Reading the Landscape of Europe May Theilgaard Watts, 2009 Come along on a field trip with the esteemed American naturalist May Theilgaard Watts to see how nature history and culture have written their stories on the landscapes of Italy France Switzerland Germany Denmark Norway and Britain She makes a lively guide knowledgeable literary witty and opinionated drawing on botany ecology and geography as well as literature and folklore to explain how a place came to look and feel the way it does In this sequel to her popular book Reading the Landscape of America Watts explored the hills of Italy the grouse heath of Britain the Black Forest of Germany the limestone plateaus of France and much more explaining the forces that shaped these landscapes and continue to change them Illustrated with dozens of pen and ink by the author Includes a key to identifying the trees of Europe Reading the landscape of Europe May Theilgaard Watts, 1957

European Rural Landscapes Hannes Palang, 2004-05-31 This book a compendium of 28 papers selected from two recent conferences on the topic focuses on aspects of rural landscape broadly related to issues of language representation and power These are issues that have not been addressed on a pan European landscape level before The aim is to offer a deeper interdisciplinary understanding of historical and contemporary processes in European landscapes The New Dimensions of the European Landscapes R.H.G Jongman, 2004-12-09 The European Landscape is under stress of changing land use and a changing attitude of its users Globalization the disappearance of the iron curtain and the recent EU enlargement to 25 countries have changed the economic and environmental dimensions of Europe Europe is changing its face from a western and eastern part to one European Union and to fast connections between its centres of activity The rural and cultural heritage of Europe has to be adapted to cope with this change However its landscape is worth to be conserved as well because it represents the European history in the same way as castles and churches It even more represents the history of the common people because it has been the tradition of the rural population that made these landscapes It cannot be prevented that Europe is changing and it is good that Europe adapts to the new dimensions of the world We in Europe have to define what we think is important and what must be conserved what can be adapted to be used for new functions and what can be abolished because it has no value These decisions will determine the new dimensions of the European landscapes The Frontis Workshop on the New Dimensions of the European Landscape was held on 10 12 June 2002 Wageningen University and Research Centre organized this workshop aiming to develop visions on the landscape in Europe its development and design in the future and to strengthen the international network in landscape planning European Landscapes in Transition Teresa Pinto-Correia, Jørgen Primdahl, Bas Pedrolí, 2018-01-25 European rural landscapes as we experience them today are the result of ongoing processes and interactions between nature and society These are changing fast the future landscapes will be different from those we know currently Written for academics policy makers and practitioners this book is the first to explore the complex histories of rural landscapes in Europe as a basis for their sound

governance in future Tensions between the needs of agricultural spaces driven by economic incentives and a variety of non agricultural functions are explored to demonstrate current challenges and the shortfalls in the policies that address them Using inspiring case studies that highlight the roles of regional agents and communities the authors go further than the usual analyses to illustrate the importance of local context Written by experts currently working to revitalise the rural landscapes of Europe the text concludes with suggestions for improving landscape policy and planning practice Europe's Living Landscapes Bas Pedroli, Anne van Doorn, Geert de Blust, 2014-12-22 This book is the result of three symposia of the Dutch Society for Landscape Ecology The first symposium in 2005 was about the National Ecological Network in the Netherlands The reason was that the implementation of the NEN decided upon in 1990 was halfway The second symposium in 2006 was about urban ecology and the third one to be held in 2007 will be about civil infrastructure This book does not cover the conferences completely and new contributions are added The three themes are important contexts in which landscape ecologists do their research and apply their knowledge and skills Of course there are many more subjects to hold conferences about for example climate change urbanisation agriculture landscape ecology itself etc The focus of the conferences is on the Netherlands with its urbanisation intensive land use and water management as characteristic features Although many WLO members do their work abroad or in an international context these conferences offer a window on what happens in the Dutch context The experiences may be of value for other contexts and that is why we present the results in English The selected themes and the focus on the Dutch context are serious demarcations of what landscape ecology in the Netherlands is all about The book does not represent all research and applications of landscape ecology Preserving and Constructing Place Attachment in Europe Oana-Ramona Ilovan, Iwona Markuszewska, 2022-10-10 This book offers a variety of theoretical and methodological approaches to place attachment from a European perspective Starting from a dynamic relational and participatory concept of place attachment the book discusses place making and place attachment processes through place based development and community place driven actions It also presents examples of creating place attachment through nature and culture based contexts and focuses on how sustainable planning and territorial identities enhance place attachment Finally this book presents and discusses re constructing place attachment within transition processes and through strategic solutions for urban recovery and regeneration of post industrial areas By considering the social environmental economic and political effects of building strengthening and maintaining place attachment this book is a valuable read for all those working with and interested in learning more about place attachment geographers landscape planners sociologists psychologists environmental and political scientists and members of community movements

Postcolonial Approaches to the European Middle Ages Ananya Jahanara Kabir, Deanne Williams, 2005-03-10 This collection of original essays is dedicated to exploring the intersections between medieval and postcolonial studies Ranging across a variety of academic disciplines from art history to cartography and from Anglo Saxon to Hispanic studies this volume highlights the connections between medieval and postcolonial studies through the exploration of a theme common to both areas of study translation as a mechanism of and metaphor for cultures in contact confrontation and competition Drawing upon the widespread medieval trope of the translation of empire and culture this collection engages the concept of translation from its most narrow lexicographic sense to the broader applications of its literal meaning to carry across It carries the multilingual multicultural realities of medieval studies to postcolonial analyses of the coercive and subversive powers of cultural translation offering a set of case studies of translation as the transfer of language culture and power

The European Landscape Convention Michael Jones, Marie Stenseke, 2011-02-09 This important and insightful book provides for the first time a broad presentation of ongoing research into public participation in landscape conservation management and planning following the 2000 European Landscape Convention which came into force in 2004 The book examines both the theory of participation and what lessons can be learnt from specific European examples It explores in what manner and to what extent the provisions for participation in the European Landscape Convention have been followed up and implemented It also presents and compares different experiences of participation in selected countries from northern southern eastern and western Europe and provides a critical examination of public participation in practice However while the book's focus is necessarily on Europe many of the conclusions drawn are of global relevance The book provides a valuable reference for researchers and advanced students in landscape policies and management as well as for professionals and others interested in land use planning and environmental management

Landscapes, Identities and Development Zoran Roca, Paul Claval, John Agnew, 2016-12-05 Bringing together theoretical and empirical research from 22 countries in Europe North America Australia South America and Japan this book offers a state of the art survey of conceptual and methodological research and planning issues relating to landscape heritage and development It has 30 chapters grouped in four main thematic sections landscapes as a constitutive dimension of territorial identities landscape history and landscape heritage landscapes as development assets and resources and landscape research and development planning The contributors are scholars from a wide range of cultural and professional backgrounds experienced in fundamental and applied research planning and policy design They were invited by the co editors to write chapters for this book on the basis of the theoretical frameworks case study research findings and related policy concerns they presented at the 23rd Session of PECSRL The Permanent European Conference for the Study of the Rural Landscape organized by TERCUD Territory Culture and Development Research Centre Universidade Lus fona in Lisbon and bidos Portugal 1 5 September 2008 With such broad inter disciplinary relevance and international scope this book provides a valuable overview highlighting recent findings and interpretations on historical current and prospective linkages between changing landscapes and natural economic cultural and other identity features of places and regions landscape related identities as local and regional development assets and resources in the era of globalized economy and culture the role of landscape history and heritage as platforms of landscape research and management in European contexts including the implementation of The European Landscape Convention and the strengthening of the landscape perspective as a constitutive element of sustainable development Europe Alicia Klepeis,2019-01-25 The continent of Europe is home to countries large and small Learn about the people history geography and wildlife of the European continent This title includes a glossary websites and fast facts Landscape dimensions Council of Europe,2017-04-28 As a key element of individual and social well being and quality of life landscape plays an important part in human fulfilment and in reinforcement of European identity Adopted under the auspices of the Council of Europe the European Landscape Convention aims to promote the protection management and planning of landscapes and to organise international co operation in this field It applies to the entire territory of the contracting parties and covers natural rural urban and peri urban areas It concerns landscapes considered outstanding as well as everyday or degraded areas Certain dimensions of the landscape are presented in this publication which addresses key issues for its future including democracy education economy leisure and advertising Landscape management processes and even the term landscape itself are also analysed This book forms part of a process of reflection on the major themes concerning the living environment

Stanford,2015-09-15 Everywhere we go in rural New England the past surrounds us In the woods and fields and along country roads the traces are everywhere if we know what to look for and how to interpret what we see A patch of neglected daylilies marks a long abandoned homestead A grown over cellar hole with nearby stumps and remnants of stone wall and orchard shows us where a farm has been reclaimed by forest And a piece of a stone dam and wooden sluice mark the site of a long gone mill Although slumping back into the landscape these features speak to us if we can hear them and they can guide us to ancestral homesteads and famous sites Lavishly illustrated with drawings and color photos Provides the keys to interpret human artifacts in fields woods and roadsides and to reconstruct the past from surviving clues Perfect to carry in a backpack or glove box A unique and valuable resource for road trips genealogical research naturalists and historians

Things and Thingness in European Literature and Visual Art, 700-1600 Jutta Eming, Kathryn Starkey, 2021-12-06 The eleven chapters in this international volume draw on a variety of theoretical and methodological approaches to focus our attention on medieval and early modern things ca 700 1600 The range of things includes actual objects the Altenburg Crucifixion a copy of Hieronymus Brunschwig's Liber de arte distillandi a pilgrim's letter imagined objects a prayed cloak for the Virgin Mary and narrative objects in texts the Alliterative Morte Arthure the Ordene de Chevalerie Hartmann von Aue's Erec Heinrich of Neustadt's Apollonius of Tyre Lu's de Cam'es's Os Lusadas and the vita of Saint Guthlac Each in its own way the papers consider how things do what they do in texts and art often foregrounding the intersection between the material and the immaterial by exploring such questions as how things act how they express power and how texts and images represent them Medieval and early modern things are repeatedly shown to be more than symbolic or passive they are agentive and determinative in both their intra and extradiegetic worlds The things that are addressed in this volume are varied and are embedded or entangled in different contexts and societies and yet they share a concerted engagement in human life

Landscapes in the Eastern Mediterranean between the Future and the Past Ioannis N. Vogiatzakis, Theano S. Terkenli, Maria Gabriella Trovato, Nizar Abu-Jaber, 2020-05-15 Landscapes have long been viewed as multifunctional integrating ecological economic sociocultural historical and aesthetic dimensions Landscape science and public awareness in Europe have been progressing in leaps and bounds The challenges involved in landscape related issues and fields however are multiple and refer to landscape stewardship and protection as well as to the development of comprehensive theoretical and methodological approaches in tandem with public sensitization and participatory governance and in coordination with appropriate top down planning and policy instruments Landscape scale approaches are fundamental to the understanding of past and present cultural evolution and are now considered to be an appropriate spatial framework for the analysis of sustainability Methods and tools of landscape analysis and intervention have also gone a long way since their early development in Europe and the United States Although significant progress has been made there remain many issues which are understudied or not investigated at all at least in a Mediterranean context This Special Issue addresses the application of landscape theory and practice in the Eastern Mediterranean and mainly but not exclusively reports on the outcomes of an international conference held in Jordan in December 2015 with the title Landscapes of Eastern Mediterranean Challenges Opportunities Prospects and Accomplishments The focus of this Special Issue landscapes of the Eastern Mediterranean region thus constitutes a timely area of research interest not only because these landscapes have so far been understudied but also as a rich site of strikingly variegated long standing multicultural human environmental interactions These interactions resting on and taking shape through millennia of continuity in tradition have been striving to adapt to technological advances while currently juggling with manifold and multilayered socioeconomic and climate environmental crises

The Handbook of European Communication History Klaus Arnold, Paschal Preston, Susanne Kinnebrock, 2019-09-06 A groundbreaking handbook that takes a cross national approach to the media history of Europe of the past 100 years The Handbook of European Communication History is a definitive and authoritative handbook that fills a gap in the literature to provide a coherent and chronological history of mass media public communication and journalism in Europe from 1900 to the late 20th century With contributions from teams of scholars and members of the European Communication Research and Education Association the Handbook explores media innovations major changes and developments in the media systems that affected public communication as well as societies and culture The contributors also examine the general trends of communication history and review debates related to media development To ensure a transnational approach to the topic the majority of chapters are written not by a single author but by international teams formed around one or more lead authors The Handbook goes beyond national perspectives and provides a basis for more cross national treatments of historical developments in the field of mediated communication Indeed this important Handbook Offers fresh insights on the development of media alongside key differences between countries regions or media systems over the past century Takes a fresh cross national approach to European media history Contains contributions from leading international scholars in this rapidly evolving area of study Explores the major innovations key developments differing trends and the important debates concerning the media in the European setting Written for students and academics of communication and media studies as well as media professionals The Handbook of European Communication History covers European media from 1900 with the emergence of the popular press to the professionalization of journalists and the first wave of multimedia with the advent of film and radio broadcasting through the rapid growth of the Internet and digital media since the late 20th century
