Postcolonial Urbanism Southeast Asian Cities And Global Processes:

Postcolonial Urbanism Ryan Bishop, John Phillips, Wei-Wei Yeo, 2003 First Published in 2003 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Urban Cultures in (post)colonial Central Europe Agata Anna Lisiak, 2010 Agata Anna Lisiak shows in her book Urban Cultures in Post colonial Central Europe how the postcolonial idea developed recently to study Central and East European culture can help us see the transformations of cities in the region Lisiak argues that Berlin Budapest Warsaw and Prague are incubated cultures whose deepest forces were shadowy and ironic Marshall Berman City University of New York Transforming Asian Cities Nihal Perera, Wing-shing Tang, 2013 While there is no lack of studies on Asian cities the majority focus on financial districts poverty the slum tradition tourism and pollution and use the modern affluent and transforming Western city as the reference point This vast Asian empirical presence is not complemented by a theoretical presence academic discourses overlook common and basic urban processes particularly the production of space place and identity by ordinary citizens Switching the vantage point to Asian cities and citizens Transforming Asian Cities draws attention to how Asians produce their contemporary urban practices identities and spaces as part of resisting responding to and avoiding larger global and national processes Instead of viewing Asian cities in opposition to the Western city and using it as the norm this book instead opts to provincialize mainstream and traditional knowledge It argues that the vast terrain of ordinary actors and spaces which are currently left out should be reflected in academic debates and policy decisions and the local thinking processes that constitute these spaces need to be acknowledged enabled and critiqued The individual chapters illustrate that global spaces are more trans local traditional environments are more modern and Asian spaces are better defined than acknowledged The aim is to develop room for understandings of Asian cities from Asian standpoints especially acknowledging how Asians observe interpret understand and create space in their cities Chapters on Asia: Selected papers from the Lee Kong Chian Research Fellowship (2019) Emma Harper, Tam Ong Y-Lynn, Marc Sebastian Rercer et al, Yosuke Watanabe, 2020-03-31 Chapters on Asia features selected papers written by scholars who have been awarded the National Library's Lee Kong Chian Research Fellowship These works examine the history and heritage of Singapore and the region and contain fresh research based on materials and resources from the collections of the National Library and National Archives of Singapore Routledge Handbook of Asian Cities Richard Hu, 2023-05-31 This handbook provides the most comprehensive examination of Asian cities developed and developing large and small and their urban development Investigating the urban challenges and opportunities of cities from every nation in Asia the handbook engages not only the global cities like Shanghai Tokyo Singapore Seoul and Mumbai but also less studied cities like Dili Mal Bandar Seri Begawan Kabul and Pyongyang The handbook discusses Asian cities in alignment to the United Nations New Urban Agenda and Sustainable Development Goals in order to contribute to global policy debates In doing so it critically reflects on the development trajectories of Asian cities and imagines an urban future in Asia and the world in the post sustainable post global and post pandemic era Presenting 43 chapters of original insightful research this book will be of interest to scholars practitioners students and general readers in the fields of urban development urban policy and planning urban studies and Asian studies Negotiating Urban Conflicts Helmuth Berking, Sybille Frank, Lars Frers, Martina Löw, Lars Meier, Silke Steets, Sergej Stoetzer, 2015-09-15 Cities have always been arenas of social and symbolic conflict As places of encounter between different classes ethnic groups and lifestyles cities play the role of powerful integrators yet on the other hand urban contexts are the ideal setting for marginalization and violence The struggle over control of urban spaces is an ambivalent mode of sociation while producing themselves groups produce exclusive spaces and then in turn use the boundaries they have created to define themselves This volume presents major urban conflicts and analyzes modes of negotiation against the theoretical background of postcolonialism Constructing Identity in Contemporary Architecture Peter Herrle, Stephanus Schmitz, 2009 The global spread of uniform modes of production and cultural values has been accompanied by a dissemination of stereotypes of modern architecture styles almost everywhere around the globe Paradoxically the reverse process has also emerged In some countries the elites feel the necessity to counterbalance the loss of identity and defend their own cultures against the intruding forces of globalization What started as a defensive notion has developed into a more progressive attempt to re create what has allegedly been lost This trend is being strongly expressed in discourses about architecture in countries of the South Who are the actors feeling compelled to construct new identities How are these new identities in architecture created in various parts of the world And which are the ingredients borrowed from various historical and ethnic traditions and other sources These and other questions are discussed in five case studies from different parts of the world written by renowned scholars from Brazil Mexico Egypt India and Singapore Capital Cities around the World Roman Adrian Cybriwsky, 2013-05-23 This informative resource is a fascinating compilation of the history politics and culture of every capital city from around the world making this the only singular reference on the subject of its kind Every country even the world s youngest nations has a capital city a centralized location which houses the seat of government and acts as the hub of culture and history But what role do capital cities play in the global arena Which factors have influenced the selection of a municipal center for each nation This interesting encyclopedia explores the topic in great depth providing an overview of each country s capital its history and early inhabitants ascension to prominence infrastructure within the government and influence on the world around them The author considers the culture and society of the area discussing the ethnic and religious groups among those who live there the major issues the residents face and other interesting cultural facts Capital Cities around the World An Encyclopedia of Geography History and Culture features the capital cities of 200 countries across the globe Organized in alphabetical order by country each profile combines social studies geography anthropology world history and political science to offer a fascinating survey of each location The City as Power Alexander C. Diener, Joshua Hagen, 2018-09-18 This interdisciplinary book considers national identity through the lens of urban spaces By bringing together scholars from a range of disciplines The City as Power provides broad comparative perspectives about the critical importance of urban landscapes as forums for creating maintaining and contesting identity and belonging Rather than serving as passive backdrops urban spaces and places are active mediums for defining categories of inclusion and exclusion With an international scope and ready appeal to visual learners the book offers a compelling survey of historical and contemporary efforts to enact state ideals express counter narratives and negotiate global trends in cities The contributors show how successive regimes reshape cityscapes to mirror their respective socio political agendas perspectives on history and assumptions of power Yet they must do so within the legal ethnic religious social economic and cultural geographies inherited from previous regimes Exploring the rich diversity of urban space place and national identity the book compares core elements of identity projects in a range of political cultural and socioeconomic settings By focusing on the built form and urban settings for social movements protest and even organized violence this timely book demonstrates that cities are not simply lived in but also lived through Postcolonialism, Heritage, and the Built Environment Jessica L. Nitschke, Marta Lorenzon, 2021-01-11 This book proposes new ways of looking at the built environment in archaeology specifically through postcolonial perspectives It brings together scholars and professionals from the fields of archaeology urban studies architectural history and heritage in order to offer fresh perspectives on extracting and interpreting social and cultural information from architecture and monuments The goal is to show how on going critical engagement with the postcolonial critique can help archaeologists pursue more inclusive sensitive and nuanced interpretations of the built environment of the past and contribute to heritage discussions in the present The chapters present case studies from Africa Greece Belgium Australia Syria Kuala Lumpur South Africa and Chile covering a wide range of chronological periods and settings Through these diverse case studies this volume encourages the reader to rethink the analytical frameworks and methods traditionally employed in the investigation of built spaces of the past To the extent that these built spaces continue to shape identities and social relationships today the book also encourages the reader to reflect critically on archaeologists ability to impact stakeholder communities and shape public perceptions of the past

Neoliberalizing Spaces in the Philippines Arnisson Andre Ortega, 2016-09-09 Amidst the recent global financial crisis and housing busts in various countries the Philippines booming housing industry has been heralded as Southeast Asia s hottest real estate hub and the saving grace of a supposedly resilient Philippine economy This growth has been fueled by demand from balikbayan returnee Overseas Filipinos and has facilitated the rise of gated suburban communities in Manila s sprawling peri urban fringe But as the Filipino dreams of successful balikbayans are built inside these new gated residential developments the lives of marginalized populations living in these spaces have been upended and thrown into turmoil as they face threats of expulsion Based on almost four years of research this book examines the tumultuous geographies of neoliberalization that link suburbanization transnational mobilities and accumulation by dispossession Through an accounting of real estate and new suburban landscapes it tells of a Filipino transnationalism that engenders a market based and privatized suburban political economy that reworks socio spatial relations and class dynamics In presenting the literal and discursive transformations of spaces in Manila s peri urban fringe the book details life inside new gated suburban communities and discusses the everyday geographies of privileged new property owners mainly comprised of balikbayan families and exposes the contradictions of gated suburban life from resistance to Home Owner Association rules to alienating feelings of loss It also reveals the darker side of the property boom by mapping the volatile spaces of the Philippines surplus populations comprised of the landless farmers informal settler residents and indigenous peoples To make way for gated communities and other profitable developments in the peri urban region marginalized residents are systematically dispossessed and displaced while concomitantly offered relocation to isolated socialized housing projects the last frontier for real estate accumulation These compelling accounts illustrate how the territorial embeddedness of neoliberalization in the Philippines entails the consolidation of capital by political economic elites and privatization of residential space for an idealized transnational property clientele More than ever as the Philippines is being reshaped by diaspora and accumulation by dispossession the contemporary moment is a critical time to reflect on what it truly means to be a nation

Cities and Economies Yeong-Hyun Kim, John Rennie Short, 2007-12-12 Cities and Economies explores the complex and subtle connections between cities and economies The rise of the merchant city the development of the industrial city and the creation of the service dominated urban economy are all explored along with economic globalization and its effects on cities in both developed and developing economies This book provides a thorough examination of the role of the city in shaping economic processes and explains the different effects that economies have on cities It provides an invaluable and unrivaled guide to the relationship between urban structure and economic processes as they compare and contrast across the world The authors examine the complex relationships between the city and the economy in historical and global contexts as well as evaluating the role of world cities the economic impacts of megacities and the role of the state in shaping urban economic policies They focus on the ways in which cities have led and at the same time adapted to economic shifts Large cities are viewed as the centres of regional and national economies while a small number are defined by their centrality in the global economy The book examines key ideas and concepts on the economic aspects of urban change explores the changing nature of urban economies and their relationships with changes at the national and global levels compares current economic issues and policies of large cities around the world explores the links between globalization and economic changes in cities and the growing competitions between them Cities and Economies uses case studies photographs and maps expanding across the US Western Europe and Asia Written in a clear and accessible style the book answers some fundamental questions about the economic role of cities It is an essential text for students of geography economics sociology urban studies and urban planning

Religiosity Joanne Punzo Waghorne, 2016-07-15 This book discusses Asia's rapid pace of urbanization with a particular focus on new spaces created by and for everyday religiosity. The essays in this volume covering topics from the global metropolises of Singapore, Bangalore, Seoul, Beijing, and Hong Kong to the regional centers of Gwalior, Pune, Jaipur, and sites like Wudang Mountain, examine in detail the spaces created by new or changing religious organizations that range in scope from neighborhood based to consciously global. The definition of spatial aspects includes direct place making projects such as the construction of new religious buildings, temples, halls, and other meeting sites, as well as less tangible religious endeavors such as the production of new mental spaces urged by spiritual leaders or the shift from terra firma to the strangely concrete effervescence of cyberspace. With this in mind, it explores how distinct and blurred and open and bounded communities generate and participate in diverse practices as they deliberately engage or disengage with physical landscapes, cityscapes. It highlights how through these religious organizations, changing class and gender configurations, ongoing political and economic transformations continue as significant factors shaping and affecting Asian urban lives. In addition, the book goes further by exploring new and often bittersweet improvements like metro rail lines, new national highways, widespread internet access that bulldoze both literally and figuratively religious places and force relocations and adjustments that are often innovative and unexpected. Furthermore, this volume explores personal experiences within the particularities of selected religious organizations and the ways that subjects interpret or actively construct urban spaces. The essays show through ethnographically and historically grounded case studies the variety of ways newly emerging religious communities or religious institutions understand, value, interact with, or strive to ignore extreme urbanization and rapidly changing built environments.

Unsettling Eurocentrism in the Westernized University Julie Cupples, Ramón Grosfoguel, 2018-08-06 The westernized university is a site where the production of knowledge is embedded in Eurocentric epistemologies that are posited as objective, disembodied, and universal, and in which non-Eurocentric knowledges such as black and indigenous ones are largely marginalized or dismissed. Consequently, it is an institution that produces racism, sexism, and epistemic violence. While this is increasingly being challenged by student activists and some faculty, the westernized university continues to engage in diversity and internationalization initiatives that reproduce structural disadvantages and to work within neoliberal agendas that are incompatible with decolonization. This book draws on decolonial theory to explore the ways in which Eurocentrism in the westernized university is both reproduced and unsettled. It outlines some of the challenges that accompany the decolonization of teaching, learning, research, and policy, as well as providing examples of successful decolonial moments and processes. It draws on examples from universities in Europe, New Zealand, and the Americas. This book represents a highly timely contribution from both early career and established thinkers in the field. Its themes will be of interest to student activists and to academics and scholars who are seeking to decolonize their research and teaching. It constitutes a decolonizing intervention into the crisis in which the westernized university finds itself

Globalization, Urbanization, and Civil Society Bagoes Wiryomartono, 2023-05-15 Globalization Urbanization and Civil Society is an interdisciplinary compilation of chapters concerning civil society in the global geopolitical context The establishment of civil society is essential for urbanism and the global community because it is the sense and essence of development concerning what humankind is as a collective entity on the globe This thought provoking book covers the multidimensional aspects issues challenges and consequences of geopolitics and globalization on civil society including freedom in the public sphere alienation neo fascism social cohesion racial inequality political narcissism political economic exceptionalism Islamic radicalism social justice and resistance The author brings a fresh and essentially non Western critical perspective to bear on the fundamental challenges faced by civil society as a result of the globalization of corporate capitalism in the Digital Age as well as providing a rich perspective on colonialism This book will appeal to scholars and graduate students of geopolitics and globalization global development sociology international relations cultural studies psychology and philosophy as well as practitioners and policymakers who are interested in interdisciplinary approaches in the field of global studies
