Women's Agency and Ontology in Nineteenth-Century Iranian Photography Staci Gem Scheiwiller, 2025-05-30 This study argues that photographs from Qajar Iran 1785 1925 of harem women royal women and public women such as sex workers musicians singers and dancers make profound statements on the institution of the harem in a time of flux and modernization Depictions of the harem in photographs shifted the scopic regime of power and made visible an Iranian Sultanate of Women which produced a short succession of formidable driven women. These photographs became instrumental as a mirror for princesses in which women consolidated their political control by fashioning their images, constructing pictures of female rule, leaving a legacy and blueprint for future heads of harem and bolstering their positions within the harem, the court, the state, and the global arena. Thus, photography played a major role as an ontic condition that would further reformulate perceptions of harem women's ontological Being in the world, resulting in photographic evidence of their perceived agency. By the late nineteenth century, however, the institution of the harem began to wane, and women's search for political influence had to shift to photographs that were marked distinctly and visibly as anti-harem. This book will be of interest to scholars working in art history, history of photography, gender studies, and Iranian studies.

The Armenian Woman, Minoritarian Agency, and the Making of Iranian Modernity, 1860-1979 Talinn Grigor, Houri Berberian, 2025-03-04. With this book, Houri Berberian and Talinn Grigor offer the first history of Armenian women in modern Iran. Foregrounding the work of Armenian women's organizations, the authors trace minoritarian politics and the shifting relationships among doubly minoritized Armenian female subjects, Iran's central nodes of power, and the Irano-Armenian patriarchal institutions of church and political parties. Engaging broader considerations around modernization, nationalism, and feminism, this book makes a conceptually rich contribution to how we think about the history of women and minoritized peoples. Berberian and Grigor read archival, textual, visual, and oral history sources together and against one another to challenge conventional notions of the archive and transform silences and absences into audible and visual presences. Understanding minoritarian politics as formulated by women through their various forms of public and intellectual activism, this book provides a groundbreaking intervention in Iran's history of modernization, Armenian diasporic history, and Iranian and Armenian feminist historiography.

Creating the New Egyptian Woman M. Russell, 2004-11-12. A New Woman was announced in Egypt at the turn of the nineteenth century. With a new genre of prescriptive literature, new products, a new education, and a physically changed home, she increasingly emerged in public life. This book discusses and debates the place of Egyptian women while focusing on consumerism and education. Russell sheds much needed light on the struggle for identity in Egypt at a time of considerable flux and tension and provides a powerful angle to explore changing concepts of social dynamics and broader debates of what it meant to be modern while retaining local authenticity.

Shi'i Sectarianism in the Middle East Elisheva Machlis, 2014-09-17. The eruption of violent sectarianism in Iraq following the US invasion in 2003 brought the question of Sunni-Shi'i relations in the country to the forefront of the international public agenda. It also strengthened the popular belief that contemporary Shi'ism is inherently sectarian. Yet several decades earlier, Ayatollah Khomeini had declared an Islamic revolution and downplayed its Shi'i origins and links. So what is the true orientation of Shi'i Islam in the contemporary era, and how did modernisation alter its sectarian affiliation? This book contends that early Shi'i reformist thought set the foundations for a more universal-oriented Shi'ism. Prominent reformists in the first half of the twentieth century, from the holy cities of Karbala and Najaf in Iraq and from the Shi'i centres in Southern Lebanon played a significant role in the renewal of Shi'ism and laid the groundwork for its reinvention in the modern era Exploring this shift towards a more ecumenical perception of Islam Elisheva Machlis here provides a fresh perspective on inter sectarian relations in contemporary Iraq and illuminates the intellectual roots of the Islamic revolution by examining networks of Shi'i scholars such as Mu'ammad usayn K shif al Ghi and Mu sin al Am n al mil operating within a more globalised Muslim world Drawing on the experiences of early Shi'i reformists such as Abd al usayn Sharaf al D n al M saw in Lebanon and Mu'ammad Jaw d Mughniyya in Damascus this book gives new insight on the future of inter Muslim relations at a time of growing inter sectarian contention from the Iran Iraq war to the post 2003 Sunni Shi'i conflict in Iraq and al Qa ida s anti Shi'i message taking into account questions of theology historiography jurisprudence and politics which all played a vital role in the transition to the contemporary era The author here analyses the broad scholarly connections between Iran Iraq and Lebanon in the twentieth century while debating paramount questions of leadership identity and group membership in the development of modern Shi'ism Examining the relationship between intellectual thought and socio political development in the region this book provides a new perspective concerning the future of an increasingly globalised Muslim world and will prove essential reading for students and specialists

Sexuality in Muslim Contexts Anissa Helie, Homa Hoodfar, 2012-10-11 This groundbreaking book explores resistance against the harsh policing of sexuality in some Muslim societies Many Muslim majority countries still use religious discourse to enforce stigmatization and repression of those especially women who do not conform to sexual norms promoted either by the state or by non state actors In this context Islam is often stigmatized in Western discourse for being intrinsically restrictive with respect to women s rights and sexuality The authors show that conservative Muslim discourse does not necessarily match practices of believers or of citizens and that women s empowerment is facilitated where indigenous and culturally appropriate strategies are developed Using case studies from Pakistan Iran Indonesia China Bangladesh Israel and India they argue persuasively that Muslim religious traditions do not necessarily lead to conservative agendas but can promote emancipatory standpoints An intervention to the construction of Muslim women as uniformly subordinate this collection spearheads an unprecedented wake of organizing around sexualities in Muslim communities The to Z of Iran John H.
