two figures that inform utopian writing and social theory The first is the traditional abstract revolutionary subject who contradicts existing conditions and who points us to the ideal body politic The second resistant subject is partial concrete and produced by conditions rather than operating outside of them In analyzing contemporary changes in the subject's relationship to social space Burwell draws from and revises standpoint approaches that tie visions of social transformation to a group's position within existing conditions By exploring the dilemmas antagonisms and resolutions within the critical literary feminist utopia Burwell creates connections to a similar set of problems and resolutions characterizing nonliterary discourses of social transformation such as feminism gay and lesbian studies and Marxism Notes on Nowhere makes an original significant and persuasive contribution to our understanding of the political and literary dimensions of the utopian impulse in literature and social theory Jennifer Burwell teaches in the Department of English at Wesleyan University in Connecticut
