The Dynamic Frame Patrick Keating, 2019-02-19 The camera's movement in a film may seem straightforward or merely technical Yet skillfully deployed pans tilts dollies cranes and zooms can express the emotions of a character convey attitude and irony or even challenge an ideological stance In The Dynamic Frame Patrick Keating offers an innovative history of the aesthetics of the camera that examines how camera movement shaped the classical Hollywood style In careful readings of dozens of films including Sunrise The Grapes of Wrath Rear Window Sunset Boulevard and Touch of Evil Keating explores how major figures such as F W Murnau Orson Welles and Alfred Hitchcock used camera movement to enrich their stories and deepen their themes Balancing close analysis with a broader poetics of camera movement Keating uses archival research to chronicle the technological breakthroughs and the changing division of labor that allowed for new possibilities as well as the shifting political and cultural contexts that inspired filmmakers to use technology in new ways An original history of film techniques and aesthetics The Dynamic Frame shows that the classical Hollywood camera moves not to imitate the actions of an omniscient observer but rather to produce the interplay of concealment and revelation that is an essential part of the exchange between film and viewer

Everett Ruess Philip L. Fradkin, 2011-08-29 Everett Ruess was twenty years old when he vanished into the canyonlands of southern Utah spawning the myth of a romantic desert wanderer that survives to this day It was 1934 and Ruess was in the fifth year of a quest to record wilderness beauty in works of art whose value was recognized by such contemporary artists as Dorothea Lange Ansel Adams and Edward Weston From his home in Los Angeles Ruess walked hitchhiked and rode burros up the California coast along the crest of the Sierra Nevada and into the deserts of the Southwest In the first probing biography of Everett Ruess acclaimed environmental historian Philip L Fradkin goes beyond the myth to reveal the realities of Ruess's short life and mysterious death and finds in the artist's astonishing afterlife Wallerstein Laboratories,1940      Selected Film Criticism: 1941-1950 Anthony Slide,1982 Provides a cross section of contemporary American film criticism from 1896 1960 The volumes reprint reviews in their entirety from periodicals such as Photoplay Film Reports The Moving Picture World Variety and The New York Times Of immense value for gauging contemporary reaction both popular and serious to the best known films of the past      Korea's Occupied Cinemas, 1893-1948 Brian Yecies,Ae-Gyung Shim,2012-05-23 Korea s Occupied Cinemas 1893 1948 compares and contrasts the development of cinema in Korea during the Japanese occupation 1910 1945 and US Army Military 1945 1948 periods within the larger context of cinemas in occupied territories It differs from previous studies by drawing links between the arrival in Korea of modern technology and ideas and the cultural political and social environment as it follows the development of exhibition film policy and filmmaking from 1893 to 1948 During this time Korean filmmakers seized every opportunity to learn production techniques and practice their skills contributing to the growth of a national cinema despite the conditions produced by their occupation by colonial and military powers At the same time Korea served as an important territory for the global expansion of the American and Japanese film industries and after the late 1930s Koreans functioned as key figures in the co production of propaganda films that were designed to glorify loyalty to the Japanese Empire For these reasons and as a result of the tensions created by divided loyalties the history of cinema in Korea is a far more dynamic story than simply that of a national cinema struggling to develop its own narrative content and aesthetics under colonial conditions      Special
