Marcus Clarke:

The Bohemian Republic James Gatheral, 2020-11-29 In the mid nineteenth century successive cultural Bohemias were proclaimed in Paris London New York and Melbourne Focusing on networks and borders as the central modes of analysis this book charts for the first time Bohemia's cross Channel transatlantic and trans Pacific migrations locating its creative expressions and social practices within a global context of ideas and action Though the story of Parisian Bohemia has been comprehensively told much less is known of its Anglophone translations The Bohemian Republic offers a radical reinterpretation of the phenomenon as the neglected lives and works of British Irish American and Australian Bohemians are reassessed the transnational networks of Bohemia are rediscovered the presence and influence of women in Bohemia is reclaimed and Bohemia's relationship with the marketplace is reconsidered Bohemia emerges as a marginal network which exerted a paradoxically powerful influence on the development of popular culture in the vanguard of material social and aesthetic innovations in literature art journalism and theatre Underpinned by extensive and original archival research the book repopulates the concept of Bohemianism with layers of the networked voices expressions ideas people places and practices that made up its constituent social imagined and interpretive communities The reader is brought closer than ever to the heart of Bohemia a shadowy world inhabited by the rebels of the mid nineteenth century Marcus Clarke. [With Portraits.] Brian Robinson ELLIOTT, 1958 Marcus Clarke Michael Wilding, 2021-03-18 Michael Wilding's essays on Marcus Clarke's life and works from his schooldays at Highgate to membership of the Melbourne Bohemian Yorick and his associations with the Chief of Police Captain Frederick Standish the Irish nationalist politician Sir Charles Gavan Duffy and the President of the Melbourne Public Library Sir Redmond Barry For the Term of His Natural Life Marcus Clarke, 1939 The Idea of Audience Simon Piening, 2025-02-25 What sort of relationship do artists want with their audience What kind of role do they imagine for the performing arts in their community Under the creative industries the audience relationship has been increasingly defined and shaped by marketing and or institutional interests Wedged between the competing needs of the market and their belief in the power of art to positively impact their communities many artists and arts workers are caught in what Julian Meyrick describes as a confused intellectual terrain While much audience scholarship has focused on understanding the motivations of audience members engaging with the arts there has been considerably less research into the motivations of arts professionals with respect to their relationship with the audience The Idea of Audience is a critical examination of the current fields of audience development and arts marketing and explores the relationship between artists and audiences from the perspective of the artists themselves The book will be of most interest to students and academics of audience development arts marketing theatre performance and audience studies It is hoped that the reader will gain greater insight into what artists actually mean when they talk about their audience The Marcus Clarke Memorial Volume Marcus Clarke, 1884 Catalogue New South Wales Free Public Library, Sydney, 1895 The Self in the Cell Sean C. Grass,2014-01-27 Michel Foucault's writing about the Panopticon in Discipline and Punish has dominated discussions of the prison and the novel and recent literary criticism draws heavily from Foucauldian ideas about surveillance to analyze metaphorical forms of confinement policing detection and public scrutiny and censure But real Victorian prisons and the novels that portray them have few similarities to the Panopticon Sean Grass provides a necessary alternative to Foucault by tracing the cultural history of the Victorian prison and pointing to the tangible relations between Victorian confinement and the narrative production of the self The Self in the Cell examines the ways in which separate confinement prisons with their demand for autobiographical production helped to provide an impetus and a model that guided novelists' explorations of the private self in Victorian fiction

Departures Xavier Pons,2002 A collection of essays by various Australian and European authors on a wide range of Australian cultural topics this is a story of struggle and achievement and occasional failure Departures deals with innovation and transgression in Australian literature and history and brings out the vitality of Australian culture as it meets new challenges

Seeing Christ in Australia Since 1850 Kerrie Handasyde,Sean Winter,2024-09-03 This book presents cultural representations of Christ embedded in the imagination and the contested myths of Australian life The essays attest to the variety and subtlety of neglected or unspoken representations of Christ in Australia In a land that has often declared itself secular or post Christian this volume looks into the Australian imagination in between the sacred and secular to see Christ in Australia

The Book Lover Warren Elbridge Price,1899

Colonial Australian Fiction Ken Gelder,Rachael Weaver,2017-04-07 Over the course of the nineteenth century a remarkable array of types appeared and disappeared in Australian literature the swagman the larrikin the colonial detective the bushranger the currency lass the squatter and more Some had a powerful influence on the colonies developing sense of identity others were more ephemeral But all had a role to play in shaping and reflecting the social and economic circumstances of life in the colonies In Colonial Australian Fiction Character Types Social Formations and the Colonial Economy Ken Gelder and Rachael Weaver explore the genres in which these characters flourished the squatter novel the bushranger adventure colonial detective stories the swagman's yarn the Australian girl's romance Authors as diverse as Catherine Helen Spence Rosa Praed Henry Kingsley Anthony Trollope Henry Lawson Miles Franklin Barbara Baynton Rolf Boldrewood Mary Fortune and Marcus Clarke were fascinated by colonial character types and brought them vibrantly to life As this book shows colonial Australian character types are fluid contradictory and often unpredictable When we look closely they have the potential to challenge our assumptions about fiction genre and national identity The preliminary pages and introduction to this work are available free to download at the Sydney eScholarship Repository <https://hdl.handle.net/2123/16435> Contents Introduction The Colonial Economy and the Production of Colonial Character Types 1 The Reign of the Squatter 2 Bushrangers 3 Colonial Australian Detectives 4 Bush Types and Metropolitan Types 5 The Australian Girl Works Cited Index About the series The Sydney Studies in Australian Literature series publishes original peer reviewed research in the field of Australian literature The series comprises monographs devoted to the works of major authors and themed collections of essays about current issues in the field of Australian literary studies The series offers well researched and engagingly written re evaluations of the nature and importance of Australian literature and aims to reinvigorate its study both in Australia and internationally The Australian Journal ,1870 Rule of Darkness Patrick

Brantlinger,2013-01-15 A major contribution to the cultural and literary history of the Victorian age Rule of Darkness maps the complex relationship between Victorian literary forms genres and theories and imperialist racist ideology Critics and cultural historians have usually regarded the Empire as being of marginal importance to early and mid Victorian writers Patrick Brantlinger asserts that the Empire was central to British culture as a source of ideological and artistic energy both supported by and lending support to widespread belief in racial superiority the need to transform savagery into civilization and the urgency of promoting emigration Rule of Darkness brings together material from public records memoirs popular culture and canonical literature Brantlinger explores the influence of the novels of Captain Frederick Marryat pioneer of British adolescent adventure fiction and shows the importance of William Makepeace Thackeray s experience of India to his novels He treats a number of Victorian best sellers previously ignored by literary historians including the Anglo Indian writer Philip Meadows Taylor s Confessions of a Thug and Seeta Brantlinger situates explorers narratives and travelogues by such famous author adventurers as David Livingstone and Sir Richard Burton in relation to other forms of Victorian and Edwardian prose Through readings of works by Arthur Conan Doyle Joseph Conrad H Rider Haggard Rudyard Kipling John Hobson and many others he considers representations of Africa India and other non British parts of the world in both fiction and nonfiction The most comprehensive study yet of literature and imperialism in the early and mid Victorian years Rule of Darkness offers in addition a revisionary interpretation of imperialism as a significant factor in later British cultural history from the 1880s to World War I It is essential reading for anyone concerned with Victorian culture and society and more generally with the relationship between Victorian writers and imperialism and between racist ideology and patterns of domination in modern history Parliamentary Debates Victoria. Parliament,1887 Peripheral Fear Gerry Turcotte,2009 This is a pioneering work published here for the first time in its complete form At a time when Gothic studies still concentrated on traditional European and American Gothic the author laid the foundations for the exploration of how Gothic conventions were transported and transformed in places remote from Europe Through a detailed reading of 19th and 20th century examples of Canadian and Australian Gothic fiction this work demonstrates the transformative potential of a once much maligned mode in what were arguably neglected national literatures Dictionary of National Biography Sir Leslie Stephen,Sir Sidney Lee,1903 Dictionary of National Biography Leslie Stephen,1887 Dictionary of national biography, ed. by L. Stephen (and S. Lee). [With] Suppl. 3 vols.:Index and epitome [and] Errata Dictionary,1887 The Melbourne Review ,1882
