School Choice Or Best Systems Margaret C Wang, Herbert J. Walberg, 2001-03 This book addresses one of the most urgent questions in American society today one that is currently in the spotlight and hotly debated on all sides Who shall rule the schools parents or educators School Choice or Best Systems What Improves Education presents an overview of research and practical applications of innovative even radical school reforms being implemented across the United States These fall along a continuum ranging from parental choice to best systems At the one extreme are schools of choice which allow parents to choose and even govern schools for their children These include charter schools traditional private and parochial schools schools that are privately governed but publicly funded through vouchers and those that are funded by private scholarships provided by both corporations and wealthy individuals At the other extreme are centralized state or district systems based on reform initiatives and new systems of education that have been developed in response to views of citizens and legislators that schools can do much better These schools which specify uniform goals policies and programs for each school are highly innovative systems based on research or representing advanced thinking about what works and have attracted wide interest Important questions related to schools of choice and best systems are addressed How can we choose among schools of choice and best systems Among the various approaches within each of these alternatives How can we understand their guiding principles and operational practices What results do they produce How can we evaluate their claims In choosing among the alternatives how should issues of student achievement accountability costs feasibility and equity be factored in This volume brings together leading researchers and education leaders who have carried out the latest studies and advances in the field providing a forum for them to set forth the arguments and evidence that will be most helpful in making choices for tomorrow s schools It does not provide a single right answer values and preferences differ across parents schools districts and states However there are benefits for all from seeing the rigorous research challenging thinking and alternate points of view this volume presents

School Choice Or Best Systems Margaret C Wang, Herbert J. Walberg, 2001-03-01 This book addresses one of the most urgent questions in American society today one that is currently in the spotlight and hotly debated on all sides Who shall rule the schools parents or educators School Choice or Best Systems What Improves Education presents an overview of research and practical applications of innovative even radical school reforms being implemented across the United States These fall along a continuum ranging from parental choice to best systems At the one extreme are schools of choice which allow parents to choose and even govern schools for their children These include charter schools traditional private and parochial schools schools that are privately governed but publicly funded through vouchers and those that are funded by private scholarships provided by both corporations and wealthy individuals At the other extreme are centralized state or district systems based on reform initiatives and new systems of education that have been developed in response to views of citizens and legislators that schools can do much better These schools which specify uniform goals policies and programs for each school are highly innovative systems based on research or representing advanced thinking about what works and have attracted wide interest Important questions related to schools of choice and best systems are addressed How can we choose among schools of choice and best systems Among the various approaches within each of these alternatives How can we understand their guiding principles and operational practices What results do they produce How can we evaluate their claims In choosing among the alternatives how should issues of student achievement accountability costs feasibility and equity be factored in This volume brings together leading researchers and education leaders who have carried out the latest studies and advances in the field providing a forum for them to set forth the arguments and evidence that will be most helpful in making choices for tomorrow s schools It does not provide a single right answer values and preferences differ across parents schools districts and states However there are benefits for all from seeing the rigorous research challenging thinking and alternate points of view this volume presents System-wide Efforts to Improve Student Achievement Kenneth K. Wong, Stacey Rutledge, 2006-03-01 Strong system wide support is increasingly being identified as laying an important role in policy efforts aimed at increasing student achievement Hightower Knapp March and McLaughlin 2002 Yet current research often views district and other system wide support as largely governance changes without substantive linkage to school improvement outcomes Cuban and Usdan 2003 In this volume we seek to deepen our understanding of the role of school districts and system wide initiatives through a series of case studies that focus on how school districts and system wide actors facilitate policy innovation and reform initiatives that are designed to improve student achievement Through both quantitative and qualitative studies from diverse settings across the country chapters in this volume examine the role of instructional technology alternative accountability practices management and partnership reforms and school improvement efforts through new incentive and support practices While challenges remain these case studies demonstrate how districts support and facilitate school change aimed at improving student achievement

Improving Educational Opportunities for Low-income Children United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Labor and Human Resources, 1997 Re-Envisioning Education and Democracy Ruthanne Kurth-Schai, Charles R.

Green, 2006-09-01 The fate of public education and therefore the future of our democracy is at risk Powerful forces are eroding commitment to public schools and weakening democratic resolve Yet even in deeply troubling times it is possible to broaden social imagination and empower efforts toward systemic progressive reform This book is an invitation for widespread participation in a complex process re envisioning education and democracy To reenvision to envision and then envision again is to join with others in imagining new possibilities and bringing these into existence Re envisioning is a radically social process Although distinct and varied individual contributions are required transformative visions cannot be advanced through the agency of one charismatic person or bound by one influential perspective The process of re envisioning like all forms of democratic living and learning draws energy and insight when connection and communion are sustained across dimensions of difference Re envisioning is an intensely creative and exploratory process It is not accomplished through careful construction of best laid plans aimed at attaining certainty and control Re envisioning is instead experienced and evolved by preparing for and then acting on informed and strategic glimpses These brief and fleeting impressions multimodal and multi sensory incomplete and ambiguous always in motion offer potentials but no definitive answers Re envisioning is a profoundly ethical and aesthetic process centered in prospects for social justice compassion reform and renewal Social movements are rarely motivated by commitments to narrow objectives aimed at solving specific problems Across time and cultures we are drawn to persons and processes to ideas and images that call us back to remember our highest principles and move us forward to respond with acts of integrity and grace Recurrent themes of beauty and power here mirrored in chapter titles inspire guide and liberate collective vision and principled action Re envisioning although accessible to all remains largely undeveloped and underutilized Our collective ability to realize progressive aspirations for education and democracy can be significantly enhanced by integrating the process of re envisioning with other more familiar educational and political reform strategies
