Seed To Seed Seed Saving Techniques For The Vegetable Gardener:

Seed to Seed Suzanne Ashworth, 2002-03-12 Seed to Seed is a complete seed saving guide that describes specific techniques for saving the seeds of 160 different vegetables. This book contains detailed information about each vegetable including its botanical classification, flower structure and means of pollination, required population size, isolation distance, techniques for caging or hand pollination, and also the proper methods for harvesting, drying, cleaning and storing the seeds. Seed to Seed is widely acknowledged as the best guide available for home gardeners to learn effective ways to produce and store seeds on a small scale. The author has grown seed crops of every vegetable featured in the book and has thoroughly researched and tested all of the techniques she recommends for the home garden. This newly updated and greatly expanded Second Edition includes additional information about how to start each vegetable from seed, which has turned the book into a complete growing guide. Local knowledge about seed starting techniques for each vegetable has been shared by expert gardeners from seven regions of the United States: Northeast, Mid Atlantic, Southeast, Gulf Coast, Midwest, Southwest, Central West Coast, and Northwest.

Garden Seed Saving Guide, The Jill Henderson, 2017-01-13 Saving the Seed Renee Vellve, 2013-11-05 Genetic diversity is essential to the security of agriculture. Without the availability of a wide range of plant varieties and the genetic resources they contain, crops cannot adapt to combat the ever-changing threats of pests, diseases, and climatic change. Yet with the increasing industrialisation of modern agriculture, farming has become a business which centres on a handful of new genetically similar super seeds. Plants must evolve in order to survive, but modern agriculture has replaced diversity with uniformity and security with vulnerability. Saving the Seed traces the decline of crop varieties in European farming and describes what is being done to safeguard genetic resources for the future. Conservation efforts by government and industry suffer from serious drawbacks with wrangles over ownership and control of resources. The crucial work is being done by individuals and grassroots organisations who largely go unrecognised and under resourced. What is urgently needed are sound policies to promote the diversification of agriculture and an integrated strategy for safeguarding the genetic base of our food system. Saving the Seed contains the most up-to-date information available on genetic resources in Europe and on those working to save them. Renee Vellve is a researcher at GRAIN, a non-governmental organisation working to promote the sustainable conservation and use of genetic diversity based on grassroots approaches to genetic resources management. Originally published in 1992.
