Postcolonial Governmentalities Terri-Anne Teo,, Elisa Wynne-Hughes,2020-02-18 This edited volume asks how governmentality and postcolonial approaches can be brought together to help us better understand specific sites and practices of contemporary postcolonial governance The framework approach was inspired by the recent use of governmentality approaches that emphasize how governance functions not solely through states but through multiple tactics and means that regulate the conduct of individuals and institutions through both freedom and constraint A postcolonial approach to governance exposes the role of postcolonial sites and practices in shaping governance and the inequalities embedded within it insofar as standards of conduct determine which subjects are privileged and excluded Postcolonial perspectives show how governance can be both productive and repressive functioning to impose a fixed code of conduct that objectifies gendered racialized sexualized others as part of its project of improvement In discussing governance we must also consider how power is negotiated and challenged through forms of resistance and counter conduct This volume argues that we need to incorporate postcolonial theories and carefully examine postcolonial practices and sites to understand how contemporary governance shapes various transnational inequalities and social divisions The authors in this edited volume illustrate the value of postcolonial governance as a conceptual framework through empirical examples from Asia Australia Africa and Europe These cases unpack practices of governance operating within complex political landscapes      Art and Architecture Neil Spiller,2023-08-28 The link between architecture and art and the sublimity it can create has a history that stretches back millennia From cave paintings to the stained glass and saintly icons in churches and cathedrals to the geometric and calligraphic treatments of mosques and contemporary artists channelling architecture and vice versa and so much else This AD is about the contemporary interactions between living artists and architects and the artistic practices such as poetry and abstractions that architects adopt to develop ideas for their projects The issue features artists architects curators musicians poets and designer craftspeople illustrating the current rich mix of architectonic constructions interventions and set pieces that range from musical performance to exhibition designs glass works and digital 3D scanning It lays out the wide spectrum and beauty of these sublime correspondences with contributions from architects about their own artistic practices and creative works viewed through the eyes of architectural commentators An explosion of colour form and creative tactics for making multifaceted work that above all is architectural it offers a cornucopia of possibilities Contributors Peter Baldwin Kathy Battista Nic Clear Mathew Emmett Paul Finch Paul Greenhalgh Hamed Khosravi Eva Menuhin Felix Robbins and Simon Withers Featured architects and artists a project Captivate Brian Clarke Andy Goldsworthy Barbara Hepworth Danny Lane Ben Johnson Brendan Neiland Ian Ritchie and Zoe Zenghelis      Historic Maritime Greenwich ,1993      That Hamilton Woman Barry Gough,2016-08-30 Emma Hamilton much maligned by her contemporaries and later by historians and commentators rose from the most humble beginnings to play a startling role in Britain's naval victory over France and Spain in 1805. In this new book Barry Gough, employing the letters between the protagonists and the unpublished examination of her career by famed American historian of the Royal Navy Arthur Marder, strongly defends Emma. He shows how this most talented of women and the beauty of her age fell victim to innuendo, slander, and cruel caricature. She was to die in poverty in Calais in 1815, just months before Napoleon's final defeat. England's greatest sailor fell deeply in love with Emma in the years before Trafalgar. This, together with his quest for glory and victory, entangled him in an inescapable web of circumstances and calumny. The author explores the evolving scandal, the high political stakes that were involved, and the love affair itself, which so influenced the fortunes of England's glory and the fate of her Wooden Walls. No novelist could have created such a tortuous scenario, charged as it was with high emotions, slurs, insults, and slander. Richly illustrated throughout, the book shows Emma, probably the most painted woman of her age, in all her glories; it also shows how heartlessly caricaturists treated her. That Hamilton woman will long remain a controversial figure, but here the author places her as one of the forces that gave the Royal Navy its will to fight and conquer. He depicts sympathetically a woman entrapped in circumstances of her own making, her saga reminding us of how frail is human fortune. A Concise Guide to the National Maritime Museum, Greenwich National Maritime Museum (Greenwich, London), 1957*

British Warship Losses in the Age of Sail, 1649-1859 David Hepper, 2023-12-30. This significant new reference book provides a complete list of the ships of the Royal Navy which were lost at sea in the age of sail. Arranged in chronological order, it includes outline details of each vessel lost and the circumstances of her loss. 1649 is the start date, which coincides with the execution of Charles I and that time when the Royal Navy entered a new phase as an instrument of state; the launch of the steam-powered and iron-hulled Warrior in 1860 effectively marks the end of the great era of the wooden-hulled sailing warship. Life at sea in the age of sail was a hazardous pursuit, and there were many reasons for a ship being lost. A correspondent to the Nautical Magazine in 1841 detailed some fifty reasons and causes, from being short of crew, abandonment without sufficient cause, the poor condition of a ship, incorrectness of charts, poor dead reckoning, as well as less obvious reasons such as the presence of captains' wives and other women. Navigational error, particularly before the chronometer allowed for the accurate calculation of longitude, was a common reason, while poor weather in the form of fog or gales was an obvious peril. So many ships suffered the melancholy fate of lonely disappearance, overwhelmed by storm and sea, and witnessed by none. Collisions and fire feature regularly, as does, of course, loss to the enemy. Each entry includes details of the ship, its name and type, tonnage and dimensions, origin and place of build, the circumstances of the loss, the date, and a list of the main references used. All this material is presented here in a single and highly accessible volume, and represents a major milestone both in naval research and publishing; it offers too a fund of fascinating and compelling stories of maritime misadventure. Praise for the author's previous work. This volume is an amazing encyclopaedic catalogue of British
