Marginalia To Life:

Romanticism and Methodism Helen Boyles, 2016-10-14 Exploring the intense relationship between Romantic literature and Methodism Helen Boyles argues that writers from both movements display an ambivalent attitude towards the expression of deep emotional and spiritual experience Boyles takes up the disparaging characterization of William Wordsworth and other Romantic poets as Methodistical showing how this criticism was rooted in a suspicion of the enthusiasm with which the Methodist movement was negatively identified Historically enthusiasm has generated hostility and embarrassment a legacy that Boyles suggests provoked concerted efforts by Romantic poets such as Wordsworth and the Methodist leaders John and Charles Wesley to cleanse it of its derogatory associations While they distanced themselves from enthusiasm's dangerous and hysterical manifestations writers and religious leaders also identified with the precepts and inspiration of a language and religion of the heart Boyles's analysis encompasses a range of literary genres from the Methodist sermon and hymn to literary biography critical review lyric and epic poem Balancing analysis of creative content with a consideration of its critical reception she offers readers a detailed analysis of Wordsworth's relationship to popular evangelism within a analytical framework that incorporates Samuel Taylor Coleridge Robert Southey and William Hazlitt

Marginalia: Valckenaer to Zwick Samuel Taylor Coleridge, 1969      George Santayana's Marginalia George Santayana, 2011      Women's Life Writing and Early Modern Ireland Julie A. Eckerle, Naomi McAreavey, 2019-06-01 Women's Life Writing and Early Modern Ireland provides an original perspective on both new and familiar texts in this first critical collection to focus on seventeenth century women's life writing in a specifically Irish context By shifting the focus away from England even though many of these writers would have identified themselves as English and making Ireland and Irishness the focus of their essays the contributors resituate women's narratives in a powerful and revealing landscape This volume addresses a range of genres from letters to book marginalia and a number of different women from now canonical life writers such as Mary Rich and Ann Fanshawe to far less familiar figures such as Eliza Blennerhassett and the correspondents and supplicants of William King archbishop of Dublin The writings of the Boyle sisters and the Duchess of Ormonde women from the two most important families in seventeenth century Ireland also receive a thorough analysis These innovative and nuanced scholarly considerations of the powerful influence of Ireland on these writers construction of self provide fresh illuminating insights into both their writing and their broader cultural context      Life in Christ Mark A. Garcia, 2008-04-01 In three wide ranging case studies Mark A Garcia offers a comprehensive yet focused analysis of the centrality of union with Christ in Calvin's thought It explains not only the distinctive nature of Calvin's response to Rome on justification but why this response must be carefully distinguished from that of his Lutheran counterparts The fruit of these investigations is the first extensive demonstration that Calvin's exposition of union with Christ in relating justification and sanctification points to an emerging Reformed theology of justification that diverges from the Lutheran tradition Calvin's exegetical and theological model of union with Christ accents the importance in the early Reformed tradition of the relationship between Christology and salvation

The Bible in American Life Philip Goff, Arthur E. Farnsley II, Peter J. Thuesen, 2017-03-01 The Bible in American Life is a sustained collaborative reflection on the ways Americans use the Bible in their personal lives It also considers how other influences including religious communities and the internet shape individuals comprehension and engagement with scripture

Thomas Swalwell Anne T. Thayer, 2025-04-17 The marginalia of Thomas Swalwell d 1539 in his many early printed books provide remarkable access to the interests and concerns of a typical late medieval English Benedictine monk Devout scholarly and busy he studies everything from how to assess tithes on sheep to theological differences between Muslims and Christians He is passionate about prayer preaching and clerical integrity while carrying significant administrative responsibilities within the Durham Priory In the early years of the Reformation his annotations reveal the impact of religious change and his response to it Illustrated with samples of Swalwell s marginalia and rare sheets of his manuscript notes this volume will be a welcome addition to the collection of anyone interested in monasticism the history of the book or early English Reformation history

The Arts and Crafts of Literacy Andrea Brigaglia, Mauro Nobili, 2017-09-25 During the last two decades the re discovery of thousands of manuscripts in different regions of sub Saharan Africa has questioned the long standing approach of Africa as a continent only characterized by orality and legitimately assigned to the continent the status of a civilization of written literacy However most of the existing studies mainly aim at serving literary and historical purposes and focus only on the textual dimension of the manuscripts This book advances on the contrary a holistic approach to the study of these manuscripts and gather contributions on the different dimensions of the manuscript i e the materials the technologies the practices and the communities involved in the production commercialization circulation preservation and consumption The originality of this book is found in its methodological approach as well as its comparative geographic focus presenting studies on a continental scale including regions formerly neglected by existing scholarship provides a unique opportunity to expand our still scanty knowledge of the different manuscript cultures that the African continent has developed and that often can still be considered as living traditions

The Life of Thomas Paine Moncure Daniel Conway, 1909      A Bibliography of Samuel Taylor Coleridge John Louis Haney, 1903

The Life of Thomas Paine Conway, 1892      Romancing the Self in Early Modern Englishwomen's Life Writing Julie A. Eckerle, 2016-04-01 Juxtaposing life writing and romance this study offers the first book length exploration of the dynamic and complex relationship between the two genres In so doing it operates at the intersection of several recent trends interest in women s contributions to autobiography greater awareness of the diversity and flexibility of auto biographical forms in the early modern period and the use of manuscripts and other material evidence to trace literacy practices Through analysis of a wide variety of life writings by early modern Englishwomen including Elizabeth Delaval Dorothy Calthorpe Ann Fanshawe and Anne Halkett Julie A Eckerle demonstrates that these women were not only familiar with the controversial romance genre but also deeply influenced by it Romance she argues with its unending tales of unsatisfying love spoke to something in women s experience offered a model by which they could recount their own disappointments in a world where arranged marriage and often loveless matches ruled the day and exerted a powerful pervasive pressure on their textual self formations Romancing the Self in Early Modern Englishwomen s Life Writing documents a vibrant secular form of auto biographical writing that coexisted alongside numerous spiritual forms providing a much more nuanced and complete understanding of sixteenth and seventeenth century women s reading and writing literacies The life of Thomas Paine. To which is added a sketch of Paine by W. Cobbett Moncure Daniel

Conway,1892 Robert Southey, The Life of Wesley; and the Rise and Progress of Methodism Tim Fulford,2022-05-30 The Life of Wesley was one of Southey s most influential and bestselling works It was the first biography of John Wesley the major figure in the largest religious movement of the eighteenth century to be published by anyone beyond the Methodist community In addition it was a major history of the rise of a phenomenon that Southey and many others saw as a defining sign of contemporary history the rise of sectarianism and of religious cults This two volume edition will represent the full text of the 1820 edition It will include a comprehensive critical apparatus that will make sense of the major issues posed by the text and how it contributes to studies of both Southey and Romanticism The edition will feature a critical and contextual introduction which will set out the origins and composition of the text together with its publication history as well as offer a carefully considered view of the interplay between the Life and other biographies of Wesley and accounts of Methodism bringing into view the wide array of sources and influences Southey drew from It will also examine the book s reception history incorporating material from reviews of the period and detailing the controversy it caused in the Methodist community

Genre and Women's Life Writing in Early Modern England Michelle M. Dowd,Julie A. Eckerle,2016-04-15 By taking account of the ways in which early modern women made use of formal and generic structures to constitute themselves in writing the essays collected here interrogate the discursive contours of gendered identity in sixteenth and seventeenth century England The contributors explore how generic choice mixture and revision influence narrative constructions of the female self in early modern England Collectively they situate women s life writings within the broader textual culture of early modern England while maintaining a focus on the particular rhetorical devices and narrative structures that comprise individual texts Reconsidering women s life writing in light of recent critical trends most notably historical formalism this volume produces both new readings of early modern texts such as Margaret Cavendish s autobiography and the diary of Anne Clifford and a new understanding of the complex relationships between literary forms and early modern women s selves This volume engages with new critical methods to make innovative connections between canonical and non canonical writing in so doing it helps to shape the future of scholarship on early modern women The Life of Adam Smith Ian Simpson Ross,2010-09-23 In this the first full scale biography of Adam Smith for a hundred years Ian Simpson Ross brings his subject into historical light as a thinker and author by examining his family circumstance education career and social and intellectual circle including David Hume and Francois Quesnay Smith's life is revealed through his correspondence archival documents the reports of contemporaries and the record of his publications This is the life of a Scottish moral philosopher whose legacy of thought concerns and affects us all Its lively and informed account will appeal to those interested in the social and intellectual milieu of the eighteenth century and in Scottish history Economists and philosophers will find much to read about the history of their disciplines supported by full documentation

Medicine and Religion in the Life of an Ottoman Sheikh Ahmed Ragab, 2019-03-01 In 1768 Ahmad al Damanih became the rector shaykh of al Azhar which was one of the most authoritative and respected positions in the Ottoman Empire He occupied this position until his death Despite being a prolific author whose writings are largely extant al Damanih remains almost unknown and much of his work awaits study and analysis This book aims to shed light on al Damanih's diverse intellectual background and that of his contemporaries building on and continuing the scholarship on the academic thought of the late Ottoman Empire The book specifically investigates the intersection of medical and religious knowledge in Eighteenth Century Egypt It takes as its focus a manuscript on anatomy by al Damanih dated 1778 entitled The Clear Statement on the Science of Anatomy al qawl al ar f ilm al tashr The book includes an edited translation of The Clear Statement which is a well known but unstudied and unpublished manuscript It also provides a summary translation and analysis of al Damanih's own intellectual autobiography As such the book provides an important window into a period that remains deeply understudied and a topic that continues to cause debates and controversies This study therefore will be of keen interest to scholars working on the post Classical Islamic world as well as historians of religion science and medicine looking beyond Europe in the Early Modern period

Life Writing and Space Eveline Kilian, Hope Wolf, 2017-05-15 How does our ability desire or failure to locate ourselves within space and with respect to certain places effect the construction and narration of our identities Approaching recordings and interpretations of selves memories and experiences through the lens of theories of space and place this book brings the recent spatial turn in the Humanities to bear upon the work of life writing It shows how concepts of subjectivity draw on spatial ideas and metaphors and how the grounding and uprooting of the self is understood in terms of place The different chapters investigate ways in which selves are reimagined through relocation and the traversing of spaces and texts Many are concerned with the politics of space how racial social and sexual topographies are navigated in life writing Some examine how focusing on space rather than time impacts upon autobiographical form The book blends sustained theoretical reflections with textual analyses and also includes experimental contributions that explore independencies between spaces and selves by combining criticism with autobiography Together they testify that life writing can hardly be thought of without its connection to space
