Pakistan An Introduction:

Pakistan Herbert Feldman, 1968 Pakistan , 1968 Pakistan Pippa Virdee, 2021-11-25 What is Pakistan The name refers to a seventy year old post colonial product of the bloodiest partition of territory and population that accompanied the end of British empire in South Asia But the region of the Indus Valley has a four thousand year old history and was the site of one of the earliest and greatest riverine civilisations in the world Although the modern nation of Pakistan as we know it was created as a homeland for the Muslims of British India it is impossible to understand the complex tapestry of linguistic ethnic and cultural identities and tensions of the region without tracing its deep past This Very Short Introduction looks at Pakistan as one of the two nation states of the Indian sub continent that emerged in 1947 Pippa Virdee reaches into the ancient past to demonstrate the influence of trajectories of human settlement and civilisation on Pakistan s contemporary political arena and shows how the longer continuities between the land and its peoples are as important as the short term changes in the political landscape She considers Pakistan s religion and society the state and the military everyday life popular culture languages and literature as well as Pakistan s relationship with the rest of the world Virdee also looks to the challenges of the 21st century and the future of Pakistan Very Short Introductions Brilliant Sharp Inspiring ABOUT THE SERIES The Very Short Introductions series from Oxford University Press contains hundreds of titles in almost every subject area These pocket sized books are the perfect way to get ahead in a new subject quickly Our expert authors combine facts analysis perspective new ideas and enthusiasm to make interesting and challenging topics highly readable Ahmadi and Christian

Socio-Political Responses to Pakistan's Blasphemy Laws Qaiser Julius, 2017-09-30 The roots of Pakistan s blasphemy laws can be traced back to the British colonial rule in India but their harsher clauses were added to the Pakistan Penal Code during a wave of intense Islamization in the 1980s Everyone in Pakistan is threatened by the misuse of these laws even Muslims however a disproportionate number of victims targeted by these laws have come from two minority groups the Ahmadis and Christians Dr Qaiser Julius focuses on how these two groups have been affected by Pakistan s blasphemy laws their different reactions to these laws and more specifically why they are responding differently despite living under the same circumstances In this well structured and understandable study Julius provides a valuable tool for Christians to understand what it means to be a minority in a hostile culture This thorough analysis presents a way forward for the Christian church in Pakistan providing hope amidst the discrimination and persecution A Historical Atlas of Pakistan

Robert Greenberger, 2002-12-15 Maps and text chronicle the history of Pakistan from the ancient Indus Valley civilizations to the rule of Pervez Musharraf Production of Postcolonial India and Pakistan Ted Svensson, 2013-07-31 This work seeks to examine the event and concurrent transition that the inauguration of India and Pakistan as postcolonial states in August 1947 constituted and effectuated Analysing India and Pakistan together in a parallel and mutually dependant reading and utilizing primary data and archival materials Svensson offers new insights into the current literature seeking to conceptualise independence through partition and decolonisation in terms of novelty and as a restarting of time Through his analysis Svensson demonstrates the constitutive and inexorable entwinement of contingency and restoration of openness and closure in the establishment of the postcolonial state It is maintained that those involved in instituting the new state in a moment devoid of fixity and foundation anchor it in preceding beginnings The work concludes with the proposition that the novelty should not only be regarded as contained in the moment of transition It should also be seen as contained in the pledge in the promise and the gesturing towards a future community Distinct from most other studies on the partition and independence the book assumes the constitutive moment as the focal point offering a new approach to the study of partition in British India decolonisation and the institutional of the postcolonial state This work will be of great interest to students and scholars of international relations South Asian studies and political and postcolonial theory Are Pakistan's Women Entrepreneurs Being Served by the Microfinance Sector? Mehnaz Safavian, Aban Haq, 2013-07-19 Financial services are important for women who are starting and growing a business but in Pakistan microfinance providers MFPs are not reaching Pakistan s businesswomen Only 59 percent of microfinance clients are women yet the majority of these loans are passed on the male members of the household husbands fathers and sons The practice of passing on loans to male household members is quite widespread women may be bearing all the transaction costs and risks of accessing loans but are not the final beneficiaries Second a very low proportion of female microfinance clients are entrepreneurs The report explores why businesswomen in Pakistan may not be using microfinance products to meet their start up and working capital requirements in spite of identifying access to finance as a key constraint to their business operations Against this backdrop access to finance remains the biggest challenge for a woman who wants to start or grow a business Yet less than a quarter of the entrepreneurs identified through business development service providers were currently borrowing from microfinance lenders Even among those entrepreneurs that borrow dissatisfaction is high Why Women borrower entrepreneurs are not able to access individual loan products but instead are consistently relegated to group lending But group loans are very costly for a woman who is running a business and the loans are too small to fulfill working capital needs Businesswomen are rarely given the opportunity to access individual loan products which are usually offered exclusively to male borrowers and women are not given opportunities to graduate from group loans to individual loans over time Lending practices often are discriminatory requiring husbands permission male guarantors and unmarried women are rarely considered as potential clients Although MFIs understand that women s inclusion is integral to the objectives of microfinance the practice of passing on loans raises serious issues about consumer protection for women clients and the best and most effective solutions to these challenges could and should come from the sector itself Designing better products that reach the needs of emerging women entrepreneurs could prove to be good business achieving double bottom line objectives Investing in financial literacy and education of both men and women borrowers can help curb the demand for pass through loans and help lower risks associated with deceptive practices Cleaning Pakistan's Air Ernesto Sánchez-Triana, Santiago Enriquez, Javaid Afzal, Akiko Nakagawa, Asif Shuja Khan, 2014-06-26 The extent of urban air pollution in Pakistan South Asia's most urbanized country is among the world's most severe significantly damaging human health quality of life and the economy and environment of Pakistan The harm from Pakistan's urban air pollution is among the highest in South Asia exceeding several high profile causes of mortality and morbidity in Pakistan Improved air quality management AQM in Pakistan can have notable economic and health benefits For example the estimated health benefits per dollar spent on cleaner diesel are approximately US 1 1 5 for light duty diesel vehicles and US 1 5 2 4 for large buses and trucks This report advocates that Pakistan allocate resources to AQM because its air quality is severely affecting millions of Pakistanis and because experiences around the world indicate that interventions can significantly improve air quality This report details a broad spectrum of research on Pakistan's AQM challenges and identifies a comprehensive set of steps to improve air quality The research presented here underpins the conclusions that addressing Pakistan's urban air pollution requires coordinated interventions to strengthen AQM build agencies institutional capacity bolster AQM's legal and regulatory framework implement policy reforms and investments and fill knowledge gaps However Pakistan's policy makers face major obstacles including limited financial human and technical resources and can pursue only a few AQM interventions at the same time In the short term Pakistan's AQM should give highest priority to reducing pollutants linked to high morbidity and mortality PM_{2.5} and precursors like SO_x and NO_x from mobile sources A second level short term priority could be PM_{2.5} SO_x and emissions of toxic metals from stationary sources An important medium term priority should be mass transportation in major cities controlling traffic and restricting private cars during high pollution episodes A long term priority could be taxing hydrocarbons based on their contribution to greenhouse gases Pakistan Musa Khan Jalalzai, 2018-07-09 Pakistan is teetering on the brink The country's staggering and lurching foreign policy has failed to evolve with changing political and geopolitical developments The army and ISI lack coherent and long term national security approach The proximity of the Afghan war and participation of Pakistan's jihadist black water in it has blighted its social and political stratification Its domestic policies are in a grief stricken state The two states Islamic Republic and Military Establishment have adopted different foreign domestic and economic policies and view neighbouring states with different glasses The gradual radicalization of Pakistan army and its links with worldwide terrorist organizations over the last 70 years poses a grave danger to the country's nuclear installations in terms of insider attacks The spectrum of rogue and radicalized elements range from military officers to employees of Strategic Planning Division and officers of nuclear force These aspects have been elaborated by the author in this book The book can be an essential reading for every reader interested in Pakistan's nuclear program and its threat of falling into hands of rogue elements Islam and Pakistan's Political Culture Farhan Mujahid Chak, 2014-09-04 This book explores the ideological rivalry which is fuelling political instability in Muslim polities discussing this in relation to Pakistan It argues that the principal dilemma for Muslim polities is how to reconcile modernity and tradition It discusses existing scholarship on the subject outlines how Muslim political thought and political culture have developed over time and then relates all this to Pakistan's political evolution present political culture and growing instability The book concludes that traditionalist and secularist approaches to reconciling modernity and tradition have not succeeded and have in fact led to instability and that a revivalist approach is more likely to be successful United States Development Assistance Programs in Pakistan, the Philippines, and Indonesia United States. Pakistan's Nuclear Future Henry D. Sokolski, 2009 Unfortunately a nuclear terrorist act is only one and hardly the most probable of several frightening security threats Pakistan now faces or poses We know that traditional acts of terrorism and conventional military crises in Southwest Asia have nearly escalated into wars and more recently even threatened Indian and Pakistani nuclear use Certainly the war jitters that attended the recent terrorist attacks against Mumbai highlighted the nexus between conventional terrorism and war For several weeks the key worry in Washington was that India and Pakistan might not be able to avoid war Similar concerns were raised during the Kargil crisis in 1999 and during the Indo Pakistani conventional military tensions that arose in 2001 and 2002 crises that most analysts including those who contributed to this volume believe could have escalated into nuclear conflicts The intent of this book is to conduct a significant evaluation of these threats Its companion volume Worries Beyond War published in 2008 focused on the challenges of Pakistani nuclear terrorism These analyses offer a window into what is possible and why Pakistani nuclear terrorism is best seen as a lesser included threat to war and terrorism more generally Could the United States do more with Pakistan to secure Pakistan's nuclear weapons holdings against possible seizure It is unclear This book argues that rather than distracting our policy leaders from taking the steps needed to reduce the threats of nuclear war we would do well to view our worst terrorist nightmares for what they are subordinate threats that will be limited best if the risk of nuclear war is reduced and contained New Perspectives on Pakistan's Political Economy Matthew McCartney, S. Akbar Zaidi, 2019-09-19 This volume makes a major intervention in the debates around the nature of the political economy of Pakistan focusing on its contemporary social dynamics This is the first comprehensive academic analysis of Pakistan's political economy after thirty five years and addresses issues of state class and society examining gender the middle classes the media the bazaar economy urban spaces and the new elite The book goes beyond the contemporary obsession with terrorism and extremism political Islam and simple civilian military relations and looks at modern day Pakistan through the lens of varied academic disciplines It not only brings together new work by some emerging scholars but also formulates a new political economy for the country reflecting the contemporary reality and diversification in the social sciences in Pakistan The chapters dynamically and dialectically capture emergent processes and trends in framing Pakistan's political economy and invite scholars to engage with and move beyond these concerns and issues Secular and Religious Politics in Pakistan, India, and Bangladesh Nadeem Malik, 2025-07-02 This book thoroughly explores the complex relationship between secularism and religious politics in South Asia. It examines the historical and contemporary factors that have influenced the political landscapes of Pakistan, India, and Bangladesh, focusing on how colonial legacies, nation building processes, and religious ideologies have shaped governance and social structures. Through comparative analysis, the book delves into the rise of Hindutva in India, the struggle between secularism and Islamism in Bangladesh, and the role of Islam in Pakistan's politics. By integrating diverse theoretical perspectives and historical contexts, this book offers a comprehensive understanding of the evolving nature of secularism and religious politics in these three nations. It also provides insights into the broader implications for democracy, pluralism, and religious freedom in South Asia. This book is essential reading for scholars, policymakers, and anyone interested in the intersection of religion and politics in one of the world's most complex and dynamic regions.

Pakistan's Tactical Nuclear Weapon: Conflict Redux Brigadier Gurmeet Kanwal, Dr. Monika Chansoria, 2013-10-15 Tactical Nuclear Weapons (TNWs) often referred to as battlefield, sub-strategic, or non-strategic nuclear weapons, usually have a plutonium core and are typically distinct from strategic nuclear weapons. Therefore, they warrant a separate consideration in the realm of nuclear security. The yield of such weapons is generally lower than that of strategic nuclear weapons and may range from the relatively low 0.1 kiloton to a few kilotons. Pakistan's quest to acquire tactical nuclear weapons has added a dangerous dimension to the already precarious strategic equation in South Asia. The security discourse in the subcontinent revolves around the perennial apprehension of a conventional or sub-conventional conflict triggering a chain reaction, eventually paving the way for a potential nuclear crisis, haunting peace and stability in the region. Pakistan believes that the successful testing of the 60 km nuclear capable short range missile Hatf-9 Nasr adds deterrence value to Pakistan's strategic weapons development programme at shorter ranges. In paradox, the fact remains that this step has further lowered Pakistan's nuclear threshold through the likely use of TNWs. The introduction of TNWs into the tactical battle area further exacerbates the credibility of their control. Pakistan has not formally declared a nuclear doctrine, but it is well known that nuclear weapons are its first line of defence. The use of TNWs in the India-Pakistan case will alter the strategic scenario completely, as Pakistan would threaten India with the use of TNWs in the event of New Delhi responding against Islamabad with a conventional strike in reaction to a 26/11 style terrorist attack. Pakistan forgets that given its offensive strategic posture and continuing involvement in terror strikes in India, it is New Delhi which is confronted with the problem of developing a strategy to counter Pakistan's first strike and proxy war in the light of its declared no first use policy. This edited volume attempts to address and decipher complex issues, including aspects such as China's WMD collaboration with Pakistan, nuclear command and control dynamics within Pakistan, overall rationale and implications of TNWs, safety and security of nuclear weapons, scenarios for nuclear usage, India's potential response options, and more specifically, the technical aspects of the Nasr delivery system.

Political Conflict in Pakistan Mohammad Waseem, 2022-04-01 This book is a major reinterpretation of politics in Pakistan Its focus is conflict among groups communities classes ideologies and institutions which has shaped the country s political dynamics Mohammad Waseem critically examines the theory surrounding the millennium long conflict between Hindus and Muslims as separate nations who practiced mingled faiths and the Hindu Muslim and Sikh renaissances that created a twentieth century clash of communities and led to partition Political Conflict in Pakistan addresses multiple clashes between the high culture as a mission to transform society and the low culture of the land and the people between those committed to the establishment s institutional constitutional framework and those seeking to dismantle the colonial state between the corrupt and those seeking to hold them to account between the political class and the middle class and between civil and military power The author exposes how the ruling elite centralised power through the militarisation and judicialization of politics rendering the federalist arrangement an empty shell and thus grossly alienating the provinces He sets all this within the contexts of education and media as breeders of conflict the difficulties of establishing an anti terrorist regime and the state s pragmatic attempts at conflict resolution by seeking to keep the outsiders inside This is a wide ranging account of a country of contestations

The Ahmadis and the Politics of Religious Exclusion in Pakistan Ali Usman Qasmi,2014-05-15 In this path breaking new work Ali Usman Qasmi traces the history of the political exclusion of the Ahmadiyya religious minority in Pakistan by drawing on revealing new sources This volume is the first scholarly study of the declassified material of the court of inquiry that produced the Munir Kiyani report of 1954 and the proceedings of the national assembly that declared the Ahmadis non Muslims through the second constitutional amendment in 1974 The Ahmadis and the Politics of Religious Exclusion in Pakistan chronicles anti Ahmadi violence and the legal and administrative measures adopted against them and also addresses wider issues of the politics of Islam in postcolonial Muslim nation states and their disputative engagements with ideas of modernity and citizenship Winner of the Karachi Literary Festival Peace Prize 2015
