Robert Laird Borden Sir Robert Laird Borden,1938      Sir Robert Borden Martin Thornton,2011-04-19 Sir Robert Borden was Plenipotentiary of Canada at the Peace Conference With the Versailles Treaty ratified by the Canadian Parliament Borden largely believed his work was done He retired as Prime Minister in 1920 Although Borden died in 1937 the great legacy for Canada that derived from Borden s attitudes towards the role of the Dominions in international affairs was the drive towards a constitutional recognition of Canada s international position Canada s control of its own foreign policy was finally confirmed in a declaration by Arthur Balfour in 1926 and the Statute of Westminster in 1931 that created the British Commonwealth of Nations Borden helped to produce a Canada with an autonomous and independent foreign policy the seeds of this work led to the growth of a vigorous foreign policy for Canada within a United Nations and its specialised agencies

Canadian Magazine of Politics, Science, Art and Literature ,1922      Debates of the Senate Canada. Parliament. Senate,1920      No Free Man Bohdan S. Kordan,2016-09-01 Approximately 8 000 Canadian civilians were imprisoned during the First World War because of their ethnic ties to Germany Austria Hungary and other enemy nations Although not as well known as the later internments of Japanese Canadians during the Second World War these incarcerations played a crucial role in shaping debates about Canadian citizenship diversity and loyalty Tracing the evolution and consequences of Canadian government policy towards immigrants of enemy nationality No Free Man is a nuanced work that acknowledges both the challenges faced by the Government of Canada as well as the experiences of internees and their families Bohdan Kordan gives particular attention to the ways in which the political and legal status of enemy subjects configured the policy and practice of internment and how this process magnified by the challenges of the war affected the broader concerns of public order and national security Placing the issue of internment within the wider context of community and belonging Kordan further delves into the ways that wartime turbulence and anxieties shaped public attitudes towards the treatment of enemy aliens He concludes that Canada s leadership failed to protect immigrants of enemy origin during a period of intense suspicion conflict and crisis Framed by questions about government rights responsibilities and obligations and based on extensive archival research No Free Man provides a systematic and thoughtful account of Canadian government policy towards enemy aliens during the First World War      The Order of Canada Christopher McCreery,2005-01-01 In 1966 a project to create a national honour for Canadians was begun The first recipients of the Order of Canada were announced a year later and in the nearly forty years since the Order has become a symbol familiar to and respected by people from across the country The spirit that motivates the Order of Canada celebration inclusion and democracy was born of the memories of Canada s earlier experience with honours From initial distrust and misunderstanding to the awakening of a national identity the development of the Order reflects the relationship Canadians have with their country their government their culture and their heroes The Order itself is a product of national identity politics and history reflected by the significance of its recipients accomplishments Indeed the Order s history is as fascinating as the more than 4000 Canadians who have received it This first book length history of the Order of Canada and first major work on Canadian honours by Christopher McCreery is a celebration of the Order and a close examination of its unique design and various early incarnations McCreery provides both a history of the Order s beginnings and a more general overview of trends in Canadian honours Extensively illustrated with never before published photographs The Order of Canada Its Origins History and Developments pays tribute to the individuals who felt the need for a system of recognition for Canadians
