Make Room for Daddy Judith Walzer Leavitt, 2009-06-21 Using fathers first hand accounts from letters journals and personal interviews along with hospital records and medical literature Judith Walzer Leavitt offers a new perspective on the changing role of expectant fathers from the 1940s to the 1980s She shows how as men moved first from the hospital waiting room to the labor room in the 1960s and then on to the delivery and birthing rooms in the 1970s and 1980s they became progressively more involved in the birth experience and their influence over events expanded With careful attention to power and privilege Leavitt charts not only the increasing involvement of fathers but also medical inequalities the impact of race and class and the evolution of hospital policies Illustrated with more than seventy images from TV films and magazines this book provides important new insights into childbirth in modern America even as it reminds readers of their own experiences

The remarkable moving and exciting autobiography of an African child through wealth, poverty, civil war, to show business stardom. An inspiration for all those with faith. Father Knows Best Mary R. Desjardins, 2015-11-16. A historical and analytical examination of the iconic 1950s television and radio family sitcom. Although the iconic television series Father Knows Best (CBS 1954-55, NBC 1955-58, CBS 1958-60) has enjoyed a long history in rerun syndication and an enduring fan base, it is often remembered as cultural shorthand for 1950s era conformism and authoritarianism. In this study of Father Knows Best, author Mary R. Desjardins examines the program, its popularity, and its critical position within historical, industrial, and generic contexts to challenge oversimplified assumptions about the show's use of comedy and melodrama in exploring the place of family in mid-twentieth century American society. Desjardins begins by looking at Father Knows Best within media and production contexts, including its origin on radio, its place in the history of Screen Gems telefilm production, and its roots in the backgrounds and creative philosophies of co-producer Eugene Rodney and star producer Robert Young. She goes on to examine the social contexts for the creation and reception of the series, especially in the era's emphasis on family togetherness, shared parenting by both father and mother, and generational stages of the life cycle. Against this background, Desjardins also discusses several Father Knows Best episodes in depth to consider their treatment of conflicts over appropriate gender roles for women. She concludes by exploring how the series cast participated in reevaluations of the Anderson family's meaning in relation to real families of the fifties through television specials, talk show appearances, magazine and book interviews, and documentaries. Blending melodrama and comedy, naturalistic acting and stylized cinematic visuals, Father Knows Best dramatized ideological tensions in the most typical situations facing the American family. Scholars of mid-century American popular culture and film history, as well as fans of the show, will appreciate Desjardins's measured analysis. The Living Dolls - Origin Christopher Labinjo, 2018-11-09. A gripping sci-fi thriller about what happens when a man invents two living dolls, a brother and sister. Grace Is Enough Willie Aames, Maylo Upton, Carolyn Stanford Goss, 2007-11-01. While actor Willie Aames' Eight Is Enough (Charles in Charge) was at the peak of Hollywood success, his future wife Maylo Upton was a teenage runaway, eating out of trash bins and living on the streets to escape the sexual crimes of her cult ruined mother's barbaric boyfriend. By the time Willie met Maylo, his star was falling because of sex, drugs, rock and roll, and family problems, while her acting career was starting to rise. Together they found God and got their messy lives clean, but the ghosts from their gritty past would duly roughen the road to victory. Grace Is Enough is their fascinating insider

Fear and What Follows Tim Parrish, 2014-07-17 Fear and What Follows is a riveting unflinching account of the author s spiral into racist violence during the latter years of desegregation in 1960s and 1970s Baton Rouge About the memoir author and editor Michael Griffith writes This might be a controversial book in the best way controversial because it speaks to real and intractable problems and speaks to them with rare bluntness The narrative of Parrish s descent into fear and irrational behavior begins with bigotry and apocalyptic thinking in his Southern Baptist church Living a life upon this volatile foundation of prejudice and apprehension Parrish feels destabilized by his brother going to Vietnam his own puberty and restlessness serious family illness and economic uncertainty Then a near fatal street fight and subsequent stalking by an older sociopath fracture what security is left leaving him terrified and seemingly helpless Parrish comes to believe that he can only be safe by allying himself with brute force This brute influence is a vicious charismatic racist Under this bigot s terrible sway Parrish turns to violence in the street and at school He is even conflicted about whether he will help commit murder in order to avenge a friend At seventeen he must reckon with all of this as his parents and neighbors grow increasingly afraid that they are losing their neighborhood to African Americans Fear and What Follows is an unparalleled story of the complex roots of southern urban working class racism and white flight as well as a story of family love and the possibility of redemption Memories of an Old Geezer Charles Benjamin McReynolds, 2008-05 Reminiscences of McReynolds as a young boy growing up in the mountains of West Virginia The Neighborhood Paul H. Price, 2021-10-22 Childhood is the very foundation of adulthood The ideals and expressions of life we hold in our adulthood have their origins and rudiments in the ideals and expressions of life we encounter and gather and live out in our youth Be they feelings of worth or worthlessness the vigor and hope of making something of ourselves or an acquiescence to the belief that things of consequence are beyond our reach or the lens of optimism or of doubt with which we view our own existence all have their budding and beginnings in the experiences or lack of experiences of our childhood And growing up in the 1950s and 1960s was at a very unique convergence of circumstances of combined societal economical political spiritual and cultural seismic shifting perhaps unlike any other era We were a nation barely emerging from decades of world wide wars and economic ruin and social survival trying now to find our footing and our own stride and our equilibrium and our very identity Never were we more communally encased and even secure in and at the same time struggling to break out of our traditions our superstitions our ignorance our fears our limitations and our collective innocence
