Making Ends Meet Incomegenerating Strategies Among Mexican Immigrants:

Making Ends Meet Socorro Torres Sarmiento,2002 Using ethnographic interviews Sarmiento studies how globalization affects ordinary Mexican American immigrants shaping their families and daily lives Even as families are divided by borders they try to remain cohesive units Globalization challenges immigrants to restructure their families gender roles and even their political boundaries The unstable working conditions of immigrant men are decisive for the form in which families organize their income generating strategies However women are key to the family economy in that they subsidize low wages through paid and unpaid work on both sides of the border

Immigrant Women Workers in the Neoliberal Age Nilda Flores-Gonzalez,Anna Romina Guevarra,Maura

Toro-Morn,Grace Chang,2013-07-01 To date most research on immigrant women and labor forces has focused on the participation of immigrant women on formal labor markets In this study contributors focus on informal economies such as health care domestic work street vending and the garment industry where displaced and undocumented women are more likely to work Because such informal labor markets are unregulated many of these workers face abusive working conditions that are not reported for fear of job loss or deportation In examining the complex dynamics of how immigrant women navigate political and economic uncertainties this collection highlights the important role of citizenship status in defining immigrant women s opportunities wages and labor conditions Contributors are Pallavi Banerjee Grace Chang Margaret M Chin Jennifer Jihye Chun Hector R Cordero Guzmán Emir Estrada Lucy Fisher Nilda Flores González Ruth Gomberg Muñoz Anna Romina Guevarra Shobha Hamal Gurung Pierrette Hondagneu Sotelo María de la Luz Ibarra Miliann Kang George Lipsitz Lolita Andrada Lledo Lorena Muñoz Bandana Purkayastha Mary Romero Young Shin Michelle Tellez and Maura Toro Morn

The Xaripu Community across Borders Manuel Barajas,2009-04-17 During the past three decades there have been many studies of transnational migration Most of the scholarship has focused on one side of the border one area of labor incorporation one generation of migrants and one gender In this path breaking book Manuel Barajas presents the first cross national comparative study to examine a Mexican origin community s experience with international migration and transnationalism He presents an extended case study of the Xaripu community with home bases in both Xaripu Michoacán and Stockton California and elaborates how various forms of colonialism institutional biases and emergent forms of domination have shaped Xaripu labor migration community formation and family experiences across the Mexican U S border for over a century Of special interest are Barajas s formal and informal interviews within the community his examination of oral histories and his participant observation in several locations Barajas asks What historical events have shaped the Xaripus migration experiences How have Xaripus been incorporated into the U S labor market How have national inequalities affected their ability to form a community across borders And how have migration settlement and employment experiences affected the family especially gender relationships on both sides of the border The New Latino Studies Reader Ramon A. Gutierrez,2016-08-23 The New Latino Studies Reader is designed as a contemporary updated multifaceted collection of writings that bring to force the exciting necessary scholarship of the last decades Its aim is to introduce a new generation of students to a wide ranging set of essays that helps them gain a truer understanding of what it s like to be a Latino in the United States With the reader students explore the sociohistorical formation of Latinos as a distinct panethnic group in the United States delving into issues of class formation social stratification racial gender and sexual identities and politics and cultural production And while other readers now in print may discuss Mexican Americans Puerto Ricans Cubans and Central Americans as distinct groups with unique experiences this text explores both the commonalities and the differences that structure the experiences of Latino Americans Timely thorough and thought provoking The New Latino Studies Reader provides a genuine view of the Latino experience as a whole Street Vending in the Neoliberal City Kristina Graaff,Noa Ha,2015-10-01 Examining street vending as a global urban and informalized practice found both in the Global North and Global South this volume presents contributions from international scholars working in cities as diverse as Berlin Dhaka New York City Los Angeles Calcutta Rio de Janeiro and Mexico City The aim of this global approach is to repudiate the assumption that street vending is usually carried out in the Southern hemisphere and to reveal how it also represents an essential and constantly growing economic practice in urban centers of the Global North Although street vending activities vary due to local specificities this anthology illustrates how these urban practices can also reveal global ties and developments

Janitors, Street Vendors, and Activists Christian Zolniski,2006 This book exposes the underbelly of California s Silicon Valley the most successful high technology region in the world in a vivid ethnographic study of Mexican immigrants employed in Silicon Valley s low wage jobs The author demonstrates how global forces have incorporated these workers as an integral part of the economy through subcontracting and other flexible labor practices and explores how these labor practices have in turn affected working conditions and workers daily lives These immigrants do not emerge merely as victims of a harsh economy despite the obstacles they face they are transforming labor and community politics infusing new blood into labor unions and challenging exclusionary notions of civic and political membership Research Methods in Anthropology H. Russell Bernard,2017-11-17 Research Methods in Anthropology is the standard textbook for methods classes in anthropology Written in Russ Bernard s unmistakable conversational style this guide has launched tens of thousands of students into the fieldwork enterprise with a combination of rigorous methodology wry humor and commonsense advice

Whether you are coming from a scientific interpretive or applied anthropological tradition you will learn field methods from the best guide in both qualitative and quantitative methods Understanding Commodity Cultures Scott Cook, 2004 In this overview of economic anthropology studies of Mexico Guatemala Scott Cook argues that because Mesoamerican societies have long been involved in production for exchange they must be understood as commodity cultures where individuals pursue their own self interest Kids at Work Emir Estrada, 2019-07-16 A groundbreaking book uncovers the indispensable role that children play as co contributors to the household economy of our most vulnerable families Zulema Valdez author of Entrepreneurs and the Search for the American Dream Street food markets have become wildly popular in Los Angeles and behind the scenes Latinx children have been instrumental in making these small informal businesses grow In Kids at Work Emir Estrada shines a light on the surprising labor of these young workers providing the first ethnography on the participation of Latinx children in street vending Drawing on dozens of interviews with children and their undocumented parents as well as three years spent on the streets shadowing families at work Estrada brings attention to the unique set of hardships Latinx youth experience in this occupation She also highlights how these hardships can serve to cement family bonds develop empathy towards parents encourage hard work and support children and their parents in their efforts to make a living together in the United States Kids at Work provides a compassionate up close portrait of Latinx children detailing the complexities and nuances of family relations when children help generate income for the household as they peddle the streets of LA alongside their immigrant parents In the children s own voices we learn about their economic contributions their lives and aspirations but also from them about immigrant entrepreneurship the complex dynamics in immigrant families and childhood in general Cecilia Menjivar co author of Immigrant Families Written clearly and accessibly this book offers an essential framework from which to critically examine Latinx childhood family labor immigration and community Choice Winner Outstanding Scholarly Contribution Award given by the Children and Youth Section of the American Sociological Association Working in America Amy S. Wharton, 2015-11-17 The Great Recession brought rising inequality and changing family economies New technologies continued to move jobs overseas including those held by middle class information workers The first new edition to capture these historic changes this book is the leading text in the sociology of work and related research fields Wharton s readings retain the classics but offer a new spectrum of articles accessible to undergraduate students that focus on the changes that will most affect their lives New to the fourth edition Mexican Migrants and Their Parental Households in Mexico Paula Fomby, 2005 Annotation Fomby explores how U S bound migrants participate in systems of intergenerational exchange with their families remaining in Mexico Taking the perspective of migrants as adult children in their families of origin she considers the factors associated with inception of migration careers and asks how migration by selected children affects the social and economic organization of the parental household Fomby s review of theoretical and empirical research shows that the dominant focus on male labor migration overlooks how migrants continue to relate to and influence parents and siblings She shows that migrant sending parental households in Mexico are distinctive in their composition and that migrants continue to make significant economic contributions from abroad The Remittance Behavior of Immigrant Households Elizabeth M. Grieco,2003 Annotation Questioning the given that remittances money sent home by immigrants inevitably decline Grieco Migration Policy Institute Washington DC applies migrant network theory and theories of social capital and the strength of social ties to examine remittance behavior of Micronesian immigrants in Guam and Hawaii The analysis of data is designed to shed light on the influence of time family reunification migration network participation and influence of non migrants on remittance behavior The data is derived from the Census of Micronesian Migrants to Guam and Hawaii Annotation c 2003 Book News Inc Portland OR booknews com

Immigrant Children and the Politics of English-only Tom Stritikus,2002 Annotation Stritikus education U of Washington presents the case of one California school district s experience with the changes in bilingual education policy brought about by Proposition 227 His ethnographic study focuses on four teachers in two schools in a rural district and seeks to understand the nature of teachers work in an out of classroom literacy contexts in the new policy environment created by Proposition 227 The author examines how teachers work influences the nature of Proposition 227 as a reform strategy and several factors that contribute to the connection between policy and practice He concludes with possible implications of the findings for the understanding of language policy and the education of culturally and linguistically diverse students Annotation c Book News Inc Portland OR booknews com Brazilian Immigrants in the United States Bernadete Beserra,2003

School Craig Centrie,2004 Educational Attainment in Immigrant Families Gabriella Gonzalez,2005 Beyond the Immigrant Enclave Susan K. Wierzbicki,Susan K. Brown (Sociologist),2004 Immigrant communities even poor ones are often portrayed as solidary and supportive Wierzbicki examines the presence and homogeneity of ties among the foreign and native born of different ethnic groups She finds that the foreign born consistently report fewer ties than the native born in part because of less education or shorter duration of residence The foreign born also have more ethnically homogeneous ties even when they live outside enclaves and in wealthier areas This finding has implications for theories of assimilation or incorporation For lack of network data previous examination of assimilation has often relied on patterns of residential settlement rather than actual social ties This study indicates that the foreign born may assimilate spatially but not socially

Culture, Class, and Work Among Arab-American Women Jen'nan Ghazal Read,2004 Drawing on US Census data and a national poll of ethnic groups to situate Arab American women in a broader immigrant context Read sociology U of California
