

THE MARGIN FADES

An aerial photograph of a rugged, green island with a small lighthouse on the tip, surrounded by dark blue water and rocky outcrops. The island has steep, forested slopes and a small white sandy beach on its right side. Several large, dark rock formations are scattered in the water around the island. The sky is a pale, hazy blue.

The Margin Fades Patrick D. Nunn, Eric Waddell, University of the South Pacific. Institute of Pacific Studies, 1993 Just as geographers have made a substantial contribution to the study of the Pacific so the Pacific has made a significant impact on the discipline of geography and on certain of its practitioners Research and reflection on the region was for long limited to a select group of metropolitan institutions a distant oceanic realm serving simply as an object of their interest The birth of universities in the islands notably the University of the South Pacific in 1968 has changed all that The margin fades serves 25 years on to measure some of the accomplishments of its geography department The thirteen essays presented here offer a refreshingly new portrait of geography in the Pacific Back cover Environment, Development and Change in Rural Asia-Pacific John Connell, Eric Waddell, 2006-12-05 This volume examines the economic political social and environmental challenges facing rural communities in the Asia Pacific region as global issues intersect with local contexts Such challenges from climatic change and volcanic eruption to population growth and violent civil unrest have stimulated local resilience amongst communities and led to evolving regional institutions and environment management practices changing social relationships and producing new forms of stratification Bringing together case studies from across mainland Southeast Asia and the Island Pacific an expert team of international contributors reveal how communities at the periphery take charge of their lives champion the virtues of their own local systems of production and consumption and engage in the complexities of new structures of development that demand a response to the vacillations of global politics economy and society Inherent in this is the recognition that development as we have come to know it is far from over Each chapter emphasizes the growing recognition that ecological and environmental issues are key to any understanding and analysis of structures of sustainable development Providing diverse multidisciplinary theoretical and empirical perspectives Environment Development and Change in Rural Asia Pacific makes an important contribution to the revitalization of development studies and as such will be essential reading for scholars in the field as well as those with an interest in Asia Pacific studies economic geography and political economy IPS Publishing Guide Linda Crowl, 2001 Cultural Landscapes and Environmental Change Lesley Head, 2017-09-25 Cultural landscapes are usually understood within physical geography as those transformed by human action As human influence on the earth increases advances in palaeocological reconstruction have also allowed for new interpretations of the evidence for the earliest human impacts on the environment It is essential that such evidence is examined in the context of modern trends in social sciences and humanities This stimulating new book argues that convergence of the two approaches can provide a more holistic understanding of long term physical and human processes Split into two major sections this book attempts to bridge the gap between the sciences and humanities The first section provides an analysis of the methodological tools employed in examining processes of environmental change Empirical research in the fields of palaeocology and Quaternary studies is combined with the latest theoretical views of nature and landscape occurring in cultural geography archaeology and anthropology The author examines the way in which environmental management decisions are made The book then moves on to discuss the relevance of this perspective to contemporary issues through a wide variety of international case studies including World Heritage protection landscape preservation indigenous people and cultural tourism

Pacific Island Landscapes Patrick D. Nunn, 1998 Pacific island landscapes explores the origin and physical history of one of the least known regions of the Earth's surface the Pacific Islands Never before has such a systematic account of the island groups been compiled In this volume Patrick Nunn outlines how each of the main island groups originated then gives detailed accounts much from his own research of islands in Fiji Samoa and Tonga A final substantive chapter treats the interaction of early human settlers of Pacific Islands and their environments

Back cover Sea Level Changes And Their Effects, Ocean And Atmosphere Pacific: Oap 95 John Noye, 2001-01-19 This book contains updated reviewed versions of some selected papers on Sea Level Changes and their Effects presented at the International Ocean and Atmosphere Pacific Conference OAP 95 held in Adelaide South Australia 23-27 October 1995 In addition several reviewed articles on important topics not covered by the papers presented at OAP 95 were invited The articles in this volume will find an audience among coastal developers marine biologists and environmentalists They cover a range of topics including the efforts of long term sea level rise on coastal flows and its impact on mangrove communities the determination of long term sea level change relative to the vertical motion of the land to the numerical modelling of short term sea level changes due to tides tsunamis and the weather

Decolonisation and the Pacific Tracey Banivanua Mar, 2016-04-26 This book charts the previously untold story of decolonisation in the oceanic world of the Pacific Australia and New Zealand presenting it both as an indigenous and an international phenomenon Tracey Banivanua Mar reveals how the inherent limits of decolonisation were laid bare by the historical peculiarities of colonialism in the region and demonstrates the way imperial powers conceived of decolonisation as a new form of imperialism She shows how Indigenous peoples responded to these limits by developing rich intellectual political and cultural networks transcending colonial and national borders with localised traditions of protest and dialogue connected to the global ferment of the twentieth century The individual stories told here shed new light on the forces that shaped twentieth century global history and reconfigure the history of decolonisation presenting it not as an historic event but as a fragile contingent and ongoing process continuing well into the postcolonial era

Peoples of the Pacific Paul D'Arcy, 2017-05-15 Presenting the history of the inhabitants of the Pacific Islands from first colonization until the spread of European colonial rule in the later 19th century this volume focuses specifically on Pacific Islander European interactions from the perspective of Pacific Islanders themselves A number of recorded traditions are reproduced as well as articles by Pacific Island scholars working within the academy The nature of Pacific History as a sub discipline is presented through a sample of key articles from the 1890s until the present that represent the historical evolution of the field and its multidisciplinary nature The volume reflects on how the indigenous inhabitants of the Pacific Islands have a history as dynamic and complex as that of literate societies and one that is more retrievable through multidisciplinary approaches than often realized Pacific Centuries Dennis O. Flynn, Lionel Frost, A.J.H. Latham, 1998-12-17 This book provides an overview of five centuries of Pacific and Pacific Rim economic and trade history making it a valuable contribution to understanding of the increasing global importance of this region The Environment and International Politics Hakan Seckinelgin, 2005-11-17 This new study shows how environmental issues represent a deep problem in conceptualising the relationship between human beings and nature This key relationship grounds the implicit ethical and political concerns of International Relations and our understandings of environmental politics It demonstrates that the core theoretical orientations of the study of International Relations are not only incapable of understanding and responding to contemporary problems but are profoundly complicit in creating the ecological problems in the first place This major book develops a sense of these realities based on the thinking of Martin Heidegger It forwards new ways of rethinking the environmental questions and addresses crucial issues such as sovereignty the International Law of The Sea the Kyoto Protocol Northern Alaskan oil exploration and exploitation and the impact of the United Nations Convention on the Law of The Sea III This is essential specialist reading for readers concerned with the environment Vanishing Borders Lee Boon-Thong, Tengku Shamsul Bahrin, 2019-05-23 First published in 1998 the contributors to this book deal with the issue of vanishing borders from various perspectives some emphasising the economic others the political or social impacts of global interdependence and integration Considering the enormous changes which have taken place including the end of the Cold War the collapse of the Soviet Union and increasing Globalisation the chapters within present a fairly holistic and exciting discussion of the new world order of the 21st century The People of the Sea Paul D'Arcy, 2006-01-01 Countering the dominant paradigms of recent Pacific Islands historiography which tend to limit understanding of the sea's importance this volume emphasizes the flux in the maritime environment and how it instilled an expectation and openness toward outside influences and the rapidity with which cultural change could occur in relations between various Islander groups Students and scholars of Pacific history and environmental and cultural studies will welcome this re-evaluation of the sea's influence in Oceanic history BOOK JACKET The World System and the Earth System Alf Hornborg, Carole L Crumley, 2016-09-17 In this benchmark volume top scholars come together to present state of the art research and pursue a more rigorous framework for understanding and studying the linkages between social and ecological systems Contributors from a wide spectrum of disciplines including archaeology anthropology geography ecology palaeo science geology sociology and history present and assess both the evolution of our thinking and current state of the art theory and research Covering ancient through modern periods they discuss the complex ways in which human culture economy and demographics interact with ecology and climate change The World System and the Earth System is critical reading for all scholars and students working at the interface of nature and society Contributors Thomas Abel Björn Berglund Chris Chase Dunn Alfred Crosby Carole L

Crumley John Dearing Bert de Vries Nina Eisenmenger Andre Gunder Frank Jonathan Friedman Stefan Giljum Thomas Hall Karin Holmgren Alf Hornborg Kristian Kristiansen Thomas Malm Daniel Mandell Betty Meggers George Modelski Emilio Moran Helena berg Frank Oldfield Susan Stonich William Thompson Peter Turchin Telling Pacific Lives Vicki Luker, Brij V. Lal, 2008-06-01 This volume of essays is an exploration of the way in which scholars from different disciplines standpoints and theoretical orientations attempt to write life stories in the Pacific It is the product of a conference organised by the Division of Pacific and Asian History at The Australian National University in December 2005 The aim of the conference was to explore ways in which Pacific lives are read and constructed through a variety of media films fiction faction history under four overarching themes The first Framing Lives sought to explore various ways of constructing a life from a classic western perspective of birth formation experiences and death of an individual to other ways for example life as secondary to a longer genealogical entity life as a symbol of collective experience individual lives captured and fragmented in a mosaic of others lives made meaningful by their implication in a particular historical or cultural web the underlying values and world views that inform one or another approach to framing a life The second theme the Stuff of Life looked at materials methods and collaborative arrangements with which the biographer autobiographer and recorder work their objectives constraints inspirations challenges and tricks The third section Story Lines focused on formats and genres such as edited diaries collections of writings voice recordings genres of biography autobiography truth and fiction verse dance novels and the varieties and different advantages of narrative shapes that crystallise the telling of a life The final section Telling Lives Changing Lives focused on biography autobiography and the consciousness of identity history purpose lives as witness and windows telling lives as change for those involved in the tale the telling the listening The overall aim was to bring out both the generic or universal challenges of telling lives as well as to highlight the particular tendencies and trends in the Pacific Yet these four themes which seemed analytically promising at the outset proved in practice difficult to disentangle from the presentations at the workshop Provided by publisher Horticultural Reviews, Volume 46 Ian Warrington, 2018-11-13 Horticultural Reviews presents state of the art reviews on topics in horticultural science and technology covering both basic and applied research Topics covered include the horticulture of fruits vegetables nut crops and ornamentals These review articles written by world authorities bridge the gap between the specialized researcher and the broader community of horticultural scientists and teachers The Life of Hunting and Gathering Tribe in the Eastern Ghats C. Subba Reddy, 2010 1 Introduction 2 Ethnography of the People 3 The Environment and Natural Resources 4 The Consumption of Non Timber Forest Produce NTFP at Household Level 5 Cultural Construction of Forest and Traditional Knowledge 6 Institutional Dimensions in Resource Utilization 7 Summary and Conclusions Appendices Bibliography Photos Index The Early Prehistory of Fiji Geoffrey Richard Clark, Atholl Anderson, 2009-12-01 I enjoyed reading this volume It is rare to see such a comprehensive report on hard data published these days especially one so insightfully contextualised by the editors

introductory and concluding chapters These scholars and the others involved in the work really know their stuff and it shows The editors connect the preoccupations of Pacific archaeologists with those of their colleagues working in other island regions and on big questions of colonisation migration interaction and patterns and processes of cultural change in hitherto uninhabited environments These sorts of outward looking big picture contextual studies are invaluable but all too often are missing from locally and regionally oriented writing very much to its detriment In sum the work strongly advances our understanding of the early prehistory of Fiji through its well integrated combination of original research and the reinterpretation of existing knowledge in the context of wider theoretical and historical concerns In doing so The Early Prehistory of Fiji makes a truly substantial contribution to Pacific and archaeological scholarship Professor Ian Lilley The University of Queensland Strategies for Sustainable Development J. Overton,R. Schewens,1999-08-20 This book shows how the environments and cultures of Polynesia Micronesia and Melanesia need to be taken careful account of in fashioning sustainable development projects and strategies Case studies point up good and bad development practices Science of Pacific Island Peoples: Fauna, flora, food and medicine R.
