Singapore Gretchen Liu, 2001 This is the story of Singapore through the eyes of artists and photographers Each image conveys a strong sense of place and together they tell the story of a nation and the island they transformed from a fishing village to a global city state Historical Dictionary of Singapore

Justin Corfield, 2010-12-02 In spite of Singapore's small size it has long had a major impact on the world because of its geographical location and its wealth The British initially made the island a major port for the shipping of goods and later as an airline hub for the region These factors along with a steady government have helped to contribute to the country's affluence This multicultural multiracial and multi religious island nation is the envy of many countries in the world which have tried to emulate the economic success of Singapore The new edition of the Historical Dictionary of Singapore has been completely rewritten since the first edition was released 20 years ago It relates the history of this country through a chronology an introductory essay an expansive bibliography and over 500 cross referenced dictionary entries on significant persons events places organizations and other aspects of Singapore history from the earliest times to the present Asian

Ethical Urbanism: A Radical Postmodern Perspective William Siew Wai Lim, 2005-07-15 With the impending demise of modernist planning the footprints and corpses of failed modernist visions are littered everywhere A vacuum of implementable urban theories has occurred at the time when unprecedented expansion and restructuring of cities in rapidly developing economies are taking place In this collection of essays William S W Lim zeroes in on the peculiarities and dynamics of present Asian urban and architectural conditions in order to challenge and transcend the socio ecological forms and political influences generated by the current system of global capitalism Part I of this book consists of the main essay which attempts to establish baselines for an effective formulation of ethical urbanism in Asia by clarifying issues that have previously been unquestioningly bound up with Western values and discourses As an architect urbanist Lim lends a determinedly spatialist and environmental perspective to issues such as rights ethics happiness and social justice while compelling his readers to rethink previously established notions about them Part II of this book consists of three city studies on Hanoi Shanghai and Singapore completed in the last two years which attempt to match Lim's theoretical formulation with actual conditions occurring in Asia today Also included is Asian Architecture in the New Millennium a fascinating discourse on contemporary design conducted from a postmodern perspective Planning Singapore Belinda K. P. Yuen, 1998 This book attempts to revisit Singapore's urban experience since her independence three decades ago and unfold the planning and development process behind its successful urban transformation Topics covered by the chapters include visionary planning local planning IT in planning practice planning industrial estate development urban conservation recreation planning and planning urban transportation Constructing Identity in Contemporary Architecture Peter Herrle, Stephanus Schmitz, 2009 The global spread of uniform modes of production and cultural values has been accompanied by a dissemination of stereotypes of modern architecture styles almost everywhere around the globe Paradoxically the reverse process has also emerged In some countries the elites feel the necessity to counterbalance the loss of identity and defend their own cultures against the intruding forces of globalization What started as a defensive notion has developed into a more progressive attempt to re create what has allegedly been lost This trend is being strongly expressed in discourses about architecture in countries of the South Who are the actors feeling compelled to construct new identities How are these new identities in architecture created in various parts of the world And which are the ingredients borrowed from various historical and ethnic traditions and other sources These and other questions are discussed in five case studies from different parts of the world written by renowned scholars from Brazil Mexico Egypt India and Singapore

Architecture, Art, Identity in Singapore William Siew Wai Lim, 2004

Colonial Frames, Nationalist Histories Mrinalini Rajagopalan, 2024-12-15

In recent years there has been a growing debate on the various ways that architecture and urbanism have served the triad of colonialism nationalism and modernity Some have argued that newly decolonized nations sought to represent their modernity through the spaces and symbols of their new national capitals while other scholars have stressed that while the forms and processes of architectural modernization have no doubt served as aids to various nation building projects it is the specific role of individual agents such as planners architects an emerging twentieth century bourgeois citizen or colonial administrators in this national project that needs attention However many such explorations of this subject have so far taken the form of monographs that concentrate on one city thereby limiting the scope required to address the broader questions at hand By juxtaposing case studies from various colonial and postcolonial settings from around the world this edited volume provides a comprehensive and diachronic investigation of the ways in which architecture and urban space mediate the intersections of colonialism nationalism and modernity Examining such spaces as archaeological sites memorials new buildings or historic urban fabric the book questions certain established dichotomies such as that of the imperial center and the colonized periphery the colonial past and the postcolonial present or the isolation of the national or local from the global Besides offering unique historical perspectives on colonialism nationalism and modernity each case study also reassesses theories regarding memory and monumentalization the appropriation and deployment of tradition in the service of nationalism and the institutions of modernity A common thread throughout the essays in this volume is a focus on new loci of power that emerge either in collision with colonial power structures or in collaboration with or those that emerge in the wake of decolonization While the authors recognize the presence of a larger structure of colonial hegemony they also investigate those centers of power that emerge in the interstices of crevices of colonial power Interdisciplinary and theoretically innovative this book offers a global perspective on colonial and national landscapes rewrites the master creator narrative examines national landscapes as sites of contestation and views the globalization of processes such as archaeology beyond the boundaries of the national

Malayan Classicism Soon-Tzu Speechley, 2023-11-30 Through a broad range of case studies spanning from imperial monuments to rural residences Malayan Classicism puts forward a fundamentally new understanding of classical architecture in the Asian colonial context Across Malaysia and Singapore thousands of historic buildings are richly ornamented with motifs drawn from Ancient Greece and Rome as plump volutes lush acanthus leaves and neat rows of dentils decorate mosques palaces government buildings and innumerable terraced shophouses These classical details jostle with ideas drawn from other architectural traditions from across Asia in a style that is unique to the region Presenting the first comprehensive account of what was prior to World War II Malaya's most widespread architectural style Malayan Classicism explores how the classical architecture of the British Empire was transmitted translated and transformed in the hands of local builders and architects Addressing a critical gap in the scholarship this book charts the metamorphosis of an imperial language of power into a local vernacular style and provides a new way of reading classical architecture in a post colonial context that will be applicable throughout the Global South A History of Singapore Architecture Jane Beamish, Jane Ferguson, 1985 The Impossibility Of Mapping (Urban Asia) Ute Meta Bauer, Puay Khim Ong, Roger Nelson, 2020-02-12 Following the lifework 1960s to 2010 of visionary Singaporean architect William S W Lim The Impossibility of Mapping Urban Asia is a compelling compilation of case studies and historical projects This multifaceted publication takes Lim's ideas to a future Asia a region defined by an irreducibly complex urban topography under constant flux Looking from Singapore to Southeast Asia and from this region to Asia more expansively and beyond it presents a diverse range of activities which may be productively framed through the notion of critical spatial practice The book has three interconnected points of departure Lim's lifework the interdisciplinary exhibition Incomplete Urbanism Attempts at Critical Spatial Practice at NTU Centre for Contemporary Art Singapore and the related conference The Impossibility of Mapping Urban Asia and the cross cultural and urban festival CITIES FOR PEOPLE NTU CCA Ideas Fest 2016 17 held at venues around Gillman Barracks Singapore The multiple links are emphasised in three key ways through editorial texts through design concepts and through selected projects inserted as intermissions between each of the book's sections Artists planners activists architects scholars get together in this volume to respond to Lim's critical spatial practice Research essays artworks visual and textual documentation spatio temporal maps grapple with the diversity of Southeast Asia offering unexpected responses to planning building and living cities and urban spaces but also put forward the question Who owns the city This key collection offers a path into spatial questions in Asia and beyond and serves as a teaching and research tool

Visual Cultures of the Ethnic Chinese in Indonesia Abidin Kusno, 2016-10-06 Visual Cultures of the Ethnic Chinese in Indonesia explores how visual representations shaped and were shaped by how the ethnic Chinese confronted the period of economic dislocation and radical social change during Dutch colonialism and the nationalist struggles in the decolonized Indonesia including the post 1965 and 1998 social environments How did the ethnic Chinese communities represent themselves to both their domestic and outside world under the changing regimes of representation How did they visualize symbolically their place in Indonesian society How did the visual shape the ambiguities of the Chinese the perception of the economic identity and the forgetting of their involvement in politics cultures and histories of the nation More broadly how did the visual address the interconnectedness of domestic life the urban cultural milieu and ideologies of the state and the ruling class The book is a response to two paradoxical socio political phenomena whose convergence is shaping the experience and conceptualization of ethnic Chinese in Indonesia On the one hand the economic technological and cultural forces of colonialism and globalization have created conditions for the formation of ethnic Chinese capitalists while on the other the state generated identity and identification constituted the discourses of othering the ethnic Chinese as foreign minority

Chinese Houses of Southeast Asia Ronald G. Knapp, 2013-02-12 Featuring over 350 beautiful photographs Chinese Houses of Southeast Asia captures the architectural heritage of a vibrant community The multiple Chinese migrations from southeastern China to Southeast Asia have had important implications for both regions In Southeast Asia this influence can be seen in the architecturally eclectic homes these migrants and their descendants built as they became successful homes that combined Chinese European and local influences especially during the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Chinese Houses of Southeast Asia strives not only to be an informative but also an authoritative book on the subject of hybrid architecture filled with stunning color photographs and essays on nearly thirty well preserved homes An introductory essay portrays the historical circumstances that gave rise to Chinese houses overseas and includes historic images color photographs paintings and line drawings At the core of the book is a comprehensive set of stunning color photographs of nearly thirty well preserved homes built by Chinese immigrants and their descendants in various countries of Southeast Asia Images and drawings from southeastern China help clarify similarities and differences For each home extensive captions accompany the photographs and the essay supplies background information concerning the individual and family who built and resided in each house The historical context nature of the building and the restoration history of the home is included Extensive information about the symbolism implicit in the decorative elements that make up each of the homes is presented This includes an examination of ornamental elements that are Chinese in origin as well as those decorative components that are Western Chinese Houses of Southeast Asia has been written in a nontechnical style accessible to lay readers who are interested in the extraordinary architectural heritage of China much of which is only now beginning to be appreciated

Malaysian Architectural Heritage Survey, 1990 Race and State in Independent Singapore 1965-1990 John Clammer, 2019-01-04 First published in 1998 this volume explores Singapore as an ideal case study for the examination of the management of postcoloniality social diversity and the pursuit of economic growth with ethnic harmony Singapore has since independence evolved a unique mix of state directed capitalism revamped Confucianism and a social order based on an ideology of multiracialism The result has been a State with enormous sociological diversity held together by the need to create a unified political order out of a population of immigrants of very diverse origins This has placed the management of multiethnicity at the heart of political discourse and social policy This book examines critically the operation of ethnicity in post independence Singapore the social policies that have been evolved to manage it and the implications of the Singapore experiment for other plural societies in Asia and elsewhere

Our Lives To Live: Putting A Woman's Face To Change In Singapore Kanwaljit Soin, Margaret Thomas, 2015-05-05 Our Lives to Live Putting a Woman s Face to Change in Singapore explores and documents how women s roles choices and voices in Singapore have changed in the last 50 years how women from all sectors of society have helped to shape the Singapore we know today The 31 chapters some with a more academic slant others with a distinctly personal tone reflect the rich diversity and depth of women s contributions to Singapore s evolution in the last half century and also point to the problematical areas that still need attention The perspectives in this book are provided by three generations of women and they put a human face the woman s face to the tremendous changes in Singapore society over the past 50 years The authors include some of Singapore s most accomplished women in many different fields Speaker of Parliament Halimah Yacob political scientist and diplomat Chan Heng Chee global women s activist Noeleen Heyzer sociologist and politician Aline Wong food ambassador Violet Oon sports legend Pat Chan law lecturer and playwright Eleanor Wong and novelist Meira Chand
