Dale, Mary R. English, 2012-11-26 Environmental decision making is like politics mostly local In fact making decisions about the environment at the subnational level in state regional and local jurisdictions is a lot like politics For resolving environmental issues demands but often resists a balance between deeply held feelings and stark confrontations among opposing views This volume describes tools that should make the decision maker s lot a bit more tolerable The authors would be the last to suggest that these decision aiding tools will somehow bring a benign order to issues that reach to people s fundamental values What they can help do is to keep the debate focused on the important issues to serve up useful options and to narrow the range of disagreement Even this is a challenging assignment Still why bother The chief reason is that the locus of environmental decision making has in the past decade or so shifted from the national to the subnational level a convenient if colorless term to denote the hurly burly of environmental controversy outside the Washington Beltway For example New England has taken a regional stand on tropospheric ozone control and California requires automotive pollution controls that some other jurisdictions have partially adopted This shift is a profound but not unexpected result of the way environmental policy has evolved since the modern environmental movement began around the late 1960s Back then the pendulum was swinging the other way Rethinking Decision-Making Strategies and Tools Maria Palazzo, Alessandra Micozzi, 2024-02-16 Readers will be enabled to compare contrast and comprehend how the decision making strategies and tools from different lenses are delivered in different parts of the world The text includes an interesting mix of theory primary research findings and practice that will appeal to students academics and practitioners alike Tools, Language and Cognition in Human Evolution Kathleen Rita Gibson, Tim Ingold, 1993 Looks at how humans have evolved complex behaviours such as language and culture Progressive Decision-Making Tools and Applications in Project and Operation Management Mohammad Yazdi, 2024-03-07 In today s complex operational environments leveraging advanced decision making tools becomes imperative particularly in uncertain scenarios This book deepens the nuances of employing state of the art decision making methodologies within various industrial sectors for optimal project and operations management The essence of integrating these advanced tools is to equip professionals with pivotal insights for cost effective management and to strategize against potential operational shortcomings Furthermore the methodologies elucidated provide a robust foundation for crafting informed risk centric strategies that uphold the integrity of operations across diverse application domains Readers will discover a rich tapestry of methodologies tailored for engineers and analysts Deeply rooted in mathematical modeling these approaches are complemented by human judgment and participation Fundamental attributes of these methods include the evaluation of alternatives benchmarking against criteria assigning scores based on varying requirements and assigning weights to denote the significance of individual criteria vis vis others The book embarks on a structured journey commencing with a comprehensive review of evolving decision making methodologies in project and operations management enriched by metadata analysis Subsequent chapters are meticulously organized each spotlighting a distinct approach Topics span foundational concepts in decision making the nuances of performance metrics in the digital age and the implications of emerging technologies on operations management Targeted towards professionals and researchers immersed in project and operations management this work will also immensely benefit postgraduate and undergraduate students in related fields Moreover its relevance extends to professionals across diverse sectors from oil and gas marine and offshore and renewable energies to chemical complexes manufacturing and healthcare systems Free to Make Dale

S. K. Garg,2009 Annual Report of the Commissioner of Labor United States. Bureau of Labor,1911 The Tool Instinct François Osiurak,2020-06-03 Humans use countless tools and are constantly creating new ones We are so prone to materiality that the changes we implement in our environment could put our very survival at stake It has therefore become necessary to question the cognitive origins of this materiality The Tool Instinct examines this subject by diametrically setting aside the idea that tool use is limited to manual activity It proposes an original perspective that surpasses a great number of false beliefs regarding the relationship between humans and tools The author argues that the human tendency to create and use tools relies on our ability one that may be unique to our species to generate our own physical problems thereby resulting in a reasoning that is directed towards our physical world     Pamphlets on Biology ,1876     Ergonomics and Safety in Hand Tool Design Charles A.
