New Perspectives on Prehistoric Art Günter Berghaus, 2004-04-30 Following the discovery of Franco Caribbean cave art in the nineteenth century standard interpretations of these works usually revolved around hunting magic and fertility cults Orthodox positions such as these have weighed heavily on later generations of art historians archaeologists and anthropologists even those whose views dissented from those of their predecessors In the last few decades however new approaches to cave art often based on discoveries made in Africa Asia Australia North America and the Arctic region have produced new insights into possible meanings and functions of prehistoric paintings and sculptures This new collection of essays explores these insights gathering the observations of eight experts from a variety of disciplines and examining some of the social and spiritual functions of a variety of artistic genres ranging from 40 000 B C to 5 000 B C These insights which derive from evolutionary biology feminist scholarship ritual studies and new modes of anthropology argue collectively that prehistoric art was a culture specific form of communication that should be interpreted in the social context of early hunter gatherer societies and should not be measured with the criteria and paradigms of modern art Essential reading for anyone interested in prehistoric art or its cultural implications this volume represents a bold step forward in the research and analysis of the very first artists

Surrealism and Its Others Katharine Conley, Pierre Taminiaux, 2006-01-01 This issue of Yale French Studies on Surrealism and Its Others examines the works and theories of writers artists and thinkers who positioned themselves and their productions in dialogue with Breton's surrealism Although surrealism always sought to distinguish itself from other movements and ideologies its members often celebrated their commonality with many others outside of the official group with whom they shared their passions Marxists visual artists filmmakers psychiatrists and ethnographers Each of the writers artists and thinkers examined here were either temporarily associated with surrealism or were influenced by its collective and open spirit even if in a primarily opposing or questioning role In some cases this outside perspective came from as close as Belgium and other European countries In other cases it came from farther away from North Africa or North America which reveals surrealism's engagement with non European formerly colonized cultures reflects its staunchly anti colonial stance and confirms the movement as something more than an aesthetic phenomenon Along with its aesthetic mission surrealism was also and perhaps more importantly a powerful political and social reality This issue examines works by artists writers and theorists who were all in their own ways located outside of yet close to surrealism and who provide us with a new perspective on this avant garde and modernist movement

Surrealism Elza Adamowicz,2006 This collection of essays inspired by Andr Breton s concept of the limites non fronti res of Surrealism focuses on the crossings intersections and margins of the surrealist movement rather than its divides and exclusion zones Some of the essays originated as papers given at the colloquium Surrealism Crossings Frontiers held at the Institute of Romance Studies University of London in November 2001 Surrealism is foregrounded as a trajectory rather than a fixed body of doctrines radically challenging the notion of frontiers The essays explore real and imaginary journeys as well as the urban d rives of the surrealists and situationists The concept of crossing central to a reading of the dynamics at work in Surrealism is explored in studies of the surrealist object which eludes or elides genres and explorations of the shifting sites of identity as in the work of Joyce Mansour or Andr Masson Surrealism s engagement with frontiers is further investigated through a number of revealing cases such as a political reading of 1930s photography the parodic rewriting of the popular locked room mystery or the surrealists cavalier redrawing of the map of the world The essays contribute to our understanding of the diversity and dynamism of Surrealism as an international and interdisciplinary movement

The Centre as Margin: Eccentric Perspectives on Art Maria de Lurdes Craveiro,Carla Alexandra Gonçalves,2019-10-01 The Centre as Margin Eccentric Perspectives on Art is a multi authored volume of collected essays that answer the challenge of thinking Art History and the Arts in a broader sense from a liminal point of view Its main goal is thus to discuss the margin from the centre drawing on its concomitance within study themes and subjects ontological and epistemological positions or research methodologies themselves Marginality eccentricity liminality and superfluity are all part of a dynamic relationship between centre and margin s that will be approached and discussed from the point of view of disciplines as different and as close as art history philosophy literature and design from medieval to contemporary art Resulting from recent research developed from the privileged viewpoint offered by the margin this volume brings together the contributions of young researchers along with the work of career scholars Likewise it does not obey a traditional or a rigid diachronic structure being rather organized in three major parts that organically articulate the different essays Within each of these parts in which the book is divided papers are sometimes organized according to their timeframes providing the reader with an encompassing though not encyclopedic overview of the common ground over which the various artistic disciplines build their methodological theoretical and thematic centers and margins The intended eccentricity of this volume and the original essays herein presented should provide researchers scholars students artists curators and the general reader interested in art with a refreshing approach to its various scientific strands

Joyce Henri Robinson, Joseph Shein, 2005 Published in conjunction with a 2005 exhibition of the same name at the Palmer Museum of Art Wos up man features numerous works from Joseph and Janet Shein s important collection of self taught or outsider art Although many of the artists represented William Hawkins Thornton Dial Sr Clementine Hunter Howard Finster and Sam Doyle have acquired renown as the interest in outsider art has grown such figures as George C Briscoe Chris Clark C W

Conner and Chris Donnelly are little known and are here receiving their first art historical consideration. The term outsider art refers to works made by individuals who have had no training in the arts and more often than not live on the margins of society but are nonetheless creative. Indeed as Wos up man shows they are remarkably expressive and inventive. Their art ranges from walking sticks and quilts to paintings and sculptures and incorporates materials that run the gamut from house paint and earth pigments to glitter and tin. Wos up man not only provides photographs of more than 75 objects from the Shein collection but also places them in the wider context of subgenres like southern black art, visionary art, prison art and European art brut. An essay by Joyce Henri Robinson and catalogue entries by Janalee Emmer and Gabriella Szalay enable readers to explore an extensive private collection of outsider art. Wos up man also calls attention to the growing significance attached to outsider art and ultimately asks if outside may now be in. Martín Ramírez Brooke Davis Anderson, Victor M. Espinosa, Martín Ramírez, 2007
