Making Of A Nation

Hubert Clinton Herring

Making Of A Nation:

The Making of the Nation, 1783-1817 Francis Amasa Walker, 1897 Australia: the Making of a Nation John Foster Fraser, 1910 Mexico; the Making of a Nation Hubert Clinton Herring, 1942 The Making of the English Nation (B.C. 55-1135 A.D.) Sir Charles Grant Robertson, 1906 Making Race and Nation Anthony W. Marx, 1998-10-28 Why and how has race become a central aspect of politics during this century This book addresses this pressing question by comparing South African apartheid and resistance to it the United States Jim Crow law and protests against it and the myth of racial democracy in Brazil Anthony Marx argues that these divergent experiences had roots in the history of slavery colonialism miscegenation and culture but were fundamentally shaped by impediments and efforts to build national unity In South Africa and the United States ethnic or regional conflicts among whites were resolved by unifying whites and excluding blacks while Brazil s longer established national unity required no such legal racial crutch Race was thus central to projects of nation building and nationalism shaped uses of race Professor Marx extends this argument to explain popular protest and the current salience of issues of race Political Culture and the Making of Modern Nation-States Edward Weisband, Courtney I P Thomas, 2015-11-17 This book focuses on transformations of political culture from times past to future present It defines the meaning of political culture and explores the cultural values and institutions of kinship communities and dynastic intermediaries including chiefdoms and early states It systematically examines the rise and gradual universalization of modern sovereign nation states Contemporary debates concerning nationality nationalism citizenship and hyphenated identities are engaged The authors recount the making of political culture in the American nation state and look at the processes of internal colonialism in the American experience examining how major ethnic sectarian racial and other distinctions arose and congealed into social and cultural categories The book concludes with a study of the Holocaust genocide crimes against humanity and the political cultures of violation in post colonial Rwanda and in racialized ethno political conflicts in various parts of the world Struggles over legitimacy in nation building and state building are at the heart of this new take on the important role of political culture Natives Making Nation Andrew Canessa, 2011-08-01 In Bolivia today the ability to speak an indigenous language is highly valued among educated urbanites as a useful job skill but a rural person who speaks a native language is branded with lower social status Likewise chewing coca in the countryside spells inferior indian but in La Paz jazz bars it s decidedly cool In the Andes and elsewhere the commodification of indianness has impacted urban lifestyles as people co opt indigenous cultures for qualities that emphasize the uniqueness of their national culture This volume looks at how metropolitan ideas of nation employed by politicians the media and education are produced reproduced and contested by people of the rural Andes people who have long been regarded as ethnically and racially distinct from more culturally European urban citizens Yet these peripheral natives are shown to be actively engaged with the idea of the nation in their own communities forcing us to re think the ways in which indigeneity is defined by its marginality

The contributors examine the ways in which numerous identities racial generational ethnic regional national gender and sexual are both mutually informing and contradictory among subaltern Andean people who are more likely now to claim an allegiance to a nation than ever before Although indians are less often confronted with crude assimilationist policies they continue to face racism and discrimination as they struggle to assert an identity that is more than a mere refraction of the dominant culture Yet despite the language of multiculturalism employed even in constitutional reform any assertion of indian identity is likely to be resisted By exploring topics as varied as nation building in the 1930s or the chuqila dance these authors expose a paradox in the relation between indians and the nation that the nation can be claimed as a source of power and distinct identity while simultaneously making some types of national imaginings unattainable Whether dancing together or simply talking to one another the people described in these essays are shown creating identity through processes that are inherently social and interactive To sing to eat to weave In the performance of these simple acts bodies move in particular spaces and contexts and do so within certain understandings of gender race and nation Through its presentation of this rich variety of ethnographic and historical contexts Natives Making Nation provides a finely nuanced view of contemporary Andean life The Making of a Nation H. Ng'weno,2008 The making of men Herbert George Wells,1921 American History James Alton James,Albert Hart Sanford,1912 Soviet Nation-Building in Central Asia Grigol Ubiria,2015-09-16 The demise of the Soviet Union in 1991 resulted in new state led nation building projects in Central Asia The emergence of independent republics spawned a renewed Western scholarly interest in the region s nationality issues Presenting a detailed study this book examines the state led nation building projects in the Soviet republics of Kazakhstan and Uzbekistan Exploring the degree forms and ways of the Soviet state involvement in creating Kazakh and Uzbek nations this book places the discussion within the theoretical literature on nationalism The author argues that both Kazakh and Uzbek nations are artificial constructs of Moscow based Soviet policy makers of the 1920s and 1930s This book challenges existing arguments in current scholarship by bringing some new and alternative insights into the role of indigenous Central Asian and Soviet officials in these nation building projects It goes on to critically examine post Soviet official Kazakh and Uzbek historiographies according to which Kazakh and Uzbek peoples had developed national collective identities and loyalties long before the Soviet era This book will be a useful contribution to Central Asian History and Politics as well as studies of Nationalism and Soviet Politics The Making of Modern Italy Arrigo Solmi,1925 The English Nation Percival Meadows,1916 The Nation ,1886 Epistemologies of African Conflicts Z. Wai,2012-12-05 This book offers a bold ground breaking epistemological critique of the dominant discourses on African conflicts Based on a painstaking study of the ways in which the Sierra Leone civil war has been interpreted it considers how Africa is constructed as a site of knowledge and the implications that this has for the continent and its people Conscript Nation Elizabeth Shesko,2020-05-12 Military service in Bolivia has long been compulsory for young men This service plays an important role in defining identity citizenship masculinity state formation and civil military relations in twentieth century Bolivia The project of obligatory military service originated as part of an attempt to restrict the power of indigenous communities after the 1899 civil war During the following century administrations from oligarchic to revolutionary expressed faith in the power of the barracks to assimilate shape and educate the population Drawing on a body of internal military records never before used by scholars Elizabeth Shesko argues that conscription evolved into a pact between the state and society It not only was imposed from above but was also embraced from below because it provided a space for Bolivians across divides of education ethnicity and social class to negotiate their relationships with each other and with the state Shesko contends that state formation built around military service has been characterized in Bolivia by multiple layers of negotiation and accommodation The resulting nation state was and is still hierarchical and divided by profound differences but it never was simply an assimilatory project It instead reflected a dialectical process to define the state and its relationships

Nation-States and Nationalisms Sinisa Malesevic, 2013-10-14 This innovative and concise book provides an in depth analysis of the processes involved in the emergence formation expansion and transformation of nation states and nationalisms as they are understood today The Commercial & Financial Chronicle ... ,1919 The PTA Magazine ,1919 From Empire to Nation State Yan Sun, 2020-09-17 Many scholars perceive ethnic politics in China as an untouchable topic due to lack of data and contentious even prohibitive politics This book fills a gap in the literature offering a historical political perspective on China s contemporary ethnic conflict Yan Sun accumulates research via field trips local reports and policy debates to reveal rare knowledge and findings Her long time causal chain of explanation reveals the roots of China s contemporary ethnic strife in the centralizing and ethnicizing strategies of its incomplete transition to a nation state strategies that depart sharply from its historical patterns of diverse and indirect rule This departure created the institutional dynamics for politicized identities and ethnic mobilization particularly in the outer regions of Tibet and Xinjiang In the 21st century such factors as the demise of socialist tenets and institutions that upheld interethnic solidarity and the rise of identity politics and developmentalism have intensified these built in tensions
