Canada and along with it wider boundaries of daring for women and other people previously disadvantaged by racial ethnic or religious identifications has profound implications for the way we read and understand Canadian literary and cultural history and for the shape of both national and international modernisms The Oxford Companion to Modern Poetry in English Jeremy Noel-Tod, Ian Hamilton, 2013-05-23 This impressive volume provides over 1 700 biographical entries on poets writing in English from 1910 to the present day including T S Eliot Dylan Thomas and Carol Ann Duffy Authoritative and accessible it is a must have for students of English and creative writing as well as for anyone with an interest in poetry

Writing in Our Time Pauline Butling, Susan Rudy, 2006-01-01 Process poetics is about radical poetry poetry that challenges dominant world views values and aesthetic practices with its use of unconventional punctuation interrupted syntax variable subject positions repetition fragmentation and disjunction To trace the aesthetically and politically radical poetries in English Canada since the 1960s Pauline Butling and Susan Rudy begin with the upstart poets published in Vancouver's TISH A Poetry Newsletter and follow the trajectory of process poetics in its national and international manifestations through the 1980s and 90s The poetics explored include the works of Nicole Brossard Daphne Marlatt bpNichol George Bowering Roy Kiyooka and Frank Davey in the 1960s and 70s For the 1980 2000 period the authors include essays on Jeff Derksen Clare Harris Erin Mour and Lisa Robertson They also look at books by older authors published after 1979 including Robin Blaser Robert Kroetsch and Fred Wah A historiography of the radical poets and a roster of the little magazines small press publishers literary festivals and other such sites that have sustained poetic experimentation provide context The Routledge Introduction to Twentieth- and Twenty-First-Century Canadian Poetry Erin Wunker, 2022-11-21 When asked the question what is the power of poetry writer Ian Williams said poetry punctures the surface Williams statement that poetry matters and that it does something is at the heart of this book Building from this core idea that poetry perforates the everyday to give greater range to our lives and our thinking the practical and pedagogical aim of this book is twofold the first aim is to provide students with an introduction to the key cultural political and historical events that inform twentieth and twenty first century Canadian poetry and to familiarize those same readers with poetic movements trends and forms of the same time period This book addresses the aesthetic and social contexts of Canadian poetry written in the twentieth and twenty first centuries it models for its readers the critical and theoretical discourses needed to understand the contexts of literary production in Canada Put differently readers need a sense of the where and how of poetic production to help situate them in the what of poetry itself In addition to offering a historically contextualized overview of the significant movements developments and poets of this time period this book also familiarizes readers with key moments of reflection and rupture such as the effects of economic and ecological crisis global conflicts and debates around appropriation of culture This book is built on the premise that poetry in Canada does not happen outside of political social and cultural contexts Moving Archives Linda M. Morra, 2020-01-15 The image of the dusty undisturbed archive has been swept away in response to growing interest across disciplines in the materials they house and the desire to find and make meaning through an engagement with those materials Archival studies scholars and archivists are developing related theoretical frameworks and practices that recognize that the archives are anything but static Archival deposits are proliferating and the architects practitioners and scholars engaged with them are scarcely able to keep abreast of them Archives archival theory and archival practice are on the move But what of the archives that were once safely housed and have since been lost or are under threat What of the urgency that underscores the appeals made on behalf of these archives As scholars in this volume argue archives their materialization their preservation and the research produced about them are moving in a different way they are involved in an emotionally engaged and charged process one that acts equally upon archival subjects and those engaged with them So too do archives at once represent members of various communities and the fields of study drawn to them Moving Archives grounds itself in the critical trajectory related to what Sara Ahmed calls affective economies to offer fresh insights about the process of archiving and approaching literary materials These economies are not necessarily determined by ethical impulses although many scholars have called out for such impulses to underwrite current archival practices rather they form the crucial affective contexts for the legitimization of archival caches in the present moment and for future use

A Companion to Poetic Genre Erik Martiny, 2011-10-17 A COMPANION TO POETIC GENRE A COMPANION TO POETIC GENRE This eagerly awaited Companion features over 40 contributions from leading academics around the world and offers critical overviews of numerous poetic genres Covering a range of cultural traditions from Britain Ireland North America Japan and the Caribbean among others this valuable collection considers ancient genres such as the elegy the ode the ghazal and the ballad before moving on to Medieval and Renaissance genres originally invented or codified by the Troubadours or poets who followed in their wake The book also approaches genres driven by theme such as the calypso and found poetry Each chapter begins by defining the genre in its initial stages charting historical developments and finally assessing its latest mutations be they structural thematic parodic assimilative or subversive

Writing Lovers Méira Cook, 2005-04-22 In writings by the French post structuralists rhetorical tropes such as speechlessness fragmentation and deflection testify to the writer's difficulty in broaching the subject of love Similarly Cook shows that love poetry proceeds out of a profound failure of language resulting from the opacity of discourse its lack of neutrality or the fugitive transparency of reference Writing Lovers also explores race ethnicity age and sexual identity within the context of the passionate excesses of amatory discourse

Journal of Canadian Poetry, 1999 Editing Modernity Dean Irvine, 2008-03-15 The period between 1916 and 1956 was a unique interval in the history of Canadian publishing During this period not only were a significant number of non commercial literary arts and cultural magazines established but it also happened that an unprecedented number of those involved in the creation and subsequent editing of this new type of magazine the little magazine were women Based on extensive new archival and literary historical research Editing Modernity examines these Canadian women writers and editors and their role in the production and dissemination of modernist and leftist little magazines At once a history of literary women and of the emergent formations and conditions of cultural modernity in Canada Irvine s study relates women s editorial work and poetry to a series of crises and transitions in modernist and leftist magazine communities to the public hearings and published findings of the Massey Commission of 1949-51 and to the later development of feminist literary magazines and editorial collectives during the 1970s and 1980s Writers and editors examined in this study include Dorothy Livesay Anne Marriott Floris McLaren P K Page Miriam Waddington Flora Macdonald Denison Florence Custance Catherine Harmon Aileen Collins and Margaret Fairley RE: Reading the

Postmodern Robert David Stacey, 2011-01-14 It would be difficult to exaggerate the worldwide impact of postmodernism on the fields of cultural production and the social sciences over the last quarter century even if the concept has been understood in various even contradictory ways An interest in postmodernism and postmodernity has been especially strong in Canada in part thanks to the country s non monolithic approach to history and its multicultural understanding of nationalism which seems to align with the decentralized plural and open ended pursuit of truth as a multiple possibility as outlined by Jean Fran ois Lyotard In fact long before Lyotard published his influential work The Postmodern Condition in 1979 Canadian writers and critics were employing the term to describe a new kind of writing RE: Reading the Postmodern marks a first cautious step toward a history of Canadian postmodernism exploring the development of the idea of the postmodern and debates about its meaning and its applicability to various genres of Canadian writing and charting its decline in recent years as a favoured critical trope Poets Talk Pauline Butling, Susan Rudy, 2005-01-15 This is a book that takes on the hard questions about the role of poets in society together with the challenges of reading difficult poetry Using the relaxed format of the personal interview Butling and Rudy open doors to some of the most challenging and important poetry of the 1990s Robert Kroetsch talks about his dread of systems and his subversive use of sub literary forms Erin Mour and Daphne Marlatt discuss the feminist trajectories in their work how to jump circuits and activate alternative networks Dionne Brand links her poetics to Marxist politics and Pan African liberation movements Annharte explains her use of humour to de program Native people Jeff Derksen wants to disarticulate and rearticulate linguistic and social systems while Fred Wah emphasizes the role of poetry in changing how we see the world Saskatchewan Writers University of Regina. Canadian Plains Research Center, 2004

The more than 175 biographies in this volume together tell the story of writing in Saskatchewan As David Carpenter notes in his Introduction to the volume The writers whose lives are told in these pages are part of an extraordinary cultural community that has touched and been touched by the people and landscape of this province 15 Canadian Poets X 3 Gary Geddes, 2001 This is the fourth edition of Gary Geddes highly successful anthology of Canadian poetry All of the poets included in the previous editions have been retained although their selections have been carefully reconsidered Among new poets added to this edition are Anne Carson Dionne Brand Daphne Marlatt bpNichol Louise Bernice Halfe and Fred Wah

Most poets are represented by several poems to allow students to gain greater understanding and appreciation for their work
