Webber,Thomas Allen Jefferson,Robert L. Pitman,2015-07-28 This new edition of Marine Mammals of the World describes and illustrates newly discovered and rarely photographed species making it the most comprehensive and up to date identification guide available This edition continues to meet the research focused needs of marine biologists and conservation biologists by providing a tremendous influx of new photos taking advantage of advances in digital and auto focusing photography and the emergence of marine mammal studies and whalewatching around the world The book encompasses cetacean pinniped and sirenian species as well as extinct species and describes basic biology and taxonomic groupings of marine mammals Contains superb photographs of every species of marine mammal for accurate identification Authors possess nearly 80 years of collective experience with almost all of the species and distinctive geographic forms described in the guide Provides the most detailed and anatomically accurate illustrations currently available including more than 750 new illustrations Special emphasis is placed on the identification of species in problem groups such as the beaked whales long beaked oceanic dolphins and southern fur seals Includes a detailed list of sources for more information Contains updated taxonomy including four new species     The Archaeology of Native North America Dean Snow,Nancy Gonlin,Peter Siegel,2019-07-30 The Archaeology of Native North America presents the ideas evidence and debates regarding the initial peopling of the continent by mobile bands of hunters and gatherers and the cultural evolution of their many lines of descent over the ensuing millennia The emergence of farming urban centers and complex political organization paralleled similar developments in other world areas With the arrival of Europeans to North America and the inevitable clashes of culture colonizers and colonists were forever changed which is also represented in the archaeological heritage of the continent Unlike others this book includes Mesoamerica and the Caribbean thus addressing broad regional interactions and the circulation of people things and ideas This edition incorporates results of new archaeological research since the publication of the first edition a decade earlier Fifty four new box features highlight selected archaeological sites which are publicly accessible gateways into the study of North American archaeology The features were authored by specialists with direct knowledge of the sites and their broad importance Glossaries are provided at the end of every chapter to clarify specialized terminology The book is directed to upper level undergraduate and graduate students taking survey courses in American archaeology as well as other advanced readers It is extensively illustrated and includes citations to sources with their own robust bibliographies leading diligent readers deeper into the professional literature The Archaeology of Native North America is the ideal text for courses in North American archaeology Human Impacts on Seals, Sea Lions, and Sea Otters Todd J. Braje, Torben C. Rick, 2011-03-23 For more than ten thousand years Native Americans from Alaska to southern California relied on aquatic animals such as seals sea lions and sea otters for food and raw materials Archaeological research on the interactions between people and these marine mammals has made great advances recently and provides a unique lens for understanding the human and ecological past Archaeological research is also emerging as a crucial source of information on contemporary environmental issues as we improve our understanding of the ancient abundance ecology and natural history of these species This groundbreaking interdisciplinary volume brings together archaeologists biologists and other scientists to consider how archaeology can inform the conservation and management of pinnipeds and other marine mammals along the Pacific Coast The Marine Mammal Protection Act of 1972 Annual Report, 1986 Rescue, Rehabilitation, and Release of Marine Mammals David John St. Aubin, Joseph R.
