Participatory Video in Adult Education Kyung-Hwa Yang, 2016-06-07 This book highlights participatory video as an instrument for community based adult education and focuses in particular on the role that it can play in promoting participatory culture among adult learners In brief participatory video refers to participant centered video making Today participant generated videos can travel farther and faster than ever before and thus the perspectives represented can be effectively shared by a large number of people Participatory video can also offer those involved an opportunity to address issues that matter to them and give voice to their experiences The author explores this potential based on her experience working with adult learners in a metropolitan community and addresses participatory video in both theory and practice The target readership is adult educators but it will also be helpful to researchers who have a particular interest in incorporating video into their community based work

The End of Detroit Micheline Maynard, 2004-09-21 An in depth hard hitting account of the mistakes miscalculations and myopia that have doomed America's automobile industry In the 1990s Detroit's Big Three automobile companies were riding high The introduction of the minivan and the SUV had revitalized the industry and it was widely believed that Detroit had miraculously overcome the threat of foreign imports and regained its ascendant position As Micheline Maynard makes brilliantly clear in THE END OF DETROIT however the traditional American car industry was in fact headed for disaster Maynard argues that by focusing on high profit trucks and SUVs the Big Three missed a golden opportunity to win back the American car buyer Foreign companies like Toyota and Honda solidified their dominance in family and economy cars gained market share in high margin luxury cars and in an ironic twist soon stormed in with their own sophisticatedly engineered and marketed SUVs pickups and minivans Detroit suffering from a good enough syndrome and wedded to ineffective marketing gimmicks like rebates and zero percent financing failed to give consumers what they really wanted reliability the latest technology and good design at a reasonable cost Drawing on a wide range of interviews with industry leaders including Toyota s Fujio Cho Nissan s Carlos Ghosn Chrysler s Dieter Zetsche BMW s Helmut Panke and GM s Robert Lutz as well as car designers engineers test drivers and owners Maynard presents a stark picture of the culture of arrogance and insularity that led American car manufacturers astray Maynard predicts that by the end of the decade one of the American car makers will no longer exist in its present form

Geospatial Intelligence

Robert M. Clark,2020-09-01 Geospatial Intelligence Origins and Evolution tells the story of how the current age of geospatial knowledge evolved from its ancient origins to become ubiquitous in daily life across the globe weaving a tapestry of stories about the people events ideas and technologies that affected the trajectory of what has become known as GEOINT

Performing Epic Or Telling Tales Fiona Macintosh,Justine McConnell,2020 From spoken word to ballet ancient Greek and Roman epics regularly provide both the subjects and the form for emergent and seasoned theatre makers This volume examines the why of this epic turn exploring not only the translation and scholarly histories of the epics but also earlier performance traditions and recent theoretical debates

Class Dismissed John Marsh,2011-07-01 In Class Dismissed John Marsh debunks a myth cherished by journalists politicians and economists that growing poverty and inequality in the United States can be solved through education Using sophisticated analysis combined with personal experience in the classroom Marsh not only shows that education has little impact on poverty and inequality but that our mistaken beliefs actively shape the way we structure our schools and what we teach in them Rather than focus attention on the hierarchy of jobs and power where most jobs require relatively little education and the poor enjoy very little political power money is funneled into educational endeavors that ultimately do nothing to challenge established social structures and in fact reinforce them And when educational programs prove ineffective at reducing inequality the ones whom these programs were intended to help end up blaming themselves Marsh s struggle to grasp the connection between education poverty and inequality is both powerful and poignant
