Judaism and Story Jacob Neusner, 2003-09-26 In this close analysis of The Fathers According to Rabbi Nathan a sixth century commentary on the Mishnah tractate The Fathers Avot Jacob Neusner considers the way in which the story as a distinctive type of narrative entered the canonical writings of Judaism The final installment in Neusner's cycle of analyses of the major texts of the Judaic canon Judaism and Story shows that stories about sages exist in far greater proportion in The Fathers According to Rabbi Nathan than in any of the other principal writings in the canon of Judaism of late antiquity Neusner's detailed comparison of The Fathers and The Fathers According to Rabbi Nathan demonstrates the transmission and elaboration of these stories and shows how these processes incorporated the newer view of the sage as a supernatural figure and of the eschatological character of Judaic teleology

These distinctions as Neusner describes them mark a shift in Jewish orientation to world history Judaism and Story documents a chapter of rabbinic tradition that explored the possibility of historical orientation by means of stories As Neusner demonstrates this experiment with narrative went beyond argumentation focused on the explication of the Torah The sage story moved in the direction of biography but without allowing biography to emerge This development in Neusner s account parallels the movement from epistle to Gospel in early Christianity and thus has broad implications for the history of religions The Sayings of the Wise Or Food for Thought ,1908 The Book of Proverbs, Chapters 15-31 Bruce K. The Sayings of the Wise; Or Food for Thought William Baldwin, 2015-06-27 Excerpt from The Sayings of the Wise; Or Food for Thought: A Book of Moral Wisdom Gathered From the Ancient Philosophers. The central purpose of this Series of Books is not to excite the least ill will or prejudice towards any existing body of Christian men and women whatsoever, but rather to implant and cherish in the hearts of all its Readers a perfect detestation and execration of Compulsion in Religion and of Persecution for Religious Opinions. By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples if ye have love one to another. About the Publisher: Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
