Readings From The New On Nature Physics And Metaphysics In The Modern Novel:

Readings from the New Book on Nature Robert Nadeau, 1981 Fiction in the Quantum Universe Susan Strehle, 2000-11-09 In this outstanding book Susan Strehle argues that a new fiction has developed from the influence of modern physics She calls this new fiction actualism and within that framework she offers a critical analysis of major novels by Thomas Pynchon Robert Coover William Gaddis John Barth Margaret Atwood and Donald Barthelme According to Strehle the actualists balance attention to questions of art with an engaged meditation on the external actual world While these actualist novels diverge markedly from realistic practice Strehle claims that they do so in order to reflect more acutely what we now understand as real Reality is no longer realistic in the new physical or quantum universe reality is discontinuous energetic relative statistical subjectively seen and uncertainly known all terms taken from new physics Actualist fiction is characterized by incompleteness indeterminacy and open endings unsatisfying to the readerly wish for fulfilled promises and completed patterns Gravity's Rainbow for example ends not with a period but with a dash Strehle argues that such innovations in narrative reflect on twentieth century history politics science and discourse Readings from the New Book on Nature Robert Nadeau, 1981 Modernist Physics Rachel Crossland, 2018-03-16 Modernist Physics takes as its focus the ideas associated with three scientific papers published by Albert Einstein in 1905 considering the dissemination of those ideas both within and beyond the scientific field and exploring the manifestation of similar ideas in the literary works of Virginia Woolf and D H Lawrence Drawing on Gillian Beer's suggestion that literature and science share the moment's discourse Modernist Physics seeks both to combine and to distinguish between the two standard approaches within the field of literature and science direct influence and the zeitgeist The book is divided into three parts each of which focuses on the ideas associated with one of Einstein's papers Part I considers Woolf in relation to Einstein's paper on light quanta arguing that questions of duality and complementarity had a wider cultural significance in the early twentieth century than has yet been acknowledged and suggesting that Woolf can usefully be considered a complementary rather than a dualistic writer Part II looks at Lawrence's reading of at least one book on relativity in 1921 and his subsequent suggestion in Fantasia of the Unconscious that we are in sad need of a theory of human relativity a theory which is shown to be relevant to Lawrence's writing of relationships both before and after 1921 Part III considers Woolf and Lawrence together alongside late nineteenth and early twentieth century discussions of molecular physics and crowd psychology suggesting that Einstein's work on Brownian motion provides a useful model for thinking about individual literary characters Reading America Elizabeth Boyle, 2009-03-26 This specially commissioned volume of essays offers a refreshing and unusual perspective on classic novels from the American literary canon Accessible to students scholars and the interested reader this engaging collection explores familiar novels through unfamiliar lenses and in so doing sheds light on surprising and previously overlooked aspects of each text Reading America presents a new approach to American literature by showcasing a cross section of recent research into previously untapped areas of interest. Each chapter attempts to reread classic American texts using new or unorthodox theoretical frameworks including such diverse topics as an Emersonian reading of Don DeLillo, decoding Thomas Pynchon with eco criticism, and understanding Paul Auster's New York Trilogy by exploring the graphic novel version of City of Glass. Other authors explored in this way include Henry James, Truman Capote, Ralph Ellison, Toni Morrison, Joyce Carol Oates, and F. Scott Fitzgerald. This type of approach widens the reader's knowledge of each well-known text and encourages new critical evaluations of contemporary American literature. The collection moves through six large topic areas from Naturalism and an idea of the Great American Novel at the end of the nineteenth century through politics, sexuality, language, and nature to a contemporary engagement with postmodernism. Each essay deals with its own particular subject and author, but the full impact of each on the notion of the American novel as a phenomenon can only be understood when read in conjunction with the others. Of interest to both undergraduate and postgraduate students, Reading America would be a valuable asset to any American Studies or American Literature degree course and a useful companion to American History or Politics courses. The volume will also attract strong interest from established academics, especially those researching the fields of literature, critical theory, cultural history, and politics.

Memory and Identity in Modern and Postmodern American Literature Lovorka Gruic Grmusa, Biljana Oklopčić, 2022-09-16. This book discusses how American literary modernism and postmodernism interconnect memory and identity and if and how the intertwining of memory and identity has been related to the dominant socio-cultural trends in the United States or the specific historical contexts in the world. The book's opening chapter is the interrogation of the narrator's memories of Jay Gatsby and his life in F. Scott Fitzgerald's The Great Gatsby. The second chapter shows how in William Faulkner's Light in August, memory impacts the search for identities in the storylines of the characters. The third chapter discusses the correlation between memory, self, and culture in Tennessee Williams's A Streetcar Named Desire. Discussing Robert Coover's Gerald's Party, the fourth chapter reveals that memory and identity are contextualized and that cognitive processes including memory are grounded in the body's interaction with the environment, featuring dehumanized characters whose identities appear as role plays. The subsequent chapter is the analysis of how Jonathan Safran Foer's Everything Is Illuminated deals with the heritage of Holocaust memories and postmemories. The last chapter focuses on Thomas Pynchon's Against the Day, the reconstructive nature of memory, and the politics and production of identity in Southeastern Europe.

Designs of Darkness in Contemporary American Fiction Arthur M. Saltzman,2016-11-11 In Designs of Darkness Arthur M Saltzman examines some of the ways in which fiction has traditionally conspired to promote a goal oriented vision of the work of art and explores the ways in which postmodern or postrealist fiction consistently and unavoidably subverts the clarity of this vision Offering readings of works by well known authors including Barthelme Doctorow DeLillo and Hakes as well as works by lesser known writers Auster Gangemi Saltzman concentrates on the breakdown of epiphany in recent fiction both as philosophical motive and as structural foundation In contemporary fiction Saltzman contends ambiguities blossom far beyond our capacities to stabilize summarize or restore them to sense The old rules of the game in which a reader looking for truth can expect come sort of satisfactory resolution no longer apply Literature now comes out of the answerless Designs of Darkness in Contemporary American Fiction is a valuable new resource for scholars and students of contemporary literature
