have been crafted nicely to fit the contemporary society and even in one of the stories inject a science feel to the horror like in the story Becoming. The stories have been written to suit the general needs of readers of all ages as evidenced in the teen adult characters in the stories. In addition to the very common horror settings such as abandoned mansions, the woods, basement and attics, the stories introduce other new environments such as the apocalyptic setting in the story titled Last Man On Earth as testament to its progressiveness. In the story October 30th, a tale of the annual horror festival is told in a fresh tone. Most of the stories touch on the inevitable horror death. Ghost House tells an enthralling and fast paced story and so does Miss Fairborn's Auction. There is a general belief that books give a wider room for imaginations even wider than the room that watching a movie affords you and truthfully so. These tales when told in the dark will leave you with much to imagine: an arm covered in goose bumps and the back of your neck with all the hackles on their ends. The curtains you see might not be curtains. The mirrors too might become home to many faces and the old man by the road might not be what you think he is. Welcome to the home of scary and macabre tales. BUY NOW More Scary Stories to Tell in the Dark Movie Tie-In Edition Alvin Schwartz, 2019-07-09.
