Making Place Making Self Travel Subjectivity And Sexual Difference:

Making Place, Making Self Inger Birkeland, 2017-03-02 Making Place Making Self explores new understandings of place and place making in late modernity covering key themes of place and space tourism and mobility sexual difference and subjectivity Using a series of individual life stories it develops a fascinating polyvocal account of leisure and life journeys These stories focus on journeys made to the North Cape in Norway the most northern point of mainland Europe which is both a tourist destination and an evocation of a reliable and secure point of reference an idea that gives meaning to an individual's life The theoretical core of the book draws on an interweaving of post Lacanian versions of feminist psychoanalytical thinking with phenomenological and existential thinking where place making is linked with self making and homecoming By combining such ground breaking theory with her innovative use of case studies Inger Birkeland here provides a major contribution to the fields of cultural geography tourism and feminist studies Travel Writing Carl Thompson, 2011-05-16 An increasingly popular genre addressing issues of empire colonialism post colonialism globalization gender and politics travel writing offers the reader a movement between the familiar and the unknown In this volume Carl Thompson introduces the genre outlining competing definitions and key debates provides a broad historical survey from the medieval period to the present day explores the autobiographical dimensions of the form looks at both men and women's travel writing surveying a range of canonical and more marginal works drawn from both the colonial and postcolonial era utilises both British and American travelogues to consider the genre's role in shaping the history of both nations Concise and practical Travel Writing is the ideal introduction for those new to the subject as well as a crucial overview of current debates in the field

Momentous Mobilities Noel B. Salazar, 2018-07-20 Grounded in scholarly analysis and personal reflection and drawing on a multi sited and multi method research design Momentous Mobilities disentangles the meanings attached to temporary travels and stays abroad and offers empirical evidence as well as novel theoretical arguments to develop an anthropology of mobility Both focusing specifically on how various societies and cultures imagine and value boundary crossing mobilities elsewhere and drawing heavily on his own European lifeworld the author examines momentous travels abroad in the context of education work and spiritual quests and the search for a better quality of life Arctic Modernities Heidi Hansson, Anka Ryall, 2018-01-23 Less tangible than melting polar glaciers or the changing social conditions in northern societies the modern Arctic represented in writings visual images and films has to a large extent been neglected in scholarship and policy making However the modern Arctic is not only a natural environment dramatically impacted by human activities It is also an incongruous amalgamation of exoticized indigenous tradition and a mundane everyday The chapters in this volume examine the modern Arctic from all these perspectives They demonstrate to what extent the processes of modernization have changed the discursive signification of the Arctic They also investigate the extent to which the traditions of heroic Arctic images whether these traditions are affirmed contested or repudiated have continued to shape influence and inform modern discourses Sometimes the Arctic is seen as synonymous with modernity itself Sometimes it appears as a utopian space signalling a different future However it still often represents the continued survival within modernity of the past as nostalgia longing dream and myth

In her innovative study of spatial locations in postcolonial texts Sara Upstone adopts a transnational and comparative approach that challenges the tendency to engage with authors in isolation or in relation to other writers from a single geographical setting Suggesting that isolating authors in terms of geography reinforces the primacy of the nation Upstone instead illuminates the power of spatial locales such as the journey city home and body to enable personal or communal statements of resistance against colonial prejudice and its neo colonial legacies While focusing on the major texts of Wilson Harris Toni Morrison and Salman Rushdie in relation to particular spatial locations Upstone offers a wide range of examples from other postcolonial authors including Michael Ondaatje Keri Hulme J M Coetzee Arundhati Roy Tsitsi Dangaremba and Abdulrazak Gurnah The result is a strong case for what Upstone terms the postcolonial spatial imagination independent of geography though always fully contextualised Written in accessible and unhurried prose Upstone's study is marked by its respect for the ways in which the writers themselves resist not only geographical boundaries but academic categorisation
