A Reflexive Reading of Urban Space Mona A. Abdelwahab,2018-02-13 Providing a critique of the concepts attached to the representation of urban space this ground breaking book formulates a new theory of space which understands the dynamic interrelations between physical and social spaces while tracing the wider urban context It offers a new tool to approach the reading of these interrelations through reflexive reading strategies that identify singular reading fragments of the different spaces through multiple reader time space relations The strategies proposed in the volume seek to develop an integrative reading of urban space through recognition of the singular influenced by discourse institution etc and temporal influenced by reading perspective in space and time thereby providing a relational perspective that goes beyond the paradox of place in between social and physical space identifying each in terms of relationships oscillating between the conceptual the physical and social content and the context In conclusion the book suggests that space place can be read through sequential fragments of people place context mind and author reader Operating at different scales between conceptual space and reality the sequential reading helps the recognition of multiplicity and the dynamics of place as a transformational process without hierarchy or classification      Understanding Public Administration Michiel S. de Vries,2016-04-08 Public administration the practice of producing and executing government policy by bureaucrats politicians managers and other officials affects almost everything we encounter in our day to day lives Public administrators are at least partially responsible for the amount of hours we work the quality of the air we breathe the ease with which we can visit the doctor and the state of the roads we walk and drive down Despite the widespread relevance of public administration however the relative amount of government influence on society differs across the world This major new introduction examines public administration structures processes and achievements and the behavior and motivations of the administrators themselves Internationally relevant and analyzing states at a range of different developmental stages it examines the key themes and issues that dominate the field Chapters are framed around a series of questions that determine the typical and the unusual features of governments For example focus is given to what makes for a stable government the different definitions of management possible solutions to corruption the relationship between central and local governments as well as the formal strategies for policy development The book draws extensively on core theory in the field and makes critical links between public administration and economics law sociology and the wider subject of political science As accessible for students as it is useful for practitioners looking for a comprehensive reference guide this is an essential text for those who wish to understand the complexities of government and public administration from the inside out      Using Social Science to Understand and Improve Wildland Fire Organizations

Gregory Larson, 2007 The wildland fire community has spent the past decade trying to understand and account for the role of human factors in wildland fire organizations Social research that is relevant to managing fire organizations can be found in disciplines such as social psychology management and communication However such research has been published primarily for scientific and business audiences and much of the fire community has not been exposed to it Here we have compiled and organized knowledge from a variety of social science disciplines so that it can be used to improve organizational practices related to firefighter and public safety to assess the effectiveness of safety campaigns and to improve firefighter safety trainings This annotated reading list summarizes approximately 270 books articles and online resources that address scientific and management concepts helpful for understanding the human side of fire management The first section Human Factors and Firefighting introduces readers to key workshops and writings that led to the recognition that human factors are prime ingredients of firefighter safety The second section Foundations for Understanding Organizations consists of social science research that provides a foundation for understanding organizational dynamics This section includes readings on decision making and sensemaking organizational culture identification and identity leadership and change organizational learning and teams and crews The third section Understanding Organizations in High Risk Contexts explores organizations that deal regularly with risk uncertainty and crisis This section includes readings on risk and uncertainty high reliability organizing and crisis communication The publication concludes with Internet resources available for those interested in the management of fire organizations
