Scenes Of Poland:

Polish Film Charles Ford, Robert Hammond, 2015-05-07 When the Lumiere brothers introduced the motion picture in 1895 Poland was a divided and suffering nation yet Polish artists found their way into the new world of cinema Boleslaw Matuszewski created his first documentary films in 1896 and Poland's first movie house was established in 1908 Despite war and repression Polish cinema continued to grow and to reach for artistic heights The twentieth century closed with new challenges but a new generation of Polish filmmakers stood ready to meet them Here is a complete history of the Polish cinema through the end of the twentieth century with special attention to political and economic contexts Hollywood's War with Poland, 1939-1945 M.B.B. Biskupski, 2010-01-08 This passionate carefully researched richly detailed well written study reveals the political motives behind WWII Hollywood's portrayal of Poles Choice During World War II Hollywood studios supported the war effort by making patriotic movies designed to raise the nation's morale Often the characterizations were as black and white as the movies themselves Americans and their allies were heroes while everyone else was a villain The peoples of Norway France Czechoslovakia and England were all good because they had been invaded or victimized by Nazi Germany Yet Poland the first country to be invaded by the Third Reich was repeatedly represented in a negative light In this prize winning study Polish historian M B B Biskupski explores why Biskupski presents a close critical study of prewar and wartime films such as To Be or Not to Be In Our Time and None Shall Escape Through memoirs letters diaries and memoranda written by screenwriters directors studio heads and actors Biskupski examines how the political climate and especially pro Soviet sentiment influenced Hollywood films of the time Winner of the Oscar Halecki Prize A Choice Outstanding Academic Title Missionary Labours and Scenes in Southern Africa Robert Moffat, 1846 Polish Film and the Holocaust Marek Haltof, 2012-01-01 During World War II Poland lost more than six million people including about three million Polish Jews who perished in the ghettos and extermination camps built by Nazi Germany in occupied Polish territories This book is the first to address the representation of the Holocaust in Polish film and does so through a detailed treatment of several films which the author frames in relation to the political ideological and cultural contexts of the times in which they were created Following the chronological development of Polish Holocaust films the book begins with two early classics Wanda Jakubowska's The Last Stage 1948 and Aleksander Ford's Border Street 1949 and next explores the Polish School period represented by Andrzej Wajda's A Generation 1955 and Andrzej Munk's The Passenger 1963 Between 1965 and 1980 there was an organized silence regarding sensitive Polish Jewish relations resulting in only a few relevant films until the return of democracy in 1989 when an increasing number were made among them Krzysztof Kieślowski's Decalogue 8 1988 Andrzej Wajda's Korczak 1990 Jan Jakub Kolski's Keep Away from the Window 2000 and Roman Polański's The Pianist 2002 An important contribution to film studies this book has wider relevance in addressing the issue of Poland's national memory Film and Place in an Intercultural Perspective Krzysztof Stachowiak, Hania Janta, Jani Kozina, Therese Sunngrén-Granlund, 2023-09-26 The book offers an interdisciplinary overview of the film and place relationship from an intercultural perspective. It explores the complex domain of place and space in cinema and the film industry's role in establishing cultural connections and economic cooperation between India and Europe. With contributions from leading international scholars, various case studies scrutinise European and Indian contexts, exploring both the established and emerging locations. The book extends the dominantly Britain-oriented focus on India's cinema presence in Europe to European countries such as Italy, Switzerland, Poland, Slovenia, Finland, and Sweden, where the Indian film industry progressively expands its presence. The chapters of this book look at Indian film production in Europe as a cultural bridge between India and Europe, fostering mutual understanding of the culture and society of the two regions. This interdisciplinary book will be of interest to researchers in film studies, cultural anthropology, cultural geography, tourism, economics, sociology, and cultural studies. It will also be of interest to practitioners working in local authorities, destination management, tourism, and creative business, all of whom see the value of film production in attracting visitors, investment, and creating new networks with local economic actors. The book offers much needed data and tools to translate their professional goals and potentials into effective regional strategies and activities. Educational Films, 1973 The Sphere, 1915 Famous Historical Scenes from Three Centuries Ascott Robert Hope Moncrieff, 1875 Fredric Jameson and Film Theory Keith B. Wagner, Jeremi Szaniawski, Michael Cramer, 2022-01-14 A radical new intervention into film studies and Marxist cultural studies, this book considers the contributions of Fredric Jameson to film studies and finds scholars applying, questioning, and developing his ideas in a wide-ranging collection of case studies from around the globe. Temporality and Film Analysis Matilda Mroz, 2013-08-12 This book traces the operation of duration in cinema and argues that temporality should be a central concern of film scholarship. It explores the concepts of duration and rhythm, resonance, and uncertainty, affecting sense and texture to bring a fresh perspective. The Off-Hollywood Film Guide Tom Wiener, 2002-08-13 The Off-Hollywood Film Guide cuts through the clutter of the thousands of films currently available on video and DVD by specifically catering to independent and foreign film enthusiasts. In addition to a list of essential must-see films, this guide includes hundreds of entries, each with brief commentary and a list of pertinent details such as release date, cast, director, awards, and special DVD features and double feature suggestions. The listings are also cross-referenced by genre, director, actors, and country of origin. The Encyclopedia of Film Composers Thomas S. Hischak, 2015-04-16 For more than a century, original music has been composed for the cinema. From the early days when live music accompanied silent films to the present in which a composer can draw upon a full orchestra or a lone synthesizer to embody a composition, music has been an integral element of most films. By the late 1930s, movie studios had established music departments, and some of the greatest names in film music emerged during Hollywood's Golden Age, including Alfred Newman, Max Steiner, Dimitri Tiomkin, and Bernard Herrmann. Over the decades, other creators of screen music offered additional memorable scores, and some composers such as Henry Mancini Randy Newman and John Williams have become household names The Encyclopedia of Film Composers features entries on more than 250 movie composers from around the world It not only provides facts about these artists but also explains what makes each composer notable and discusses his or her music in detail Each entry includes Biographical material Important dates Career highlights Analysis of the composer's musical style Complete list of movie credits This book brings recognition to the many men and women who have written music for movies over the past one hundred years In addition to composers from the United States and Great Britain artists from dozens of other countries are also represented A rich resource of movie music history The Encyclopedia of Film Composers will be of interest to fans of cinema in general as well as those who want to learn more about the many talented individuals who have created memorable scores Literature and Film from East Europe's Forgotten "Second World" Gordana P.
