

MARGINALIZATION

Marginalization refers to the process by which individuals or groups are pushed to the edges of society, limiting their access to resources, power, and opportunities.

DEFINITION

Marginalization refers to a complex process of relegation to the fringe of society. It is often triggered by the intersection of sociocultural, economic, and political forces that manifest in the unequal distribution of resources and opportunities.

As defined by Giddens (2006), marginalization is: "...the act of consigning to a lower or outer edge, as of specific groups of people."

EXAMPLES

- African Americans: Historical and systemic racism has led to the marginalization of African American communities, reducing access to social services.
- Indigenous Populations: Indigenous communities are often marginalized due to a lack of recognition of their rights, culture, and traditional knowledge systems.

Marginal People:

Community and Growth Jean Vanier, 1989 If you've ever thought about community whether as a lifestyle or simply as an expression of deeper fellowship with others this book is essential reading In the fifteen years since it first appeared in English it has become the classic text on the subject read dog eared borrowed and discussed Vanier is not a rosy idealist That is because his writing is based not on theories but on a wealth of wisdom gleaned over many years living in community experiencing difficult days and joyous celebrations times of struggle and hard won success moments of doubt and inspiration He acknowledges the inevitable little frustrations of a life lived with and for others but he also helps the reader see that without struggle there is no true growth The Construction of Racial Identity in Children of Mixed Parentage Ilan Katz, 1996 This book is a major contribution to the literature on race identity and child development and offers a radically new way of looking at some of these issues Based on intensive research on interracial families the book reviews the previous literature relating to racial identity development and shows it to be based on flawed assumptions Analysing Social Policy Greg Marston, Catherine McDonald, 2006-01-01 This book brings together leading international researchers to discuss governmental approaches to analysing social policies Analysing Social Policy expands the scope of social policy analysis using the insights from post Foucauldian scholarship on the art of governing in liberal democracies One of the main conclusions reached is that policy researchers need to pay much greater attention to the minutiae of policy reform and to the discursive and material ways in which power operates in policy change The chapters comprising this book are purposefully written in a clear accessible and reflective manner with each of the contributions empirically grounded drawing on social policy problems and practices in many countries ranging from North America to Europe to Australasia The editors address key concerns of both policy analysts as well as academic researchers attempting to locate appropriate theoretical frameworks to make sense of welfare state restructuring in the 21st century This book will appeal to researchers and research students in political science social policy social work and sociology through its demonstration of how to apply contemporary social theory to research problems It will also be of interest to policy scholars around the world who are involved in analysing the intersections of power politics and policy The History of the Peoples of the Eastern Desert Hans Barnard, Kim Duistermaat, 2012-12-31 The last quarter century has seen extensive research on the ports of the Red Sea coast of Egypt the road systems connecting them to the Nile and the mines and quarries in the region Missing has been a systematic study of the peoples of the Eastern Desert the area between the Red Sea and the Nile Valley in whose territories these ports roads mines and quarries were located The historical overview of the Eastern Desert in the shape of a roughly chronological narrative presented in this book fills that gap The multidisciplinary perspective focuses on the long term history of the region The extensive range of topics addressed includes specific historical periods natural resources nomadic survival strategies ancient textual data and the interaction between Christian hermits and their neighbors The breadth of perspective does not sacrifice depth for all authors deal in some detail with the specifics of their subject matter As a whole this collection provides an outline of the history and sociology of the Eastern Desert unparalleled in any language for its comprehensiveness As such it will be the essential starting point for future research on the Eastern Desert Includes a CD of eleven audio files with music of the Ababda Nomads and six short videos of Ababda culture Identity and Marginality among New Australians

Viktor Zander, 2012-10-24 This work deals with the identification and integration process of immigrants in Australia and the role that religion plays in this process Viktor Zander investigates the immigrant community of Slavic Baptists in Victoria and analyzes the relationship between ethnic and religious identities as well as their social dynamics Identity and marginality are addressed as crucial issues for Slavic immigrants and their Australian born children The work is based on the author's field research in the Slavic Baptist community in Victoria Key Features Second volume in relaunch of the series Religion and Society RS Margins of Insecurity Sam C.
