photograph albums Exploring works by Penelope Lively J G Ballard Doris Lessing and Janet Frame this study establishes new connections between authors usually discussed for their fiction and who have been hitherto unrecognised as post imperial life writers Offering close sustained analysis of autobiographies memoirs travel narratives and autofictions and identifying new subgenres such as speculative life writing this book advances rich new readings of autobiographical narrative By tracing the continuing importance of colonialism to white subjectivity the role of imperial memory in Britain and the ways that these unsettling forces move beneath the surface of modern and contemporary literature this study offers new conceptual insights to the fields of life writing and postcolonial studies Mercury's Wings Richard J. contemporary culture seem forever fascinated by the topic of time In modern fiction Ian McEwan The Child in Time and Martin Amis Time s Arrow have led the way in exploring the human condition in relation to past present and future In cinema several cultural texts Memento Minority Report The Hours have similarly reflected a preoccupation with temporality and human experience And in the sphere of politics debates about the end of history prompted by Francis Fukuyama indicate that how we live is deeply determined by our relationship not only to place but also to the passing of time But what did the ancients think about time Is our interest in chronology a relatively recent phenomenon Or does it go further back In his major new work Duncan Kennedy indicates that our own fascination with time reckoning is by no means unique Discussing a number of key texts such as Homer's Odyssey Sophocles Oedipus Rex Virgil's Aeneid and Ovid's Metamophoses and imaginatively setting these side by side with modern works such as Sterne's Tristram Shandy and Joyce's Ulysses he shows that from era to era and in different ways human beings have uniformly striven to understand the unfolding of history and their relationship to it This sophisticated cross disciplinary book will appeal not only to classicists but also to scholars and students in the humanities more broadly as well as beyond Ancient Historiography on War and Empire Timothy Howe.Sabine Müller, Richard Stoneman, 2016-11-30 In the ancient Greek speaking world writing about the past meant balancing the reporting of facts with shaping and guiding the political interests and behaviours of the present Ancient Historiography on War and Empire shows the ways in which the literary genre of writing history developed to guide empires through their wars Taking key events from the Achaemenid Persian Athenian Macedonian and Roman empires the 17 essays collected here analyse the way events and the accounts of those events interact Subjects include how Greek historians assign nearly divine honours to the Persian King the role of the tomb cult of Cyrus the Founder in historical narratives of conquest and empire from Herodotus to the Alexander historians warfare and financial innovation in the age of Philip II and his son Alexander the Great the murders of Philip II his last and seventh wife Kleopatra and her guardian Attalos Alexander the Great's combat use of eagle symbolism and divination Plutarch's juxtaposition of character in the Alexander Caesar pairing as a commentary on political legitimacy and military prowess and Roman Imperial historians using historical examples of good and bad rule to make meaningful challenges to current Roman authority In some cases the balance shifts more towards the literary and in others more towards the historical but what all of the essays have in common is both a critical attention to the genre and context of history writing in the ancient world and its focus on war and empire Cassandra and the Poetics of Prophecy in Greek and Latin Literature Emily J. promote well being and happiness on the global scale but yet there is absence in the literature on the topic of fulfilling tourist experiences from psychological perspectives Drawing on insights and theories from the research field of positive psychology the study of well being this is the first edited book to evaluate tourist experiences from positive psychology perspectives The volume addresses the important topic of fulfilment through the lens of the world's largest social global phenomenon tourism In doing so the book refreshes and challenges some aspects of tourist behaviour research. The chapters are grouped under three broad sections which reflect a range of positive psychological outcomes that personal holiday experiences can produce namely happiness and humour meaning and self actualisation and health and restoration The book critically explores these fulfilling experiences from interdisciplinary perspectives and includes research studies from wide range of geographical regions By analysing the contemporary fulfilling tourist experiences the book will provide further understanding of tourist behaviour and experience Written by leading academics this significant volume will appeal to those interested in Tourism and Untold Futures J.
