Passing Fancies in Jewish American Literature and Culture Judith Ruderman, 2019-01-09 This scholarly study explores the conflicting forces of assimilation and cultural heritage in literary portrayals of Jewish American identity In Passing Fancies in Jewish American Literature and Culture Judith Ruderman takes on the fraught question of who passes for Jewish in American literature and culture In today's contemporary political climate religious and racial identities are being reconceived as responses to culture and environment rather than essential qualities Many Jews continue to hold conflicting ideas about their identity seeking deep engagement with Jewish history and the experiences of the Jewish people while holding steadfastly to the understanding that identity is fluid and multivalent Looking at carefully chosen texts from American literature Ruderman elaborates on the strategies Jews have used to pass from the late nineteenth century to the present nose jobs renaming clothing changes religious and racial reclassification and even playing baseball While traversing racial and religious identities has always been a feature of America's nation of immigrants Ruderman shows how the complexities of identity formation and deformation are critically relevant during this important cultural moment

The Coupling Convention : Sex, Text, and Tradition in Black Women's Fiction Ann duCille Associate Professor of English and African American Studies Wesleyan University, 1993-10-19 What does the tradition of marriage mean for people who have historically been deprived of its legal status Generally thought of as a convention of the white middle class the marriage plot has received little attention from critics of African American literature In this study Ann duCille uses texts such as Nella Larsen's Quicksand 1928 and Zora Neale Hurston's Their Eyes Were Watching God 1937 to demonstrate that the African American novel like its European and Anglo American counterparts has developed around the marriage plot what she calls the coupling convention Exploring the relationship between racial ideology and literary and social conventions duCille uses the coupling convention to trace the historical development of the African American women's novel She demonstrates the ways in which black women appropriated this novelistic device as a means of expressing and reclaiming their own identity More than just a study of the marriage tradition in black women's fiction however The Coupling Convention takes up and takes on many different meanings of tradition It challenges the notion of a single black literary tradition or of a single black feminist literary canon grounded in specifically black female language and experience as it explores the ways in which white and black male and female mainstream and marginalized traditions and canons have influenced and cross fertilized each other Much more than a period study The Coupling Convention spans the period from 1853 to 1948 addressing the vital questions of gender subjectivity race and the canon that inform literary study today In this original work duCille offers a new paradigm for reading black women's fiction

Passing Fancies Levi F. Baude, 1880 The Secret Sean Kelly & Ted Mann & Byron Preiss, 2014-03-18 The tale begins over three hundred years ago when the Fair People the goblins fairies dragons and other fabled and fantastic creatures of a dozen lands fled the Old World for the New seeking haven from the ways of Man

With them came their precious jewels diamonds rubies emeralds pearls But then the Fair People vanished taking with them their twelve fabulous treasures And they remained hidden until now Across North America these twelve treasures over ten thousand dollars in precious jewels in 1982 dollars are buried The key to finding each can be found within the twelve full color paintings and verses of THE SECRET Are you smart enough THE SECRET A TREASURE HUNT was published in 1982 The year before publication the author and publisher Byron Preiss had traveled to 12 locations in the continental U S and possibly Canada to secretly bury a dozen ceramic casques Each casque contained a small key that could be redeemed for one of 12 jewels Preiss kept in a safe deposit box in New York The key to finding the casques was to match one of 12 paintings to one of 12 poetic verses solve the resulting riddle and start digging Since 1982 only two of the 12 casques have been recovered The first was located in Grant Park Chicago in 1984 by a group of students The second was unearthed in 2004 in Cleveland by two members of the Quest4Treasure forum , The Virginians William Makepeace Thackeray,1902
