaning and in how the representation of place links texts to social practices
