Making Facts Come Alive Choosing Quality Nonfiction Literature K8:

Making Facts Come Alive Rosemary A. Bamford, Janice V. Kristo, 1998 Handbook of Research on Children's and Young Adult Literature Shelby Wolf, Karen Coats, Patricia Enciso, Christine Jenkins, 2011-04-27 This landmark volume is the first to bring together leading scholarship on children's and young adult literature from three intersecting disciplines: Education, English, and Library and Information Science. Distinguished by its multidisciplinary approach, it describes and analyzes the different aspects of literary reading texts and contexts to illuminate how the book is transformed within and across different academic figurations of reading and interpreting children's literature. Part one considers perspectives on readers and reading literature in home, school, library, and community settings. Part two introduces analytic frames for studying young adult novels, picturebooks, indigenous literature, graphic novels, and other genres. Chapters include commentary on literary experiences and creative production from renowned authors and illustrators. Part three focuses on the social contexts of literary study with chapters on censorship, awards, marketing, and literary museums. The singular contribution of this Handbook is to lay the groundwork for colleagues across disciplines to redraw the map of their separately figured worlds, thus to enlarge the scope of scholarship and dialogue as well as push ahead into uncharted territory.

"They're All Writers" Jennifer Sanders, Rebecca L. Damron, 2017 They're All Writers will help teachers explore the power of writing centers. In elementary school classrooms across the country, writing instruction, not grammar worksheets or spelling drills, is still the neglected R. In this book, classroom teachers will find foundational information about the writing process with everything they need to begin and facilitate a peer tutoring writing center. Student-led writing centers harness the social and instructional power of students working and learning together, and this book includes specific lessons to teach students how to be effective peer tutors and how to be better writers. Book Features: A new research-based approach to writing pedagogy that integrates both writing process theories and writing center pedagogies. Complete lesson plans to help teachers implement a writing center curriculum that meets Common Core and other quality standards. An approach that harnesses the power of social learning, develops students as leaders in their schools, and facilitates generative conversations around writing.

Good Books Matter Larry Swartz, Debbie Nyman, 2008 Based on extensive research on the features that make children's books appealing and appropriate, this valuable teacher resource offers guidance on selecting books, strategies for specific grade levels, suggestions for extension, and tips for assessment. This teacher-friendly book is organized around the major genres: traditional literature, picture books, nonfiction, poetry, and multicultural texts that will inspire young readers. Throughout the book, teachers will find suggestions for using literature to implement shared reading, reading aloud, and response strategies with emergent, developing, and independent readers. This comprehensive book is rooted in the belief that educators must consider and offer a wide range of choice to ensure that students read good books. It argues that the choices children make about what they read should be governed by their interests and desire to learn, not by a grade or reading level Making Nonfiction and Other Informational Texts Come Alive Kathy Pike, Jean Mumper, 2004 Offering a fresh approach this much needed text mirrors the features that are traditionally found in nonfiction texts illustrations diagrams insets boxed materials to help clarify and explain the concepts being presented This is a perfect complement to reading methods courses which includes a wealth of nonfiction titles that teachers can readily use effectively in a balanced literacy program Packed with ideas and suggestions for the classroom Pike and Mumper offer everything one needs to know in order to use nonfiction texts in the classroom from using them in literature circles and as models for writing or for research purposes Publisher s description Resources in Education ,1998 Conversations Regie Routman,2000 In this long awaited volume Regie Routman continues the discussion she began in the best selling Invitations and further explores the full universe of an effective language arts and literacy program across the curriculum Doing History Linda S. Levstik, Keith C. Barton, 2015-01-30 Now in its fifth edition Doing History offers a unique perspective on teaching and learning history in the elementary and middle grades Through case studies of teachers and students in diverse classrooms and from diverse backgrounds it shows children engaging in authentic historical investigations often in the context of an integrated social studies curriculum The premise is that children can engage in valid forms of historical inquiry collecting and analyzing data examining the perspectives of people in the past considering multiple interpretations and creating evidence based historical accounts Grounded in contemporary sociocultural theory and research the text features vignettes in each chapter showing communities of teachers and students doing history in environments rich in literature art writing discussion and debate The authors explain how the teaching demonstrated in the vignettes reflects basic principles of contemporary learning theory Doing History emphasizes diversity of perspectives in two ways readers encounter students from a variety of backgrounds and students themselves look at history from multiple perspectives It provides clear guidance in using multiple forms of assessment to evaluate the specifically historical aspects of children s learning The Texts in Elementary Classrooms James V. Hoffman, Diane Lemonnier Schallert, 2004-09-22 This volume explores a variety of topics including texts in the teaching and learning of reading word identification and text characteristics choosing fiction to support young children s literacy development electronic text in the classroom and issues surrounding text selection Children's Literature in Action Sylvia M. Vardell, 2019-06-14 This practitioner oriented introduction to literature for children ages 5-12 covers the latest trends titles and tools for choosing the best books and materials as well as for planning fun and effective programs and activities The third edition of Children's Literature in Action provides an activity oriented survey of children s literature for undergraduate and graduate students seeking licensure and degrees that will lead to careers working with children in schools and public libraries Author Sylvia M Vardell draws on her 30 years of university teaching and extensive familiarity with the major textbooks in the area of children s literature to deliver something different a book that focuses specifically on the perspective and needs of the librarian with emphasis on practical action and library applications Its contents address seven major genres picture books traditional tales poetry contemporary realistic fiction historical fiction fantasy and informational books Each chapter includes practical applications for the educator who shares books with children and who develops literature based instruction Chapters are enriched by author comments collaborative activities featured books special topics and activities including selected awards and celebrations historical connections recommended resources issues for discussion and assignment suggestions This new edition incorporates the 2018 AASL National School Library Standards

Children's Literature Diana Mitchell, Pamela Waterbury, Rose Casement, 2003 Children's Literature An Invitation to the World is written and organized in a manner that engages the readers and that will instill confidence in teachers when selecting and using literature in their teaching Readers are asked to take a world view of literature what it is how to recognize one's own how to recognize an author's and encouraged to see children's literature through a lens that includes people not like themselves The book tackles tough issues such as gender and racial bias and how they can be insidiously promoted in literature No other book on the market engages readers more than this one Rather than just presenting topics the book asks What can we learn from them In addition the first person narrative involves readers in the discussion rather than simply presenting content to them Elementary and middle school teachers curriculum developers and anyone interested in children's literature

5 Kinds of Nonfiction Melissa Stewart, Marlene Correia, 2023-10-10 Once upon a time children's nonfiction books were stodgy concise and not very kid friendly Most were text heavy with just a few scattered images decorating the content and meaning rather than enhancing it Over the last 20 years children's nonfiction has evolved into a new breed of visually dynamic and engaging texts In 5 Kinds of Nonfiction Enriching Reading and Writing Instruction with Children's Books Melissa Stewart and Dr Marlene Correia present a new way to sort nonfiction into five major categories and show how doing so can help teachers and librarians build stronger readers and writers Along the way they introduce the 5 kinds of nonfiction Active Browseable Traditional Expository Literature and Narrative and explore each category through discussions classroom examples and insights from leading children's book authors Offer tips for building strong diverse classroom texts and library collections Provide more than 20 activities to enhance literacy instruction Include innovative strategies for sharing and celebrating nonfiction with students With more than 150 exemplary nonfiction book recommendations and Stewart and Correia's extensive knowledge of literacy instruction 5 Kinds of Nonfiction will elevate your understanding of nonfiction in ways that speak specifically to the info kids in your classrooms but will inspire all readers and writers

Living Literature Wendy C. Kasten, Janice V. Kristo, Amy A. McClure, Abigail Garthwait, 2005 This is the ideal book to help prospective teachers improve children's reading and language arts skills and instill in them a genuine and lasting love of reading The book demonstrates numerous ways to integrate literature into the daily fabric of classroom life Following a solid grounding in the basics every reading teacher needs individual chapters explore genres of children's literature and teaching strategies specific to each genre Then the authors examine currently accepted effective practices for engaging young readers in hands on reading in a way that fosters a love of literature that will last a lifetime Early childhood and elementary education literature and language arts teachers The New Advocate ,1999 Handbook of Research on Teaching Literacy Through the Communicative and Visual Arts, Volume II James Flood, Shirley Brice Heath, Diane Lapp, 2015-04-22 The Handbook of Research on Teaching Literacy Through the Communicative and Visual Arts Volume II brings together state of the art research and practice on the evolving view of literacy as encompassing not only reading writing speaking and listening but also the multiple ways through which learners gain access to knowledge and skills It forefronts as central to literacy education the visual communicative and performative arts and the extent to which all of the technologies that have vastly expanded the meanings and uses of literacy originate and evolve through the skills and interests of the young A project of the International Reading Association published and distributed by Routledge Taylor Francis Visit <http://www.reading.org> for more information about International Reading Association books membership and other services Teaching for Historical Literacy Matthew T. Downey, Kelly A. Long, 2015-07-30 Teaching for Historical Literacy combines the elements of historical literacy into a coherent instructional framework for teachers It identifies the role of historical literacy analyzes its importance in the evolving educational landscape and details the action steps necessary for teachers to implement its principles throughout a unit These steps are drawn from the reflections of real teachers grounded in educational research and consistent with the Common Core State Standards The instructional arc formed by authors Matthew T Downey and Kelly A Long takes teachers from start to finish from managing the prior learning of students to developing their metacognition and creating synthesis at the end of a unit of study It includes introducing topics by creating a conceptual overview helping students collect and analyze evidence and engaging students in multiple kinds of learning including factual procedural conceptual and metacognitive This book is a must have resource for teachers and students of teaching interested in improving their instructional skills building historical literacy and being at the forefront of the evolving field of history education Science with Storytelling Jane Stenson, Sherry Norfolk, Lynette J. Ford, 2017-02-06 This book is about the intersection of storytelling and science Recognizing that humans are hard wired for narrative this collection of new essays integrates the two in a special way to teach science in the K 6 classroom As science education changes its focus to concepts that bridge various disciplines along with science and engineering practices storytelling offers opportunities to enhance the science classroom Lesson plans are provided each presenting a story its alignment with science Next Generation Science Standards language arts Common Core State Standards and theater arts standards National Core Arts Standards Instructional plans include a rationale preparation activities and assessment Literature Circle Role Sheets (eBook) Christine Boardman Moen, 1998-03-01 These ready to use reproducible role sheets make literature circle discussions exciting informative fun and easy to manage Literature circles accommodate a wide variety of reading levels and allow for differentiated instruction In addition to promoting reading writing and listening skills literature circles encourage cooperation and courtesy allow for individual assessment and motivate students to read Updated list of books for text sets and end of book projects suggestions included Descriptions of how to get started troubleshoot problems and assess have been expanded Literate Lives Amy Seely Flint, 2007-11-09 Literate Lives Teaching Reading and Writing in Elementary Classrooms invites readers to consider the complexities of the reading process in diverse settings The text is designed to meet the challenges and needs of undergraduate and graduate teacher candidates in elementary education programs helping them to have a better first year in the classroom experience The text introduces teacher candidates to the notion that reading is a complex multi layered process that begins early in a child's life Reading by all accounts is more than decoding symbols on a page While this is one component of the reading process it is important for teacher candidates to see a broader more complete picture of reading Given the role that reading plays in the elementary school curriculum it is imperative that teachers have a well developed understanding of the reading process and what it means to be a teacher of readers Literate Lives Teaching Reading and Writing in the Elementary Classroom covers the major theories and application strategies of the reading process as well as current debates in the field using a unique framework that builds upon the following themes believing that literacy is based in social cultural and historical contexts assuming an inquiry stance being problem posers and wondering why using kidwatching Goodman 1985 as an assessment tool to make informed instructional decisions recognizing and using the multiple literacies that children bring to the classroom lingering and reflecting on one's decisions in light of what one knows and believes
