

The background of the book cover is a dark, textured green. In the upper left, there is a stylized globe showing continents in shades of green and brown. To the right of the globe, a white dove is depicted in flight, facing left. Below the dove, there are several large, colorful, abstract shapes that resemble stylized birds or wings in shades of yellow, green, blue, and red. A vertical, multi-colored line (green, blue, yellow, red) runs down the left side of the cover. A semi-transparent white rectangular box is centered on the cover, containing the title and editor information.

Readings In Human Development Custom:

Readings in Human-Computer Interaction Ronald M. Baecker, 2014-06-28 The effectiveness of the user computer interface has become increasingly important as computer systems have become useful tools for persons not trained in computer science In fact the interface is often the most important factor in the success or failure of any computer system Dealing with the numerous subtly interrelated issues and technical behavioral and aesthetic considerations consumes a large and increasing share of development time and a corresponding percentage of the total code for any given application A revision of one of the most successful books on human computer interaction this compilation gives students researchers and practitioners an overview of the significant concepts and results in the field and a comprehensive guide to the research literature Like the first edition this book combines reprints of key research papers and case studies with synthesizing survey material and analysis by the editors It is significantly reorganized updated and enhanced over 90% of the papers are new An invaluable resource for systems designers cognitive scientists computer scientists managers and anyone concerned with the effectiveness of user computer interfaces it is also designed for use as a primary or supplementary text for graduate and advanced undergraduate courses in human computer interaction and interface design Human computer interaction historical intellectual and social Developing interactive systems including design evaluation methods and development tools The interaction experience through a variety of sensory modalities including vision touch gesture audition speech and language Theories of information processing and issues of human computer fit and adaptation Health and Well-Being in India Vani Kant Borooah, 2018-05-16 The theme of this book is health outcomes in India in particular to outcomes relating to its caste and religious groups and within these groups to their women and children The book's tenor is analytical and based upon a rigorous examination of recent data from both government and non government sources The major areas covered are sanitation use by mothers of the government's child development services child malnutrition deaths in families gender discrimination and the measurement of welfare Contouring Human Development Mukunda Mishra, Soumendu Chatterjee, 2020-05-11 This book acquaints readers with a range of techniques to help them effectively identify record map analyze and report on patterns in various dimensions of human development HD with spatial scales down to the village level It is impossible to capture HD at the local and global scale with only a single index because differences in HD at the international scale are caused by general factors whereas local scale differences are influenced by specific factors This book offers a variety of methods for scientifically mapping HD at any spatial scale It covers how to rationally select variables how to test the models how to validate the results and how to analyze them For this purpose it employs a case study on an Indian district The socio economic factors regulating the patterns of HD are now more complex than they were only a few decades ago making it essential to incorporate newer models in order to successfully replicate the real world situation Accordingly the book offers essential methodological tools techniques for mapping HD It sheds new light on a handful of statistical multivariate analysis and machine learning algorithms that are rarely used in the social sciences when dealing with HD yet have sound mathematical and statistical bases These techniques can be successfully used for predictive analysis in the earth natural sciences decision sciences and management disciplines and are equally effective in terms of capturing predicting and projecting the composite HD landscape This book will especially benefit two groups of readers firstly HD practitioners who want to find out why some areas are doing better than others by exploring the complex interactions of spatially linked variables with different HD parameters And secondly practitioners in other branches of the social sciences who are not concerned with HD but are looking for hands on training with techniques they can apply in their respective field of spatial investigations

Readings on Human Nature Peter Loftson,1998-02-04 This anthology brings together 45 selections by a wide range of philosophers and other thinkers and provides a representative sampling of the approaches to the study of human nature that have been taken within the western tradition The selections range in time from the ancient Greeks to the 1990s and in political orientation from the conservative individualism of Ayn Rand to the liberalism of John Rawls Classic writings from the sixteenth through nineteenth centuries are here Descartes Machiavelli Hobbes Rousseau and so on but so are a wide range of twentieth century writings including a number of feminist voices the biological theory of Edward O Wilson and the cultural materialist theory of Marvin Harris A substantial selection of Christian views of human nature is a central part of the anthology The anthology is as notable for its depth as it is for its breadth an important editorial principle has been to include a variety of substantial selections thus allowing the reader to engage more readily with some of the complexities of each approach
