Margaret Atwood Conversations:

Margaret Atwood Margaret Atwood, 1990 Interviews with Atwood by other writers including Graeme Gibson Joyce Carol Oates Geoff Hancock Waltzing Again Margaret Atwood, 2006 I don't mind being interviewed any more than I mind Viennese waltzing that is my response will depend on the agility and grace and attitude and intelligence of the other person Some do it well some clumsily some step on your toes by accident and some aim for them Margaret Atwood This gathering of 21 interviews with Margaret Atwood covers a broad spectrum of topics Beginning with Graeme Gibson's Dissecting the Way a Writer Works 1972 the conversations provide a forum for Atwood to talk about her own work her career as a writer feminism and Canadian cultural nationalism and to refute the autobiographical fallacy These conversations offer what Earl Ingersoll calls a kind of biography of Margaret Atwood the only kind of biography she is likely to sanction Enlivened by Atwood's unfailing sense of humor the interviews present an invaluable view of a distinguished contemporary writer at work From the Interviews Let's not pretend that the interview will necessarily result in any absolute and blinding revelations Interviews too are an art form that is to say they indulge in the science of illusion I don't think you ever know how to write a book You never know ahead of time You start every time at zero A former success doesn't mean that you're not going to make the most colossal failure the next time Margaret Atwood J. Brooks Bouson, 2010-11-18 A collection of original essays by well-known Atwood scholars offering contemporary critical readings and assessments of three well-known Atwood texts

Margaret Atwood: Crime Fiction Writer Jackie Shead, 2016-05-13 Exploring how Margaret Atwood's fiction reimagines the figure of the detective and the nature of crime Jackie Shead shows how the author radically reworks the crime fiction genre Shead focuses on Surfacing Bodily Harm Alias Grace The Blind Assassin Oryx and Crake and selected short fiction showing the ways in which Atwood's protagonists are confronted by their own collusion in hegemonic assumptions and thus are motivated to investigate and expose crimes of gender class and colonialism Shead begins with a discussion of how Atwood s treatment of crime fiction s generic elements particularly those of the whodunit clue puzzle and spy thriller departs from convention Through discussion of Atwood s metafictional strategies Shead also examines Atwood s techniques for activating her readers as investigators who are offered an educative process parallel to that experienced by some of the author s protagonists This book also marks a significant intervention in an ongoing debate among Atwood critics that pits the author s postmodernism against her ethical and humanistic concerns Margaret Atwood Neeru & Anshul Chandra Tandon, Neeru Tandon, Anshul Chandra, 2009 Study on the novels of Margaret Atwood b 1939 Canadian litterateur

20th-century Authors Writing in English Stan A. Vrana, 1982 To find more information about Rowman and Littlefield titles please visit www.rowmanlittlefield.com Conversations with Dostoevsky George Pattison, 2024-02-13 Conversations with Dostoevsky presents a series of fictional conversations taking place between November 2018 and Spring 2019 in the narrator s Glasgow apartment and elsewhere in the city At the beginning of the conversations the narrator has been reading Dostoevsky s story A Gentle Spirit which concludes with a dramatic statement of protest atheism This statement suggests that love is not possible in a purely mechanical universe in which all living beings are condemned to death and ultimate extinction The conversations spell out Dostoevsky s response to this view and his advocacy of faith in God Christ and immortality The themes discussed include suicide truth and lies guilt determinism literature the Bible Mary Christ Dostoevsky and film the woman question nationalism war the Church the Jewish question immortality and God In addition to conversations between the narrator and Dostoevsky we drop in on a dinner party at which Dostoevsky is discussed from various points of view and in another conversation Dostoevsky is joined by the philosopher Vladimir Solovyov to discuss nationalism the Church and life We also attend a seminar on Dostoevsky Anti Semitism and Nazism and visit Glasgow s Necropolis on Easter Eve The conversations in the first part of the volume are accompanied by a series of commentaries in a second part which contextualize the issues discussed in the conversations with references to his novels journalism letters and notebooks as well as engaging the relevant critical literature Sharing the Past J.A. Weingarten,2019-07-15 Sharing the Past is an unprecedentedly detailed account of the intertwining discourses of Canadian history and creative literature When social history emerged as its own field of study in the 1960s it promised new stories that would bring readers away from the elite writing of academics and closer to the everyday experiences of people Yet the academy s continued emphasis on professional distance and objectivity made it difficult for historians to connect with the experiences of those about whom they wrote and those same emphases made it all but impossible for non academic experts to be institutionally recognized as historians Drawing on interviews and new archival materials to construct a history of Canadian poetry written since 1960 Sharing the Past argues that the project of social history has achieved its fullest expression in lyric poetry a genre in which personal experiences anchor history Developing this genre since 1960 Canadian poets have provided an inclusive model for a truly social history that indiscriminately shares the right to speak authoritatively of the past Food, Consumption and the Body in Contemporary Women's Fiction Sarah Sceats,2000-04-20 This study explores the subtle and complex significance of food and eating in contemporary women s fiction Sarah Sceats reveals how preoccupations with food its consumption and the body are central to the work of writers such as Doris Lessing Angela Carter Margaret Atwood Mich le Roberts and Alice Thomas Ellis Through close analysis of their fiction Sceats examines the multiple metaphors associated with these themes making powerful connections between food and love motherhood sexual desire self identity and social behaviour The activities surrounding food and its consumption or non consumption embrace both the most intimate and the most thoroughly public aspects of our lives The book draws on psychoanalytical feminist and sociological theory to engage with a diverse range of issues including chapters on cannibalism and eating disorders This lively study demonstrates that feeding and eating are not simply fundamental to life but are inseparable from questions of gender power and control

Escaping from the Prison-House of Language and Digging for Meanings in Texts among Texts: Metafiction and Intertextuality in Margaret Atwood's Novels Lady Oracle and The Blind Assassin Andrea Stolz,2012-02-13 Margaret Atwood s novels are photographs of her characters lives while words only ever describe her protagonists blurred visions of their pasts their true stories are told in subtexts which run parallel or even contrary to the main story line and which depict the unseen the buried the untrue Replete with intertextual references her fiction illuminates that and why w hat isn t there has a presence like the absence of light The Blind Assassin She plays with our conventional modes of perception to make us aware of the way we frame reality in our minds Andrea Stolz discusses in her book the interrelation between metafictional and intertextual features in two of Atwood's novels that share many similarities even though written in different decades. She examines how Atwood weaves intertextual references into her fiction, how she facilitates a reader's recognition of the intertexts, and she shows that Atwood's narrator protagonists also reflect on our age as one of intertextuality. Gothic Writers Douglass H. Thomson, Jack G. Voller, Frederick S. Frank, 2001-11-30. With its roots in Romanticism, antiquarianism, and the primacy of the imagination, the Gothic genre originated in the 18th century, flourished in the 19th, and continues to thrive today. This reference is designed to accommodate the critical and bibliographical needs of a broad spectrum of users, from scholars seeking critical assistance to general readers wanting an introduction to the Gothic, its abundant criticism, and the present state of Gothic Studies. The volume includes alphabetically arranged entries on more than 50 Gothic writers, from Horace Walpole to Stephen King. Entries for Russian, Japanese, French, and German writers give an international scope to the book, while the focus on English and American literature shows the dynamic nature of Gothicism today. Each of the entries is devoted to a particular author or group of authors whose works exhibit Gothic elements, beginning with a primary bibliography of works by the writer, including modern editions. This section is followed by a critical essay which examines the author's use of Gothic themes, the author's place in the Gothic tradition, and the critical reception of the author's works. The entries close with selected annotated bibliographies of scholarly studies. The volume concludes with a timeline and a bibliography of the most important broad scholarly works on the Gothic. Comparative North American Studies Reingard M. Nischik, 2016-04-29. Merging selected approaches to Comparative North American Studies with detailed textual analyses, this book studies works of writers as diverse as Ernest Hemingway, Joyce Carol Oates, Tim O'Brien, and Margaret Atwood. Topics include comparative approaches to the North American modernist short story, narratives of the Canada-US border, and North American reviews of Atwood's novels. The Complete Idiot's Guide to American Literature Laurie Rozakis, 1999-08-01. You're no idiot, of course. You know that Samuel Clemens had a better-known pen name: Moby-Dick is a famous whale, and the Raven only said "Nevermore." But when it comes to understanding the great works of Mark Twain, Herman Melville, and Edgar Allan Poe, you'd rather rent the videos than head to your local library. Don't tear up your library card yet. The Complete Idiot's Guide to American Literature teaches you all about the rich tradition of American prose and poetry so you can fully appreciate its magnificent diversity. Censorship in Canadian Literature Mark Cohen, 2001. Since judgment is enmeshed in the fabric of human endeavour, censorship is inevitable, since censorship is inevitable. Cohen concludes debate over whether censorship itself is desirable should give way to a search for censorship practices that are more just. BOOK JACKET The Handmaid's Tale Harold Bloom, 2009.
