Introduction to Nursing Informatics Kathryn J. Hannah,Marion J. Ball,Margaret J.A. Edwards,2013-04-17 This series is intended for the rapidly increasing number of health care professionals who have rudimentary knowledge and experience in health care computing and are seeking opportunities to expand their horizons It does not attempt to compete with the primers already on the market Eminent international experts will edit author or contribute to each volume in order to provide comprehensive and current accounts of in novations and future trends in this quickly evolving field Each book will be practical easy to use and well referenced Our aim is for the series to encompass all of the health professions by focusing on specific professions such as nursing in individual volumes However integrated computing systems are only one tool for improving communication among members of the health care team Therefore it is our hope that the series will stimulate professionals to explore additional me ans of fostering interdisciplinary exchange This se ries springs from a professional collaboration that has grown over the years into a highly valued personal friendship Our joint values put people first If the Computers in Health Care series lets us share those values by helping health care professionals to communicate their ideas for the benefit of patients then our efforts will have succeeded

Leadership and Nursing John Daly,Sandra Speedy,Debra Jackson,2014-11-01 Leadership is fundamental to the nature of nursing to ensure the development of safe practice interdisciplinary relationships education research and ultimately the delivery of quality healthcare Leadership and Nursing Contemporary Perspectives 2e presents a global perspective of leadership issues within the Australian context It builds on the premise that nursing leadership is for all nurses not just those who are authorised to hold a position within an organisation In addition this book explores how leadership is not possible until one has an understanding of self and what motivates others The text is aimed at senior undergraduate and postgraduate nursing students making the transition to practice as well as professional nurses seeking to strengthen their clinical practice and governance Nine entirely new chapters exploring the most up to date leadership issues and themes including Leadership and its influence on patient outcomes Leadership Developing and sustaining self Indigenous leadership in nursing speaking life into each other s spirits Leadership and empowerment in nursing Leadership in the era of Inter professional education in healthcare Leading development of health policy Leadership and the role of Professional Organisations Leading nursing in the Academy Avoiding derailment Leadership strategies for identity reputation and legacy management

The History of Medical Informatics in the United States Morris F. Collen, Marion J. Ball, 2015-10-08 This is a meticulously detailed chronological record of significant events in the history of medical informatics and their impact on direct patient care and clinical research offering a representative sampling of published contributions to the field The History of Medical Informatics in the United States has been restructured within this new edition reflecting the transformation medical informatics has undergone in the years since 1990 The systems that were once exclusively institutionally driven hospital multihospital and outpatient information systems are today joined by systems that are driven by clinical subspecialties nursing pathology clinical laboratory pharmacy imaging and more At the core is the person not the clinician not the institution whose health all these systems are designed to serve A group of world renowned authors have joined forces with Dr Marion Ball to bring Dr Collen s incredible work to press These recognized leaders in medical informatics many of whom are recipients of the Morris F Collen Award in Medical Informatics and were friends of or mentored by Dr Collen carefully reviewed editing and updating his draft chapters This has resulted in the most thorough history of the subject imaginable and also provides readers with a roadmap for the subject well into later in the century

Nursing Informatics Ursula H. Hübner, Gabriela Mustata Wilson, Toria Shaw Morawski, Marion J. Ball, 2022-07-25 This new edition of the classic textbook on health informatics provides readers in healthcare practice and educational settings with an unparalleled depth of information on using informatics methods and tools However this new text speaks to nurses and in a departure from earlier editions of this title to all health professionals in direct patient care regardless of their specialty extending its usefulness as a textbook This includes physicians therapists pharmacists dietitians and many others In recognition of the evolving digital environments in all healthcare settings and of interprofessional teams the book is designed for a wide spectrum of healthcare professions including quality officers health information managers administrators and executives as well as health information technology professionals such as engineers and computer scientists in health care The book is of special interest to those who bridge the technical and caring domain particularly nurse and medical informaticians and other informaticians working in the health sciences Nursing Informatics An Interprofessional and Global Perspective contains real life case studies and other didactic features to illustrate the theories and principles discussed making it an ideal resource for use within health and nursing informatics curricula at both undergraduate and graduate level as well as for workforce development It honors the format established by the previous editions by including a content array and questions to guide the reader Readers are invited to look out of the box through a dedicated global perspective covering health informatics applications in different regions countries and continents The Nursing Informatics Implementation Guide Eleanor Callahan Hunt,Sara Breckenridge Sproat,Rebecca Rutherford Kitzmiller,2013-03-09 Health institutions are investing in and fielding information technology solutions at an unprecedented pace With the recommendations from the Institute of Medicine around information technology solutions for patient safety mandates from industry groups such as Leapfrog about using information systems to improve health care and the move toward evidence based practice health institutions cannot afford to retain manual practices The installation of multi million dollar computerized health systems represents the very life blood of contemporary clinical operations and a crucial link to the financial viability of institutions Yet the implementation of health information systems is exceptionally complex expensive and often just plain messy The need for improvement in the art and science of systems implementation is clear up to 70 80% of information technology installations fail The reasons are multifaceted ranging from the complexity of the diverse workflows being computerized the intricate nature of health organizations the knowledge and skills of users to other reasons such as strategies for obtaining key executive support weaving through the politics peculiar to the institution and technical facets including the usability of systems Thus the art and science of successfully implementing systems remains deeply layered in elusiveness Still given the pervasiveness of system implementations and the importance of the outcomes this is a critical topic especially for nurses and informatics nurse specialists Internet, Telematics, and Health Marcelo C. Sosa-Iudicissa,1997 This book is the final result of a team effort involving a large number of international experts coordinated and led by Dr Marcelo Sosa Iudicissa in Brussels Dr Nora Oliveri in Buenos Aires Dr Carlos A Gamboa in Washington and Ms Jean Roberts in England They have attracted and assembled together the contributions of 80 specialists from over 20 countries in North America Europe and Latin America This makes the present book a unique publication presenting a true global vision of the opportunities opened up by the advent of the Internet for doctors health professionals planners and managers as well as for patients and the public at large wanting to know more and better about their own health maintenance and protection It also presents a range of informatics and telematics applications available nowadays to medicine examples on how people with a health concern are using the Internet in both industrialised and developing countries This change bringing empowerment through knowledge is showing us the trend towards a New Health Paradigm in the Information Society This book is aimed at medical practitioners administrators teachers and students who wish an authoritative state of the art as well as how to for commencing or enhancing work done on the Internet A self contained CD Rom is included with the book providing readers with a flying start in accessing key information sounds
