The Dissociative Mind Elizabeth F. Howell, 2013-05-13 Drawing on the pioneering work of Janet Freud Sullivan and Fairbairn and making extensive use of recent literature Elizabeth Howell develops a comprehensive model of the dissociative mind Dissociation for her suffuses everyday life it is a relationally structured survival strategy that arises out of the mind's need to allow interaction with frightening but still urgently needed others For therapists dissociated self states are among the everyday fare of clinical work and gain expression in dreams projective identifications and enactments Pathological dissociation on the other hand results when the psyche is overwhelmed by trauma and signals the collapse of relationality and an addictive clinging to dissociative solutions Howell examines the relationship of segregated models of attachment disorganized attachment mentalization and defensive exclusion to dissociative processes in general and to particular kinds of dissociative solutions Enactments are reframed as unconscious procedural ways of being with others that often result in segregated systems of attachment Clinical phenomena associated with splitting are assigned to a model of attachment based dissociation in which alternating dissociated self states develop along an axis of relational trauma Later chapters of the book examine dissociation in relation to pathological narcissism the creation and reproduction of gender and psychopathy Elegant in conception thoughtful in tone broad and deep in clinical applications Howell takes the reader from neurophysiology to attachment theory to the clinical remediation of trauma states to the reality of evil It provides a masterful overview of a literature that extends forward to the writings of Bromberg Stern Ryle and others The capstone of contemporary understandings of dissociation in relation to development and psychopathology The Dissociative Mind will be an adventure and an education for its many clinical readers

Law and Evil Ari Hirvonen, Janne Porttikivi, 2009-10-22 Law and Evil opens expands and deepens our understanding of the phenomenon of evil by addressing the theoretical relationship between this phenomenon and law Hannah Arendt said the problem of evil will be the fundamental question of post war intellectual life in Europe This statement is unfortunately more than valid in the contemporary world not only in the events of war crimes against humanity terror repression criminality violence torture human trafficking and so on but also as evil is used rhetorically to condemn these acts to categorise their perpetrators and to justify forcible measures both in international and domestic politics and law But what is evil Evil as a concept is too often taken as something that is self evident something that is always already defined Taking Kant's concept of radical evil as a starting point this volume counters such a tendency Bringing together philosophical political and psychoanalytical perspectives in analysing both the concept and the phenomenon of evil the contributors to this volume offer a rich and thoroughgoing analysis of the multifaceted phenomenon of evil and its relationship to law

Carveth, 2018-05-01 Whereas Freud himself viewed conscience as one of the functions of the superego in The Still Small Voice Psychoanalytic Reflections on Guilt and Conscience the author argues that superego and conscience are distinct mental functions and that therefore a fourth mental structure the conscience needs to be added to the psychoanalytic structural theory of the mind He claims that while both conscience and superego originate in the so called pre oedipal phase of infant and child development they are comprised of contrasting and often conflicting identifications The primary object still most often the mother is inevitably experienced as on the one hand nurturing and soothing and on the other as frustrating and persecuting Conscience is formed in identification with the nurturer the superego in identification with the aggressor There is a principle of reciprocity at work in the human psyche for love received one seeks to return love for hate hate the talion law      Criminal Psychology Jacqueline B.
