Reading Sites Social Difference And Reader Response:

Consumption and Wealth in Luke's Travel Narrative James A. Metzger, 2007 While several recent studies have suggested that the Gospel of Luke recommends generous almsgiving or a relatively benign sharing ethic that mimics existing redistributive measures in early Roman Palestine this book argues that a much more subversive reading of the Gospel's wealth and possessions traditions is defensible

Modern Criticism and Theory Nigel Wood, David Lodge, 2014-06-11 This third edition of Modern Criticism and Theory represents a major expansion on its previous incarnations with some twenty five new pieces or essays included This expansion has two principal purposes Firstly in keeping with the collection's aim to reflect contemporary preoccupations the reader has expanded forward to include such newly emergent considerations as ecocriticism and post theory Secondly with the aim of presenting as broad an account of modern theory as possible the reader expands backwards to take in exemplary pieces by formative writers and thinkers of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries such as Marx Freud and Virginia Woolf This radical expansion of content is prefaced by a wide ranging introduction which provides a rationale for the collection and demonstrates how connections can be made between competing theories and critical schools The purpose of the collection remains that of introducing the reader to the guiding concepts of contemporary literary and cultural debate It does so by presenting substantial extracts from seminal thinkers and surrounding them with the contextual materials necessary to a full understanding Each selection has a headnote which gives biographical details of the author and provides suggestions for further reading and footnotes that help explain difficult references The collection is ordered both historically and thematically and readers are encouraged to draw for themselves connections between essays and theories Modern Criticism and Theory has long been regarded as a necessary collection Now revised for the twenty first century it goes further and provides students and the general reader with a wide ranging survey of the complex landscape of modern theory and a critical assessment of the way we think and live in the world today

Theories of Reading Karin Littau, 2006-12-04 Bringing insights from book history to bear on literary history and theory this book points to a split between literary study that regards reading as a reducibly mental activity and a tradition reaching back to antiquity which assumed that reading was not only about sense making but also about sensation

High School Students' Competing Social Worlds Richard Beach, Amanda Haertling Thein, Daryl L. Parks, 2020-07-24 This book examines how working class high school students identity construction is continually mediated by discourses and cultural practices operating in their classroom school family sports community and workplace worlds Specifically it addresses how responding to cultural differences portrayed in multicultural literature can serve to challenge adolescents' allegiances to status quo discourses and cultural models and how teachers not only can rouse students to clarify and change their value stances related to race class and gender but also provide support for and validation of students self interrogation Highlighting the influence of sociocultural forces the book contributes to understanding the role of institutions in shaping adolescents' lives and identifies needs that must be addressed to improve those institutions Current theory and research on critical discourse analysis cultural models theory and identity construction is meshed with specific applications of that theory and research to case study profiles and analysis of classroom discussions The instructional strategies described enable pre service and in service teachers to develop their own literature curriculum and instructional methods

Muslim Women, Transnational Feminism and the Ethics of Pedagogy Lisa K. Taylor, Jasmin Zine, 2014-06-27 Following a long historical legacy Muslim women s lives continue to be represented and circulate widely as a vehicle of intercultural understanding within a context of the war on terror Following Edward Said s thesis that these cultural forms reflect and participate in the power plays of empire this volume examines the popular and widespread production and reception of Muslim women s lives and narratives in literature poetry cinema television and popular culture within the politics of a post 9 11 world This edited collection provides a timely exploration into the pedagogical and ethical possibilities opened up by transnational feminist and anti colonial readings that can work against sensationalized and stereotypical representations of Muslim women It addresses the gap in contemporary theoretical discourse amongst educators teaching literary and cultural texts by and about Muslim Women and brings scholars from the fields of education literary and cultural studies and Muslim women s studies to examine the politics and ethics of transnational anti colonial reading practices and pedagogy The book features interviews with Muslim women artists and cultural producers who provide engaging reflections on the transformative role of the arts as a form of critical public pedagogy

Great Books by German Women in the Age of Emotion, 1770-1820 Margaretmary Daley, 2022 Literature written by women in German during the period long known patriarchally as the Age of Goethe was largely lumped in with other unserious or artistically unworthy works under the category Trivialliteratur literally trivial literature Using insights from Gender Studies yet acknowledging the need for a literary canon Great Books by German Women offers a critical interpretation of six canon worthy German novels written by women in the period for which it coins the term Age of Emotion The novels are chosen because they depict women s ordinary yet interesting lives and equally because each displays formal strengths that yield prose particularly able to express emotion The first Sophie von La Roche s Die Geschichte des Fr auleins von Sternheim The History of Lady von Sternheim draws on the tradition of the epistolary novel while also finding new ways to depict empathetic emotions The second Friederike Unger s Julchen Gr unthal brings to the Frauenroman or women s novel the use of irony to portray a heroine s emotions during her coming of age The next novels add lyricism to their prose to capture sensual emotions Sophie Mereau s Bl utenalter der Empfindung The Blossoming of Feeling imagines women s affinity for the philosophical sublime while Caroline Wolzogen depicts female desire in her Agnes von Lilien The fifth novel Die Honigmonathe The Honeymoon by Karoline Fischer explores the agony that extreme emotions cause not only for women but also for men The last novel Caroline Pichler s Frauenwurde The Dignity of Women expands the focus from a young heroine to multiple mature characters while maintaining the centrality of women s talents and emotions

Finally this study accords honorable mention to some other women s novels before concluding that the influence of these six works was in no way trivial either in portraying women s lives and emotions or in the history of German literature

New Directions in American Reception Study Philip Goldstein, James L. Machor, 2008-01-30 Contemporary reception study has developed a diversity of approaches and methods including the institutional textual historical authorial and reader response which to a greater or lesser extent acknowledge the various ways in which readers have found texts literature television shows movies and newspapers meaningful This collection emphasizes that new diversity examining movies newspapers fans television shows and traditional American as well as modern Hispanic Black and Women s literature The essays on literature include James Machor on Melville s short fiction Kenneth Roemer on Edward Bellamy s utopian work Looking Backward Amy Blair on the popularity of Sinclair Lewis s Main Street Marcial Gonzalez on Danny Santiago and his Hispanic novel Famous All Over Town and Leonard Diepeveen on modernist fiction and criticism The theoretical essays on reader oriented criticism include Patsy Schweickart on interpretation and the ethics of care and Jack Bratich on active audiences Media versions of response criticism include Andrea Press and Camille Johnson s ethnographic analysis of fans of the Oprah Winfrey Show Janet Staiger on Robert Aldrich s film version of Mickey Spillane s Kiss Me Deadly and Rhiannon Bury on the fans of the HBO television show Six Feet Under History of the book versions include Barbara Hochman on the popularity of the 1890s editions of Harriet Beecher Stowe s Uncle Tom s Cabin Ellen Garvey on nineteenth century scrapbooks of newspaper and David Nord on early twentieth century newspapers relations to audience charges of bias and unfairness Poststructuralist studies include Philip Goldstein on Richard Wright s Native Son Steve Mailloux on Reading Lolita in Tehran and Tony Bennett on the cultural analyses of Pierre Bourdieu The collection concludes with essays by Janice Radway on the limits of these methods and on the possibility of new forms of sociological and anthropological reception study and by Toby Miller on the reception deception in relation to the worldwide distribution and reception of movies and television shows

Defying the Odds Donna Dunbar-Odom, 2012-02-01 For me literacy is like trying to open a locked door with the wrong key I don t always see the meaning at first and usually I have to have someone let me in with their key I tend to think that being in college is enough but it still isn t going to guarantee higher literacy for me It is something I am trying to grasp but I am going about it slowly simply because I am not so sure of how important it is to me Rachel According to key literacy research working class students are far less likely to pursue higher literacy than their middle class counterparts yet there are countless examples of those who have defied the odds In this thoughtful look at why some determinedly pursue higher literacy against all expectations and predictions Donna Dunbar Odom explores the complex relationships people have with literacy paying particular attention to the relationship between literacy and class She shares the personal and often poignant literacy narratives of writers academics and her own students to reveal a great deal about what motivates desire for higher literacy as well as what gets in the way Bringing together these reflections with current literacy composition and class theories

Dunbar Odom provides a better understanding of how to tap that desire in writing classrooms Ultimately the author argues that teachers need to focus less attention on how students should read and more on why they might want to Envisioning Landscapes, Making Worlds Stephen Daniels, Dydia DeLyser, J. Nicholas Entrikin, Doug Richardson, 2012-03-15 There has been a remarkable resurgence in the past decade of intellectual interplay between geography and the humanities in both academic and public circles Terminology and concepts such as space place landscape mapping and geography are becoming pervasive as conceptual frameworks and core metaphors in recent publications by humanities scholars and well known writers Envisioning Landscapes Making Worlds examines the depth and complexity of human meaning invested in maps attached to landscapes and embedded in the spaces and places of modern life The clashing and blending of cultures caused by globalization and the new technologies that profoundly alter human environmental experience suggest new geographical narratives and representations that are explored here by a multidisciplinary group of authors With contributions from leading scholars this text is essential reading for scholars and students seeking to understand the new synergies and interconnectedness of geography and the humanities

Sexuality and its Queer Discontents in Middle English Literature T. Pugh, 2008-02-04 This book exposes the ways in which ostensibly normative sexualities depend upon queerness to shore up their claims of privilege Through readings of such classic texts as The Canterbury Tales and Egeus and Grime Tison Pugh explains how sexual normativity can often be claimed only after queerness has been rejected
