Road To Aztlan:

The Road to Aztlan Virginia M. Fields, Victor Zamudio-Taylor, 2001 Published in conjunction with the major exhibition The Road to Aztlan Art from a Mythic Homeland explores the art derived from and created about the legendary area that encompasses the American Southwest and portions of Mexico long before they were separated by an international border The book and accompanying exhibition view Aztlan as a metaphoric centre and allegorical place of origin for the various peoples of the Southwest and Mexico Cultural interactions between the two areas span two millennia beginning with maize cultivation which spread north from Mexico around BC 1200 The book also investigates the relationship between myth and history as expressed in art and material culture of the region's inhabitants over time and the relationship and continuities of cultural practices over the course of the pre Columbian colonial and contemporary eras Crucial to these changing relationships are aspects of tradition and innovation within cultures as people sought to negotiate maintain and redefine their identities in the face of social disruption

Revelation in Aztlán Jacqueline M. Hidalgo, 2016-08-31 Bridging the fields of Religion and Latina/o Studies this book fills a gap by examining the spiritual rhetoric and practices of the Chicano movement Bringing new theoretical life to biblical studies and Chicana/o writings from the 1960s such as El Plan Espiritual de Aztlán and El Plan de Santa Barbara Jacqueline M Hidalgo boldly makes the case that peoples for whom historical memories of displacement loom large engage scriptures in order to make and contest homes Movement literature drew upon and defied the scriptural legacies of Revelation a Christian scriptural text that also carries a displaced homing dream Through the slipperiness of utopian imaginations these texts become places of belonging for those whose belonging has otherwise been questioned Hidalgo's elegant comparative study articulates as never before how Aztlán and the new Jerusalem's imaginative power rest in their ambiguities their ambivalence and the significance that people ascribe to them Chicana/o Remix Karen Mary Davalos, 2017-07-25 Rewrites our understanding of the last 50 years of Chicana/o cultural production Chicana/o Remix casts new light not only on artists such as Sandra de la Loza Judy Baca and David Botello among others but on the exhibitions that feature their work and the collectors curators critics and advocates who engage it Combining feminist theory critical ethnic studies art historical analysis and extensive archival and field research Karen Mary Davalos argues that narrow notions of identity politics and aesthetics limit our ability to understand the full capacities of Chicana/o art She employs fresh vernacular concepts such as the errata exhibit or the staging of exhibits that critically question mainstream art museums and the remix or the act of bringing new narratives and forgotten histories from the background and into the foreground These concepts which emerge out of art practice itself drive her analysis and reinforce the rejection of familiar narratives that evaluate Chicana o art in simplistic traditional terms such as political versus commercial or realist versus conceptual Throughout Chicana o Remix Davalos explores undocumented or previously ignored information about artists their cultural production and the exhibitions and collections that feature their work Each chapter exposes and challenges conventions in art history and Chicana o studies documenting how Chicana artists were the first to critically challenge exhibitions of Chicana o art tracing the origins of the first Chicano arts organizations and highlighting the influence of Europe and Asia on Chicana o artists who traveled abroad As a leading scholar in the study of Chicana o artists art spaces and exhibition practices Davalos presents her most ambitious project to date in this re examination of fifty years of Chicana o art production Aztlán and Viet Nam George Mariscal, 1999-01-30 Showcasing over sixty short stories poems speeches and articles Aztlán and Viet Nam is the first anthology of Mexican American writings about the U S war in Southeast Asia The words are startlingly frank moving and immensely powerful as they call to our attention an important and neglected part of U S history Gathered from many little known sources the works reflect both the soldiers experience and the antiwar movement at home Taken together they illustrate the contradictions faced by the traditionally patriotic Mexican American community and show us the war and the grassroots opposition to it from a new perspective one that goes beyond the familiar dichotomy of black and white America George Mariscal offers critical introductions and provides historical background by identifying specific issues which have not been widely discussed in relation to the war noting for example the potential for Chicano soldiers to recognize their own ethnic and class identities in those of the Vietnamese people Drawing upon interviews with key participants in the National Chicano Moratorium Committee Mariscal analyzes the antiwar movement the Catholic Church traditional Mexican American groups and an emerging feminist consciousness among Chicanas Also included are personal accounts Norma Elia Cant s remembrance of her brother who died in combat Barbara Renaud Gonz lez s evocative poem about Chicanas on the homefront Alberto Ros s and Naomi Helena Qui onez s moving poetry about the Wall and the recollections of Abelardo Delgado and others on the August 29 1970 Moratorium In and Out of View Catha Paquette, Karen Kleinfelder, Christopher Miles, 2021-09-09 In and Out of View models an expansion in how censorship is discursively framed Contributors from diverse backgrounds including artists art historians museum specialists and students address controversial instances of art production and reception from the mid 20th century to the present in the Americas Africa Asia Europe and the Middle East Their essays interviews and statements invite consideration of the shifting contexts values and needs through which artwork moves in and out of view At issue are governmental restrictions and discursive effects including erasure and distortion resulting from institutional policies canonical processes and interpretive methods Crucial considerations concerning death violence authoritarianism neo colonialism global capitalism labor immigration race religion sexuality activism social justice disability campus speech and cultural destruction are highlighted The anthology a thought provoking resource for students and scholars in art history museum and cultural studies and creative practices represents a timely and significant contribution to the literature on censorship

Aztlán and Arcadia Roberto Ramón Lint Sagarena,2014-08-22 In the wake of the Mexican American War competing narratives of religious conquest and re conquest were employed by Anglo American and ethnic Mexican Californians to make sense of their place in North America These invented traditions had a profound impact on North American religious and ethnic relations serving to bring elements of Catholic history within the Protestant fold of the United States national history as well as playing an integral role in the emergence of the early Chicano a movement Many Protestant Anglo Americans understood their settlement in the far Southwest as following in the footsteps of the colonial project begun by Catholic Spanish missionaries. In contrast, Californios, Mexican Americans, and Chicanas/os stressed deep connections to a pre-Columbian past over to their own Spanish heritage. Thus, as Anglo Americans fashioned themselves as the spiritual heirs to the Spanish frontier, many ethnic Mexicans came to see themselves as the spiritual heirs to a southwestern Aztec homeland.
