The Making of the Inclusive School Gary Thomas, David Walker, Julie Webb, 2006-04-19 Inclusion is a buzzword of the 1990s Politicians now stress their commitment to inclusion and social justice not competition For schools inclusion means accepting and educating all children irrespective of their difficulties The new inclusive mood is about including everyone in society s institutions It has created a growing demand for schools to find effective ways of including and teaching all children even those who at one time would have been sent to special schools The book combines a theoretical examination of inclusion and its rationale with the story of a group of schools in which teachers assistants and children have striven to make inclusion happen This new book explores the arguments for inclusive schools examines the international evidence about children s well being and academic progress in inclusive schools describes how the pioneers have developed their practice for inclusion presents the findings of an in depth 18 month study of a group of schools which have striven to make inclusion happen

M. Gargiulo,Richard M. Gargiulo - Professor Emeritus,Emily C. Bouck,2019-12-05

Special Education in Contemporary Society An Introduction to Exceptionality offers a comprehensive engaging and readable introduction to the dynamic field of special education Grounded in research and updated to reflect the most current thinking and standards of the field this book provides students with the knowledge skills attitudes and beliefs that are crucial to constructing learning environments that allow all students to reach their full potential Authors Richard M Gargiulo and Emily C Bouck encourage a deep awareness and understanding of the human side of special education providing students with a look into the lives of exceptional students and their families as well as the teachers that work with exceptional persons throughout their lives The Seventh Edition maintains the broad context and research focus for which the book is known while expanding on current trends and contemporary issues to better serve both pre service and in service teachers of exceptional individuals This title is accompanied by a complete teaching and learning package Widening the Circle Mara Sapon-Shevin,2007-03-15

Widening the Circle is a passionate even radical argument for creating school and classroom environments where all kids including children labeled as disabled and special needs are welcome on equal terms In opposition to traditional models of special education where teachers decide when a child is deemed ready to compete in mainstream classes Mara Sapon Shevin articulates a vision of full inclusion as a practical and moral goal Inclusion she argues begins not with the assumption that students have to earn their way into the classroom with their behavior or skills it begins with the right of every child to be in the mainstream of education perhaps with modifications adaptations and support Full inclusion requires teachers to think about all aspects of their classrooms pedagogy curriculum and classroom climate Crucially Sapon Shevin takes on arguments against full inclusion in a section of straight talking answers to common questions She agrees with critics that the rhetoric of inclusion has been used to justify eliminating services and dumping students with significant educational needs unceremoniously back into the mainstream with little or no support If full inclusion is properly implemented however she argues it not only clearly benefits those traditionally excluded but enhances the educations and lives of those considered mainstream in myriad ways Through powerful storytelling and argument Sapon Shevin lays out the moral and educational case for not separating kids on the basis of difference Nordic-Chinese Intersections within Education Haiqin Liu,Fred Dervin,Xiangyun Du,2019-11-12 This book examines how the two educational systems of China and the Nordic countries intersect Over the past decade there has been increased growth and interaction between China and the Nordic countries due to both government encouragement and academic curiosity This book rejects a simplistic approach that presents both spaces as culturally uniform confronting East and West entities and suggests a comparative and contrastive approach that is critical and reflexive in both theory and methodology This does not solely concentrate on difference but emphasises similarities including studies on philosophical conceptual and methodological issues This nuanced edited collection will appeal to students and scholars of Nordic and Chinese education as well as globalisation and interculturality Including Children 3-11 With Physical Disabilities Mark Fox,2013-08-21 A guide to help teachers successfully include children with physical disabilities in mainstream classrooms Topics covered include planning for inclusion understanding different kinds of physical disabilities managing teachers and parents expectations and organising the classroom This is a guide to help teachers successfully include children with physical disabilities in mainstream classrooms The book looks at planning for inclusion understanding different kinds of physical disabilities managing teachers and parents expectations organising the classroom liaising with other professionals considering the emotional and social aspects of inclusion and running related exercises and activities as part of in service training Early years and primary teachers SENCOs teaching assistants parents of children with a physical disability and other education professionals should find it helpful and informative Special Education for Young Learners with Disabilities Festus E. Obiakor,Jeffrey P. Bakken,2019-01-07 This volume looks at current and future innovations in teaching young learners with disabilities It covers physical disabilities learning disabilities and emotional and behavioral disorders

Making Education Inclusive Sharon Moonsamy,Elizabeth Walton,2015-09-18 Exclusionary pressures and practices are pervasive in education despite the clamour for more inclusive education Even as classrooms worldwide become more diverse education is unlikely to become inclusive without deliberate efforts to dismantle exclusion and enable inclusion This book is a compilation of contributions to the conversation about what these efforts might entail The conversation has its origins in the Making Education Inclusive Conference held in 2013 which brought together academics and practitioners from Southern Africa and other countries Given the expectation that teachers should play a key role in promoting inclusion it is not surprising to find significant interest in teacher education from many of the contributing authors Their concerns range from explicit teacher development for pedagogical responsiveness to learner diversity to overcoming the epistemological marginalisation that learners experience where teachers are not fully confident of their subject content and how to teach it

Access to education is clearly not enough and other contributors to this book concern themselves with ways in which structures and systems could be reconstituted to enable meaningful inclusion This might mean looking at how teachers might use tiered systems of behaviour support and various metacognitive strategies how physical access can be promoted on a university campus and understanding how parents think about disability Each chapter represents a different perspective on what it might mean to resist educational exclusion in its many forms and each offers possible ways to make education more inclusive

Creating Psychologically Healthy Workplaces Ronald J. Burke, Astrid M. Richardsen, 2019 Workplaces can often be sources of stress interfering with both job satisfaction and performance This book explores ways to combat the factors contributing to an unhealthy workplace by building on the advances in positive psychology and organizational scholarship over the last 15 years

Leadership for Inclusive Schools Steven Ray Sider, Kimberly Maich, 2022-01-31 This book supports the professional learning of school principals and those who aspire to be such in development of their skills and knowledge around fostering inclusive schools for students with special education needs The book includes 27 case stories that are based on research with school principals Each case includes expert commentaries and resources to support principals and emerging leaders as they consider how to effectively support students with special education needs in inclusive schools Its premise is based on the recognition that there are increasing numbers of students with disabilities and special education needs in neighbourhood schools Principals need to develop new competencies to navigate the challenges and benefits of including students with special education needs into inclusive classroom settings The book provides opportunities to build leadership competencies by considering a diversity of cases related to inclusive leadership The cases in the book are divided among nine sections addressing the following areas transitions early years elementary school cases secondary school cases community supports school board district supports school teams complex cases and cases specific to new teachers Seven cross cutting themes are addressed in these cases including communication parents caregivers agency efficacy collaboration relationships trust legal and advocacy
