Chemical Signals in Vertebrates 3 Dietland Müller-Schwarze, Robert M. Silverstein, 2013-11-21 The first volume in this series appeared in 1977 the second in 1980 From these volumes and the present one some research trends in chemical communication can be perceived In the 1977 volume studies on 13 animal taxa were reported In the present volume the number is 25 This taxonomic diversification of research since the first volume of this series demonstrates the wide variety of ecological adaptations although no new general principles of chemical communication have emerged Further more divergences in chemical communication below the species level have become more apparent In general more sophisticated observations and techniques have led to greater awareness of the complexities in chemical communication As such awareness has also developed in the field of insect chemical communication there has been a corresponding increase in the identification of the chemical compounds involved However in the vertebrates no such correlation exists in the present volume conclusive chemical identifications of semiochemicals are remarkable by their paucity

The Smell of Slavery Andrew Kettler, 2020-05-28 In the Atlantic World different groups were aromatically classified in opposition to other ethnic gendered and class assemblies due to an economic necessity that needed certain bodies to be defined as excremental which culminated in the creation of a progressive tautology that linked Africa and waste through a conceptual hendiadys born of capitalist licentiousness The African subject was defined as a scented object appropriated as filthy to create levels of ownership through discourse that marked African peoples as unable to access spaces of Western modernity Embodied cultural knowledge was potent enough to alter the biological function of the five senses to create a European olfactory consciousness made to sense the African other as foul Fascinating informative and deeply researched The Smell of Slavery exposes that concerns with pungency within the Western self were emitted outward upon the freshly dug outhouse of the mass slave grave called the Atlantic World Interviewing Techniques for Child Support Workers

,1985 Anatomy of Love: A Natural History of Mating, Marriage, and Why We Stray (Completely Revised and Updated with a New Introduction) Helen Fisher,2016-02-01 A contemporary classic about love now completely revised and updated From love at first sight and infidelity to hook up culture and slow love Dr Helen Fisher the biological anthropologist and renowned expert on the science of love Scientific American explains it all in this thoroughly revised classic on the evolution and future of human sex romance and partnership Examining marriage and divorce in 58 societies and adultery in 42 cultures she argues that we are returning to patterns of business sex and love that echo our ancient past and she is optimistic about our future Physical Appearance, Stigma, and Social Behavior C. Peter Herman,Mark P. Zanna,E. Tory Higgins,2022-11-01

Originally published in 1986 this book grew out of a symposium held in 1981 at the University of Toronto on physical appearance as a determinant of personality and social behavior There is little doubt that one s appearance has some impact on the way one is perceived and treated and presumably owing to the socially reflected nature of the self one s personality likewise will be affected by one s appearance The questions arising from these basic observations and assumptions are many and the expert contributors were invited to discuss their research on some of the implications of individual differences in appearance as they ramify into personality and social interaction The chapters in this volume are the outcome of those discussions and cover the areas of facial attractiveness physique impact on social behavior and deviance Still a topic of interest to this day this book can now be read and enjoyed in its historical context S/He Brain Robert

Nadeau,1996-10-07 During the 1960s Margaret Mead s argument that gender identity is a product of learning in particular cultural contexts was incorporated into the sex gender system in feminist theory In this system sex refers to physiological differences in the body and gender refers to learned sex specific bodies to be viewed as separate and distinct from gender neutral minds In S He Brain Nadeau demonstrates that the sex gender system is not some arcane bit of academic jargon that has no impact on our daily lives It is the greatest source of division and conflict in the politics of our sexual lives for a now obvious reason the brains of men and women are not the same and the differences have behavioral consequences Further he argues that an improved understanding of the relationship between sex and gender could enlarge the bases for meaningful dialogue between men and women and lead to new standards for sexual equality that is more realistic and humane than the current standard The individual most responsible for legitimating the modern distinction between sex and gender was the anthropologist Margaret Mead According to the Mead doctrine gender identity is almost entirely a product of learning in different cultural contexts and sex or biological reality is not a determinant of this identity The assumption that gender identity is learned in sexless or gender neutral minds separate and distinct from sex specific bodies legitimated the sex gender system that has been foundational to feminist theory since the mid 1970s In this system sex refers to physiological differences in the domain of the body and gender to learned behavior in the domain of mind Since this two domain distinction obviated the connection between biological reality and gender identity it allowed gender identity to be viewed as scripted or socially constructed by cultural narratives stories myths legends and the like invented by men to control and oppress women In IS He Brain R Nadeau demonstrates that the sex gender system is not in accord with biological reality for now obvious reasons the brains of men and women are not the same and the differences have behavioral consequences Yet the intent of the book is to serve the cause of full sexual equality and not to escalate the gender war Nadeau attempts to accomplish this by demonstrating that an improved understanding of the relationship between sex and gender can not only enlarge the bases for meaningful communication between men and women It could also serve as the basis for a new and improved standard of sexual equality that eliminates the grossly unfair treatment of women sanctioned by the current standard Magic Trees of the Mind Marian Diamond, Janet Hopson, 1999-01-01 Cutting edge scientific research has shown that exposure to the right kind of environment during the first years of life actually affects the physical structure of a child's brain vastly increasing the number of neuron branches the magic trees of the mind that help us to learn think and remember At each stage of development the brain's ability to gain new skills and process information is refined As a leading researcher at the University of California at Berkeley Marion Diamond has been a pioneer in this field of research Now Diamond and award winning science writer Janet Hopson present a comprehensive enrichment program designed to help parents prepare their children for a lifetime of learning Philosophy and the Self Troy Wilson Organ, 1987 Hymning & Hawing About America Frank Trippett, 2000-08-04 Hymning Hawing About America is a collection of essays by Frank Trippett who has been called one of the really mind blowing talents of his generation as a journalist essayist and story teller The subjects of his essays range from politics and personalities to social conditions and psychological phenomena It is a brilliant look in the rear view mirror at the American scene during the Twentieth Century The book begins with the timeless reverie of A Season For Hymning And Hawing So autumn is a blatantly vital season contrary to the allegations of sorrowful poets who misconstrue the message of dying leaves Yet almost everybody recognizes that the season's character transcends those familiar bracing days crystal nights bigger stars vaulted skies fluted twilights harvest moons frosted pumpkins and that riotous foliage that impels whole traffic jams of leaf freaks up into New England No hymning or hawing in behalf of autumn should neglect to note that the coming season is a self contained climactic cycle It offers every weather at its end days icy enough for any sane person and along the way those indefinite Indian summers that put the real ones to shame The Ordeal Of Fun explores our obsessive quest for fun We are conceived in a moment of profound fun This fact may not fix our destiny but it strongly insinuates our complicity in some cosmic carnival Fun becomes us Born out of fun we are born into it too The infant is hurled into the air He opens grinning gums to the skies and issues an ecstatic gasp as he plummets To be To be is to be in disequilibrium visually physically aurally internally Life comes thus and the infant is in love with it Later when he comes as close as an adult can to recapturing the dizzy totality of it all he will speak of falling in love An axiom emerges For man fun is not only scratching where he itches it is itching where he scratches Fun takes such myriad forms it smacks of illusion This is appropriate Illusion means literally in play You may find fun elsewhere but only the fun you bring with you For that as every child knows is where it is at In Louisiana Jazzman s Last Ride is an elegy to a rich New Orleans tradition Boom A second shot signals the stricken cadence of a dirge The white gloves of the pallbearers flash in the morning sun as they float their burden to the silver gray Cadillac hearse A jazz funeral is beginning in New Orleans Though hardly disrespectful the underlying temper is festive The reason lies in tradition when the funeral is done the streets will explode with jubilant jazz and antic celebration A young woman in frayed jeans curves backward in an affront to gravity all the while clapping her hands rending the air with throaty singing Oh when the saints The Suckers explains the inner world of compulsive gamblers They talked about gambling and deep into the night I listened to voices that scarcely mentioned such things as cards and dice and horses Gambling seemed an abstract rite as they spoke of it severed from apparatus remote from any habitat My gamblers seemed to get their special feeling the compelling thing not at the resolution of a bet not at the winning or losing but while the bet was pending While the gamble was pending resolution they knew those special sensations almost indescribable The feelings vanish when the gamble is resolved but they want them again and so they bet again and again In action he was living lost child alive running ever running behind horses clinging to the tingling reins two wild horses one Yes and one No one Win and one Lose one Love and one Loveless running on running on The Scientist Signs of the Flesh Daniel
