Seeing Perception Looking At The World Through An Artists Eye:

Seeing/perception ,2001 Poetry Art SEEING PERCEPTION contains poems by Ann O Hanlon and photographs by both Dick and Ann O Hanlon artists travelers and teachers who were mentors to an entire community of artists and students from their Mill Valley Calif center for Sight and Insight From Ann and Dick O and their place I learned for example ways of looking that I have not ceased to think about Wendell Berry Small Press Review ,1998 The Visibility of the Image Lambert Wiesing,2016-09-22 Now available in English for the first time The Visibility of the Image explores the development of an influential aesthetic tradition through the work of six figures Analysing their contribution to the progress of formal aesthetics from its origins in Germany in the 1880s to semiotic interpretations in America a century later the six chapters cover Robert Zimmermann 1824 1898 the first to separate aesthetics and metaphysics and approach aesthetics along the lines of formal logic providing a purely syntactic way of using signs regardless of objective content Alois Riegl 1858 1905 who went on to further develop aesthetics on the model of formal logic creating a theory of style in response to Zimmermann s call for an aesthetics oriented toward formal logic Heinrich W lfflin 1864 1945 who represents a step toward an understanding of consciousness by using pictures as cognitive tools Konrad Fiedler 1841 1895 the Saxon philosopher who considered the possibility that some kinds of images are made and viewed not for what they show but for their visibility s sake alone Maurice Merleau Ponty 1908 1961 responsible for taking up the connections between the problems of reducing the range of potential meanings and contexts of a given image down to just the picture surface Charles William Morris 1901 1979 who set out to establish whether a picture with no objective reference such as an abstract painting still counts as a sign and if so in what sense Bringing these thinkers together and interlinking their ideas Lambert Wiesing presents an engaging history of formal aesthetics while reconstructing the philosophical foundations for the appearance of new image forms in the 20th century including the video clip abstract collage digital simulation and virtual reality Using this original approach The Visibility of the Image introduces the rise of modern image theory and provides a valuable account of our engagement with pictures in the 21st century Seeing Through Closed Eyelids Elizabeth Mangini,2021-04-07 Can a work of art help us know our world differently In this first scholarly study of Giuseppe Penone art historian Elizabeth Mangini argues that the Italian artist s engagement of the body s multiple senses constitutes a new theory of sculpture as a means to connect with and know the phenomenal world Through close readings of signal works across Penone s five decade career from his emergence in the context of 1960s Arte povera to his position as a pre eminent contemporary artist today Mangini demonstrates how Penone refuses modernist opticality recasts artistic labour and emphasizes a non anthropocentric concept of time Penone s approach challenges viewers to broaden their sensory and temporal perceptions creating structurally significant new ways to understand human experience Giuseppe Penone is best known for his engagement with trees which he employs as raw material imagery and an active force in the creative process Seeing Through Closed Eyelids suggests that such works materialize the perceptible tensions between any organism and its environment By locating Penone s art in its social context and connecting it to broader discourses about art s status theories of phenomenology and the anthropocene this book offers an original reading of Penone s work as well as a wider view of the artistic generation for whom sculpture was a means to probe the nature of experience itself at the dawn of postmodernism Forthcoming Books Rose Army,2000 Odd

Perceptions Richard L. Gregory,2017-03-27 Richard Gregory was one of the major scientific thinkers of our time Originally published in 1986 here he presents essays on the rich subject of perception How we experience colours shapes sounds touches tickles tastes and smells is a mysterious and rich inquiry Wonderful as these sensations are though he argues that perception becomes really interesting when we consider how objects are identified and located in space and time as things we interact with using our intelligence to understand them Gregory s essays convey the crucial importance of the major scientists and their achievements in the study of perception but they also show us how much we can learn from our surroundings our language our times our successes and our failures Why are we so often fooled in scientific as well as everyday life Artistic Creation Jeff Mitscherling,Paul Fairfield,2019-04-29 Artistic creation has proven remarkably resistant to philosophical analysis Artists have long struggled to explain how they do what they do and philosophers have struggled along with them This study does not attempt to offer a comprehensive account of all creativity or all art Instead it tries to identify an essential feature of an activity that has been cloaked in mystery for as long as history records Jeff Mitscherling and Paul Fairfield argue that the process by which art is created has a good deal in common with the experience of the audience of a work and that both experiences may be described phenomenologically in ways that show surprising affinities with what artists themselves often report Augmented and Virtual Reality in the Metaverse

Wallace, 2002-06-12 Explores how African American males have been portrayed in literature and society from 1775 to 1995 Eye and Brain Richard L. Gregory, 2015-02-17 Since the publication of the first edition in 1966 Eye and Brain has established itself worldwide as an essential introduction to the basic phenomena of visual perception Richard Gregory offers clear explanations of how we see brightness movement color and objects and he explores the phenomena of visual illusions to establish principles about how perception normally works and why it sometimes fails Illusion continues to be a major theme in the book which provides a comprehensive classification system There are also sections on what babies see and how they learn to see on motion perception the relationship between vision and consciousness and on the impact of new brain imaging techniques The American Amateur Photographer, 1906 Cognition and the Visual Arts Robert L. Solso, 1994 Applies research on how humans perceive process and store information to the viewing and interpretation of art The author argues that the clearest view of the mind comes from creating or experiencing art The illustrations cover a range of examples but focus primarily on Western art John Huston as Adaptor Douglas McFarland, Wesley King, 2017-01-28 John Huston as Adaptor makes the case that adaptation is the salient element in Huston's identity as a filmmaker and that his early and deep attraction to the experience of reading informed his approach to film adaptation Thirty four of Huston's thirty seven films were adaptations of literary texts and they stand as serious interpretations of literary works that could only be made by an astute reader of literature Indeed Huston asserted that a film director should be above all else a reader and that reading itself should be the intellectual and emotional basis for filmmaking The seventeen essays in this volume not only address Huston as an adaptor but also offer an approach to adaptation studies that has been largely overlooked How an adaptor reads the works to which he is drawn and how his literary interpretations can be brought to the screen without relegating film to a subservient role are some of the issues addressed by the contributors An introductory chapter identifies Huston as the quintessential Hollywood adaptor and argues that his skill at adaptation is the mark of his authorial signature The chapters that follow focus on fifteen of Huston's most important films including The Maltese Falcon 1941 The Treasure of the Sierra Madre 1948 The African Queen 1951 The Night of the Iguana 1964 Under the Volcano 1984 and The Dead 1987 and are divided into three areas aesthetics and textuality history and social context and theory and psychoanalysis By offering a more comprehensive account of the centrality of adaptation to Huston's films John Huston as Adaptor offers a greater understanding of Huston as a filmmaker

Merleau-Ponty and the Art of Perception Duane H. Davis, William S. Hamrick, 2016-03-01 This collection of essays brings together diverse but interrelated perspectives on art and perception based on the philosophy of Maurice Merleau-Ponty Although Merleau-Ponty focused almost exclusively on painting in his writings on aesthetics this collection also considers poetry literary works theater and relationships between art and science In addition to philosophers the contributors include a painter a photographer a musicologist and an architect This widened scope offers important philosophical benefits testing and providing evidence for the empirical applicability of Merleau-Ponty's aesthetic writings The central argument is that for Merleau-Ponty the account of perception is also an account of art and vice versa In the philosopher's writings art and perception thus intertwine necessarily rather than contingently such that they can only be distinguished by abstraction As a result his account of perception and his account of art are organic interdependent and dynamic The contributors examine various aspects of this intertwining across different artistic media each ingeniously revealing an original perspective on this intertwining
