Questions of Travel Caren Kaplan, 1996-08-21 Contemporary theory is replete with metaphors of travel displacement diaspora borders exile migration nomadism homelessness and tourism to name a few In Questions of Travel Caren Kaplan explores the various metaphoric uses of travel and displacement in literary and feminist theory traces the political implications of this traveling theory and shows how various discourses of displacement link rather than separate modernism and postmodernism Addressing a wide range of writers including Paul Fussell Edward Said James Clifford Gilles Deleuze Jean Baudrillard Gayatri Spivak Edward Soja Doreen Massey Chandra Mohanty and Adrienne Rich Kaplan demonstrates that symbols and metaphors of travel are used in ways that obscure key differences of power between nationalities classes races and genders Neither rejecting nor dismissing the powerful testimony of individual experiences of modern exile or displacement Kaplan asks how mystified metaphors of travel might be avoided With a focus on theory's colonial discourses she reveals how these metaphors continue to operate in the seemingly liberatory critical zones of poststructuralism and feminist theory The book concludes with a critique of the politics of location as a form of essentialist identity politics and calls for new feminist geographies of place and displacement

Locating Race Malini Johar Schueller, 2009-01-08 Locating Race provides a powerful critique of theories and fictions of globalization that privilege migration transnationalism and flows Malini Johar Schueller argues that in order to resist racism and imperialism in the United States we need to focus on local understandings of how different racial groups are specifically constructed and oppressed by the nation state and imperial relations In the writings of Black Nationalists Native American activists and groups like Partido Nacional La Raza Unida the author finds an imagined identity of post colonial citizenship based on a race and place based activism that forms solidarities with oppressed groups worldwide and suggests possibilities for a radical globalism

Cosmopolitics Pheng Cheah, Bruce Robbins, Social Text Collective, 1998 Eminent contributors look at the present and future of cosmopolitanism and its relationship to nationalism Nationalism and the nation state have recently come under siege their political dominance gradually eroding under the strain of such forces as ethnic strife religious fundamentalism homogenizing global capitalism and the unprecedented movements of people and populations across cultures countries even cyberspace A resurgent cosmopolitanism has emerged as a viable and alternative political project In Cosmopolitics a renowned group of scholars and political theorists offers the first sustained examination of that project its inclusive and often universalist claims and its tangled and sometimes volatile relationship to nationalism Understood generally as a fundamental commitment to the interests of humanity traditional cosmopolitanism has been criticized as a privileged position an aloof detachment from the obligations and affiliations that constrain nation bound lives and move people to political action Yet as these essays make clear contemporary cosmopolitanism arises not from a disengagement but rather from well defined cultural historical and political contexts The contributors explore a feasible cosmopolitanism now beginning to emerge and consider the question of whether it can or will displace nationalism which needs to be rethought rather than dismissed as obsolete Intellectually provocative and erudite this interdisciplinary volume presents a diverse array of critical perspectives assessing both the ideal enterprise and the current realities of the rapidly developing cosmopolitical movement

Dislocating Cultures Uma Narayan, 2013-04-15 Dislocating Cultures takes aim at the related notions of nation identity and tradition to show how Western and Third World scholars have misrepresented Third World cultures and feminist agendas Drawing attention to the political forces that have spawned shaped and perpetuated these misrepresentations since colonial times Uma Narayan inspects the underlying problems which culture poses for the respect of difference and cross cultural understanding Questioning the problematic roles assigned to Third World subjects within multiculturalism Narayan examines ways in which the flow of information across national contexts affects our understanding of issues Dislocating Cultures contributes a philosophical perspective on areas of ongoing interest such as nationalism post colonial studies and the cultural politics of debates over tradition and westernization in Third World contexts

Gender, Globalization, and Violence Sandra Ponzanesi, 2014-07-11 This wide ranging collection of essays elaborates on some of the most pressing issues in contemporary postcolonial society in their transition from conflict and contestation to dialogue and resolution It explores from new angles questions of violent conflict forced migration trafficking and deportation human rights citizenship transitional justice and cosmopolitanism The volume focuses more specifically on the gendering of violence from a postcolonial perspective as it analyses unique cases that disrupt traditional visions of violence by including the history of empire and colony and its legacies that continue to influence present day configurations of gender race nationality class and sexuality Part One maps out the gendered and racialized contours of conflict zones from war zones prisons and refugee camps to peacekeeping missions and humanitarian aid reframing the field and establishing connections between colonial legacies and postcolonial dynamics Part Two explores how these conflict zones are played out not just outside but also within Europe demonstrating that multicultural Europe is fraught with different legacies of violence and postcolonial melancholia Part Three gives an idea of the kind of future that can be offered to post conflict societies defined as contact zones by exploring opportunities for dialogue restoration and reconciliation that can be envisaged from a gendered and postcolonial perspective through alternative feminist practices and the work of art and their redemptive power in mobilizing social change or increasing national healing processes Though strongly anchored in postcolonial critique the chapters draw from a range of traditions and expertise including conflict studies gender theory visual studies new media theory sociology race theory international security studies and religion studies Handbook of Feminist Research Sharlene Nagy Hesse-Biber,2012 The second edition of the Handbook of Feminist Research Theory and Praxis presents both a theoretical and practical approach to conducting social science research on for and about women The Handbook enables readers to develop an understanding of feminist research by introducing a range of feminist epistemologies methodologies and methods that have had a significant impact on feminist research practice and women s studies scholarship The Handbook continues to provide a set of clearly defined research concepts that are devoid of as much technical language as possible It continues to engage readers with cutting edge debates in the field as well as the practical applications and issues for those whose research affects social policy and social change It also expands on the wealth of interdisciplinary understanding of feminist research praxis that is grounded in a tight link between epistemology methodology and method The second edition of this Handbook will provide researchers with the tools for excavating subjugated knowledge on women s lives and the lives of other marginalized groups with the goals of empowerment and social change Colonization and Domestic Service Victoria K. Haskins,Claire Lowrie,2014-12-05 This book brings together two key themes that have not been addressed together previously in any sustained way domestic service and colonization Existing studies of domestic service rarely make mention of colonization but colonization offers a rich and exciting new paradigm for analysing the phenomenon of domestic labour by non family workers paid and otherwise Scholars in diverse fields and disciplines here share new and stimulating insights on the various connections between domestic employment and the processes of colonization both past and present in a range of original essays Identity Politics in the Women's Movement Barbara Ryan,2001-08 An essential collection that constructs the arguments of similarity and difference dividing and uniting women In recent years identity has come to be seen as a process rather than a fact or deterministic force Yet recognizable identity traits continue to draw people together and provide them with a sense of empowering commonality Although the plasticity afforded identity has freed up rigid definitions and guidelines for affiliation some believe that nebulous demarcations of identity may deprive women of a solid position from which to effectively contest centers of power Bringing together articles by well known authors and theorists such as Audre Lorde June Jordan Daphne Patai Barbara Smith Marilyn Frye Shane Phelan Leila J Rupp Hazel Carby and Adrienne Rich with lesser known writers and scholars this broad based anthology ranges widely from personal narratives to empirical research The book unpacks issues of race class gender ethnicity sexuality disability and age contributing a m lange of sharp lively perspectives to current debate In a postmodern era of feminism how do women come to identify organize and mobilize themselves within a complex global network of relationships Identity Politics in the Women s Movement offers critical examination of the inescapable role of identity in academic and activist feminism and the opportunities challenges and conflicts identity politics pose The Gift of Freedom Mimi Thi Nguyen, 2012-10 Mimi Thi Nguyen examines the self interested claims of the United States to provide freedom to others even as it does so by generating violence and displacement through overpowering warfare Between the Middle East and the Americas Ella Habiba Shohat, Evelyn Azeiza Alsultany, 2013-02-12 Between the Middle East and the Americas The Cultural Politics of Diaspora traces the production and circulation of discourses about the Middle East across various cultural sites against the historical backdrop of cross Atlantic Mahjar flows The book highlights the fraught and ambivalent situation of Arabs Muslims in the Americas where they are at once celebrated and demonized integrated and marginalized simultaneously invisible and spectacularly visible The essays cover such themes as Arab hip hop s transnational imaginary gender sexuality and the Muslim digital diaspora patriotic drama and the media s War on Terror the global negotiation of the Prophet Mohammad cartoons controversy the Latin American paradoxes of Turcophobia Turcophilia the ambiguities of the bellydancing fad French and American commodification of Rumi spirituality the reception of Iranian memoirs as cultural domestication and the politics of translation of Turkish novels into English Taken together the essays analyze the hegemonic discourses that position the Middle East as a consumable exoticized object while also developing complex understandings of self representation in literature cinema TV music performance visual culture and digital spaces Charting the shifting significations of differing and overlapping forms of Orientalism the volume addresses Middle Eastern diasporic practices from a transnational perspective that brings postcolonial cultural studies methods to bear on Arab American studies Middle Eastern studies and Latin American studies Between the Middle East and the Americas disentangles the conventional separation of regions moving beyond the binarist notion of here and there to imaginatively reveal the thorough interconnectedness of cultural geographies
