Marxist Literary Thought In China:

Marxist Literary Thought in China Paul G. Pickowicz, 2021-02-16 Marxist aesthetic thought has dominated Chinese literary life for half a century but little is known about how this distinctive Western school of thought came to be accepted Paul G Pickowicz fills in the gap tracing the evolution of Chinese Marxist literary thought by focusing on Ch u Ch iu pai China s most important Marxist literary intellectual of the twenties and thirties Ch u and his contemporaries interpreted the writing of Marx Engels Plekhanov Lafargue Trotsky Lenin and Lunacharsky in ways that would answer important questions about the relationship between art and society the moral obligations of the writer the manner in which revolutionaries should perceive the literary treasures of the past the impact of capitalism on artistic culture and the nature of art in the socialist society of the future Paul G Pickowicz finds that Chinese writers responded to Marxism in a variety of ways Some stressed voluntaristic themes some emphasized deterministic elements others like Ch u attempted to synthesize conflicting strains Moreover the transition to Marxism did not constitute a radical break from the liberal traditions associated with the May Fourth literary revolution Instead leftist writers interpreted Marxism in ways that were compatible with their deeply ingrained May Fourth intellectual predispositions Ch u was the first to make a Marxist critique of the May Fourth generation of literary intellectuals and to analyze the failings of the leftist literary movement itself His writings are of contemporary relevance for the issues he raised such as the failure of leftist writers to place the revolutionary literary movement on a mass base Ch u s writings influenced the literary thought of Mao Tse tung and the issues Ch u raised continue to be debated with emotion in China today This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1981

Marxism in the Chinese Revolution Arif Dirlik, 2005 Representing a lifetime of research and writing by noted historian Arif Dirlik the essays collected here explore developments in Chinese socialism and the issues that have occupied historians of the Chinese revolution for the past three decades Dirlik engages Chinese socialism critically but with sympathy for the aspirations of revolutionaries who found the hope of social political and cultural liberation in Communist alternatives to capitalism and the intellectual inspiration to realize their hopes in Marxist theory The book's historical approach to Marxist theory emphasizes its global relevance while avoiding dogmatic and Eurocentric limitations These incisive essays range from the origins of socialism in the early twentieth century through the victory of the Communists in mid century to the virtual abandonment by century's end of any pretense to a socialist revolutionary project by the leadership of the Chinese Communist Party All that remains of the revolution in historical hindsight are memories of its failures and misdeeds but Dirlik retains a critical perspective not just toward the past but also toward the ideological hegemonies of the present Taken together his writings reaffirm the centrality of the revolution to modern Chinese history They also illuminate the fundamental importance of Marxism to grasping the flaws of capitalist modernity despite the fact that in the end the socialist response was unable to transcend the social and ideological horizons of capitalism Literature and Literary Criticism in
