New Jersey Wine Sal Westrich, 2012-11-20 The finely aged story of New Jersey wine is older than the United States itself As early as 1767 the colony's wines were garnering awards from London's Royal Society of the Arts The vineyards continued to grow through some of the country's most turbulent times In 1864 at the height of the Civil War Renault Winery was founded and it continues to operate today While Prohibition nearly destroyed the industry in 1933 the founding of Tomasello's Winery in Hammonton helped revive it In 1980 only seven wineries were in operation but by 2011 the state boasted over thirty four many of which are winning awards in some of the world's most respected wine competitions So grab a glass and join winemaking expert Sal Westrich as he tracks the history of New Jersey wine accompanied by photos by John Muth
