The Untouched Minutes Donald Morrill,2004-01-01 What would you be willing to do to save someone perhaps someone you loved On a moment's notice for instance would you lunge between that person and an

assailant's knife strike In that same situation what would you be willing to do for yourself And what if there were nothing ultimately to be done These and other such questions live in the untouched minutes questions most of us are fortunately never compelled to answer though the media exposes us daily to the stories of those who are In February 2001 on what started out as a typical Sunday afternoon Donald Morrill and his wife Lisa Birnbaum became the victims of a home invasion and found themselves faced with the specter of ultimate contingency In The Untouched Minutes Morrill recounts and examines the events of that day and its aftermath as well as the circumstances surrounding the murders of Dartmouth professors Half and Suzanne Zantop which occurred the same week Set against the unfolding drama of post 9 11 America The Untouched Minutes explores how violence and the threat of violence color and recast one's assumptions and can plot the course of people facing the unknown the unknowable the irredeemable Morrill presents a memorable portrait of what it means to take back the life that finally wasn't taken and in the process he offers a powerful meditation on terror and security home and travel art race luck and our individual places in the wider world Born to Battle Jack Hurst, 2012-05-29 Hurst shows how Grant and Forrest brought to the battlefield the fabled virtues of the American working class hard work ingenuity and intense determination Each man's background contributed to his triumphs on the battlefield but the open mindedness of his fellow commanders proved just as important When the North embraced Grant it won a stalwart defender When the South rejected Forrest by contrast it sealed its fate Conversations with American Writers Dale Brown, 2008-04-14 For years Dale Brown has interviewed American writers listening particularly for what they have to say about wrestling with the sacred in their writing In this book a follow up to his earlier collection Of Fiction and Faith Brown gives readers the opportunity to listen in on his thoughtful conversations with ten contemporary writers While many of these authors shy away from being labeled Christian writers they all have much truth to tell through their work as they struggle with expressing both faith and doubt The conversations recorded here offer a fresh dialogue on the power of art to sustain faith in unexpected ways Interviews with Eleanor Taylor Bland David James Duncan Terence Faherty Ernest Gaines Philip Gulley Ron Hansen Silas House Jan Karon Sheri Reynolds Lee Smith The Fishes of North and Middle America David Starr Jordan, Barton Warren Evermann, 1896 Bulletin of the United States National Museum, 1896 Pamphlets on Forestry. Fish and Game, 1896 Bulletin United States National Museum, 1896 Romances with Schools John I. Goodlad, 2016-07-18 John I. Goodlad has been an unflagging voice for humanistic ideals in education for more than six decades and has helped reframe the modern discourse on the role and function of schools For Goodlad the goal of public education is to help children become free and full participants in a democratic society by instilling them with a love of learning and a sense of civic responsibility goals that are incompatible with our present system of schooling that teaches to standardized tests In Romances with Schools John Goodlad steps out from behind the public persona of distinguished scholar and advocate for public schooling to offer a moving personal account of a life devoted to educating the young He deftly interweaves fascinating personal details with reflections on many of the larger issues in education that he has explored throughout his career John's early encounters with formal schooling began just before the Great Depression in Canada with the humble North Star School From there we are taken through sixty plus years in education starting with John's first teaching job as the sole instructor of a one room schoolhouse through his years as an education activist dean of the UCLA Graduate School of Education and national voice for educational renewal Along the way he treats us to vivid characterizations of the men women and above all children who shaped him as a person and inspired his thinking on education Romances with Schools is both a poignant memoir and a persuasive argument for the need to renew public education to fit the demands of a free society Stephen Goodlad John's son has written a moving Prologue to the book that provides behind the scenes insight into John's life An Epilogue by Roger Soder a long time colleague places John's work of school renewal in the context of political change
