   Security Protocols Bruce Christianson,Bruno Crispo,James A. Malcolm,Michael Roe,2003-06-30 The Cambridge International Workshop on Security Protocols has now run for eight years Each year we set a theme focusing upon a speci c aspect of security protocols and invite position papers Anybody is welcome to send us a position paper yes you are invited and we don t insist they relate to the current theme in an obvious way In our experience the emergence of the theme as a unifying threadtakesplaceduringthediscussionsattheworkshopitself Theonlyground rule is that position papers should formulate an approach to some unresolved issues rather than being a description of a nished piece of work Whentheparticipantsmeet wetrytofocusthediscussionsupontheconc tual issues which emerge Security protocols link naturally to many other areas of Computer Science and deep water can be reached very quickly Afterwards we invite participants to re draft their position papers in a way which exposes the emergent issues but leaves open the way to their further development We also prepare written transcripts of the recorded discussions These are edited in some cases very heavily to illustrate the way in which the di erent arguments and perspectives have interacted We publish these proceedings as an invitation to the research community Although many interesting results rst see the light of day in a volume of our proceedings laying claim to these is not our primary purpose of publication Rather we bring our discussions and insights to a wider audience in order to suggest new lines of investigation which the community may fruitfully pursue   Trust Management Ketil Stølen,William H. Winsborough,Fabio Martinelli,Fabio MASSACCI,2006-08-29 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 4th International Conference on Trust Management iTrust 2006 30 revised full papers and 4 revised short papers are presented together with 1 keynote paper and 7 trust management tool and systems demonstration reports Besides technical issues in distributed computing and open systems topics from law social sciences business and philosophy are addressed   Data Protection in a Profiled World Serge Gutwirth,Yves Poullet,Paul De Hert,2010-08-03 One of the most challenging issues facing our current information society is the accelerating accumulation of data trails in transactional and communication systems which may be used not only to profile the behaviour of individuals for commercial marketing and law enforcement purposes but also to locate and follow things and actions Data mining convergence interoperability ever increasing computer capacities and the extreme miniaturisation of the hardware are all elements which contribute to a major contemporary challenge the profiled world This interdisciplinary volume offers twenty contributions that delve deeper into some of the complex but urgent questions that this profiled world addresses to data protection and privacy The chapters of this volume were all presented at the second Conference on Privacy and Data Protection CPDP2009 held in Brussels in January 2009 www cpdpconferences org The yearly CPDP conferences aim to become Europe s most important meeting where academics practitioners policy makers and activists come together to exchange ideas and discuss emerging issues in information technology privacy and data protection and law This volume reflects the richness of the conference containing chapters by leading lawyers policymakers computer technology assessment and social scientists The chapters cover generic themes such as the evolution of a new generation of data protection laws and the constitutionalisation of data protection and more specific issues like security breaches unsolicited adjustments social networks surveillance and electronic voting This book not only offers a very close and timely look on the state of data protection and privacy in our profiled world but it also explores and invents ways to make sure this world remains a world we want to live in Security Protocols XX Bruce Christianson,James Malcolm,Frank Stajano,Jonathan Anderson,2012-11-28 This book constitutes the thoroughly refereed post workshop proceedings of the 20th International Workshop on Security Protocols held in Cambridge UK in April 2012 Following the tradition of this workshop series each paper war revised by the authors to incorporate ideas from the workshop and is followed in these proceedings by an edited transcription of the presentation and ensuing discussion The volume contains 14 papers with their transcriptions as well as an introduction i e 29 contributions in total The theme of the workshop was Bringing protocols to life Security Protocols XVI Bruce Christianson,James Malcolm,Vashek Matyas,Michael Roe,2011-07 This book constitutes the thoroughly refereed post proceedings of the 16th International Workshop on Security Protocols SP 2008 held in Cambridge UK in April 2008 The 17 revised full papers presented together with edited transcriptions of some of the discussions following the presentations have gone through multiple rounds of reviewing revision and selection The theme of this workshop was Remodelling the Attacker with the intention to tell the students at the start of a security course that it is very important to model the attacker but like most advice to the young this is an oversimplification Shouldn t the attacker s capability be an output of the design process as well as an input The papers and discussions in this volume examine the theme from the standpoint of various different applications and adversaries Formal Aspects of Security Steve A. Malcolm,Michael Roe,2005-09-21 Greetings These are the proceedings of the 11th in our series of International Workshops on Security Protocols Our theme this time was Where have all the Protocols gone Once upon a time security protocols lived mainly in the network and transport layers Now they increasingly hide in applications or in specialised hardware Does this trend lead to better security architectures or is it an indication that we are addressing the wrong problems The intention of the workshops is to provide a forum where incompletely workedoutideascanstimulatediscussion openupnewlinesofinvestigation and suggestmoreproblems The positionpaperspublished herehavebeen revisedby the authors in the light of their participation in the workshop In addition we publish edited transcripts of some of the discussions to give our readers access to some of the roads ahead not yet taken We hope that these revised position papers and edited transcripts will give you at least one interesting idea of your own to explore Please do write and tell us what it was Our purpose in publishing these proceedings is to produce a conceptual map which will be of enduring interest rather than to be merely topical This is perhaps just as well given the delay in production This year we moved to new computer based recording technology and of course it failed completely
