Johnson Museum of Art, 2004 A few weeks after the September 11 terrorist attacks an FBI agent called the Whitney Museum of American Art and asked to see a drawing on exhibit there The piece was by Mark Lombardi an artist who had committed suicide the year before Using just a pencil and a huge sheet of paper Lombardi had created an intricate pattern of curves and arcs to illustrate the links between global finance and international terrorism In other drawings Lombardi explored subjects ranging from the collapse of the Vatican bank to the Iran Contra scandal The results are not only detailed slices of history but also works of art some looking like constellations of stars on a dark night others swirling clouds of abstract lines and points

2050 A brief history of the future Royal Museums of Fine Arts of Belgium, 2015-10-09 What if we could foretell the future through art More than any other activity art will help to convince us of the urgency This is its greatness and will be its responsibility as art lies at the forefront of boldness Jacques Attali The meeting of an essay A Brief History of the Future by Jacques Attali and the world of contemporary art on the occasion of the exhibition organized by the Royal Museums of Fine Arts of Belgium 11 09 2015 24 01 2016 This book explores the major social issues studied by Jacques Attali and points out how visual artists go beyond simple observation to take an active part in the debate and develop projects fired by a form of utopian creativity Making museums the mirror of a world in change EXCERPT The first wave is the decline of the American empire which is no longer omnipotent It represents a declining share of global GDP and will even be overtaken by China Europe and others even if it long remains the world's leading military power This decline will also correspond to a lack of the cutting edge collaborative technologies that lead to new discoveries in particular the information technologies biotechnologies and so on which will change a lot of things There will be changes in customs but these will probably contribute to the permanent triumph of the United States ideology as the dominant one in the world The second wave is produced by the US gradually sharing its dominance with other powers This process has already begun through the establishment of the G20 The joint government of the world is a response to the fragmentation that is taking place No doubt we shall see conflicts between China and Japan tension between Europe and the United States times when the whole lot will be at loggerheads We may well be experiencing the last period in history in which conflicts between great nations still take place ABOUT JACQUES ATTALI Economist writer member of the Council of State special adviser to François Mitterrand from 1981 to 1991 Jacques Attali was born in 1943 in Alger Over his career he has published more than 50 books and written many articles on current events He is also the editorial writer of L'Express
