The Medieval Culture of Disputation Alex J. Novikoff, 2013-10-31 Through hundreds of published and unpublished sources Alex J Novikoff traces the evolution of disputation from its ancient origins to its broader influence in the scholastic culture and public sphere of the High Middle Ages

Herzog, 2018-01-08 A Short History of European Law brings to life 2 500 years of legal history tying current norms to the circumstances of their conception. Tamar Herzog describes how successive legal systems built upon one another from ancient times through the European Union. Roman law formed the backbone of each configuration though the way it was used and reshaped varied dramatically from one century and place to the next. Only by considering Continental civil law and English common law together do we see how they drew from and enriched this shared tradition. A remarkable achievement sure to become a go-to text for scholars and students alike. A must read for anyone eager to understand the origins of core legal concepts and institutions like due process and rule of law that profoundly shape the societies in which we live today. Amalia D Kessler, Stanford University. A fundamental and timely contribution to the understanding of Europe as seen through its legal systems. Herzog masterfully shows the profound unity of legal thinking and practices across the Continent and in England. Federico Varese, Oxford University. Required reading for Americanists North and South and indeed for all of us inhabiting a postcolonial world deeply marked by the millennia of legal imaginings whose dynamic transformations it so lucidly charts. David Nirenberg, University of Chicago. Augustine and History Christopher T. Daly, John Doody, Kim Paffenroth, 2008-01-01 Augustine and History places Augustine in his historical context and traces his influence on later historians and debates. These scholarly essays are excellent for a wide-ranging academic audience. A Syllabus for the Study of Medieval Times Lowell Joseph Ragatz, 1928. A Renaissance of Conflicts Victoria University (Toronto, Ont.).

Centre for Reformation and Renaissance Studies, 2004. The essays in this collection explore conflict and continuity across the spectrum of political, legal, and spiritual traditions from late medieval Umbria and Tuscany to sixteenth and seventeenth century Venice, Rome, and Castile. They point to a shared tradition of dispute and resolution in both ecclesiastical, spiritual, and state secular matters, whether of private conscience or public policy. Continuity of ideals, problems, and modes of resolution suggest that breaks in legal, political, or religious ideals and behavior were not as frequent or sharp as historians have argued. These continuities emerge from common methodological approaches grounded in close, careful reading of key texts and their polyvalent terms. Whether those were the terms of civil or canon law, spirituality, or astrology, each author has had to grapple with multiple possibilities, contexts, customs, and practices that reveal the shifts and continuities in their possible meanings.
