O'Leary, 2006-09-23 Creative imitation Gk mimesis Lt imitatio was the primary literary convention of the ancient world of the first century CE In the first part of the book it is demonstrated that it was the principal means by which classical authors for example Virgil Seneca Plutarch and Livy composed their works An examination of the use of sources in both Jewish and Christian Sacred Scriptures in the light of this convention provides a new and fruitful approach to scripture scholarship The Book of Tobit and Paul's First Letter to the Corinthians 1 Cor 8 10 are examined to demonstrate this thesis This sets the context for an examination of Matthew's use of Mark as a literary source in the light of Graeco Roman literary conventions in part two of the book Such a use is entirely plausible when one considers that penned in Greek probably to Diaspora audiences the canonical gospels reflect Greco Roman rather than strictly Palestinian Jewish literary conventions Both the way in which Matthew incorporates his Markan source into his text and the function and effect of this source in its new Matthean context are examined This methodology provides compelling evidence that Matthew's use of Mark as a source was toward the Judaization of his Gospel The ... Report of the British and Foreign Bible Society ,1823 Reports of the British and Foreign Bible Society ,1822 Paul and Mark Oda Wischmeyer, David C. Sim, Ian J. Elmer, 2014-08-20 The hypothesis that the Gospel of Mark was heavily influenced by Pauline theology and or epistles was widespread in the nineteenth century but fell out of favour for much of the twentieth century In the last twenty years or so however this view has begun to attract renewed support especially in English language scholarship This major and important collection of essays by an international team of scholars seeks to move the discussion forward in a number of significant ways tracing the history of the hypothesis from the nineteenth century to the modern day searching for historical connections between these two early Christians analysing and comparing the theology and christology of the Pauline epistles and the Gospel of Mark and assessing their reception in later Christian texts This major volume will be welcomed by those who are interested in the possible influence of the apostle to the Gentiles on the earliest Gospel An Introduction to the New Testament Charles B. Cousar, 2006-01-01 Written by prominent professor and skilled interpreter Charles Cousar An Introduction to the New Testament provides a concise overview of the content and purpose of the books of the New Testament within the context of the church's early development This cogent introduction gives serious attention to the history of earliest Christianity but always returns to the texts theological meaning and significance highlighting the relevance of these books for the church today Gender and Second-Temple Judaism Kathy Ehrensperger, Shayna Sheinfeld, 2020-09-24 Ancient literature was generally written by and produced for elite men That fact creates specific challenges to modern interpreters of gender roles in the ancient world especially once contemporary understandings of gender as construction and performance are embraced In Gender and Second Temple Judaism world renowned scholars take on these challenges with regard to ancient Judaism here including early Christianity and early rabbinic Judaism as well as once examining the ancient evidence and quite consciously addressing difficult methodological questions regarding gender Taken together these chapters further complicate discussions of the construction of identity e g who is a Jew by inflecting them with questions of gender construction as well Scholars of ancient Judaism and of gender alike will find much to grapple with in these pages The Sermon on the Mount and Spiritual Exercises George Branch-Trevathan, 2020-03-31 What in Matthew's view should a human being become and how does one attain that ideal In The Sermon on the Mount and Spiritual Exercises The Making of the Matthean Self George Branch Trevathan presents a new account of Matthew's ethics and argues that the evangelist presents the Sermon on the Mount as functioning like many other ancient sayings collections that is as facilitating transformative work on oneself or spiritual exercises that enable one to realize the evangelist's ideals The conclusion suggests some implications for our understanding of ethical formation in antiquity and the study of ethics more generally This will be an essential volume for scholars studying the Gospel of Matthew early Christian ethics the relationships between early Christian and ancient philosophical writings or ethical formation in antiquity Jesus and Scripture Thomas J. Parker, 2024-02-29 For the New Testament writers the Old Testament scriptures and the teachings of Jesus were key sources of authority and influence When these influences are considered alongside each other each can illuminate the other deepening the New Testament writers presentation of Jesus and our understanding of their interpretations In Jesus and Scripture Tom Parker examines the way in which Hebrews James and 1 and 2 Peter deal with these two different sources of authority how they relate to each other and what shifts have occurred historically and theologically within the writing of these texts Treating the four epistles methodologically Parker examines the particular ways in which each writer draws on the Hebrew scriptures Ultimately he argues convincingly that the nascent Jesus tradition particularly via oral routes influenced the way the Old Testament was processed by these various New Testament writers The Oxford Handbook of the Synoptic Gospels Stephen P. Ahearne-Kroll, 2023 The Oxford Handbook of the Synoptic Gospels presents essays that push the field beyond the Synoptic Problem and theological themes that ignore the particularities of each Gospel The first section explores some of the traditional approaches of literary dependence and engages with alternative ways to understand Synoptic relations while the second section treats a variety of historical literary and cultural phenomena important to the study of these Gospels At the Intersection of Hermeneutics and Homiletics Yung Suk Kim, 2025-04-18 While hermeneutics involves comprehensive study of the biblical text whether through historical or literary or reader focused approaches homiletics is concerned with a selected theme message and on the composition and delivery of sermonic discourse aimed at a particular audience But the border between hermeneutics and homiletics is blurry because both disciplines require readers to engage the biblical text from their own contexts This collection deals with the intersection of hermeneutics and homiletics by exploring two revelatory texts one from the Hebrew Bible and the other from the New Testament the book of Ruth and Matthew 15 21 28 a Canaanite woman's encounter with Jesus Both reflect agonizing issues that readers must tackle in migration family community identity agency race ethnicity gender class culture economy and religion A diverse group of scholars brings their transgressive perspectives to the above texts Unfolding new areas of interest inquiry and insight they will transgress authoritative readings of biblical texts fashion hermeneutic horizons in dialogue with the text and forge homiletic trajectories toward contemporary audiences Without limiting interpretation to a box this volume looks to register bold voices to perennial issues in our day Homiletic transformation occurs through the relentless resistant reading of the text and through reimagining our world

Anne Clements, 2014-05-01 The Gospel of Matthew opens with a patrilineal genealogy of Jesus that intriguingly includes five women Tamar Rahab Ruth she of Uriah and Mary In a gospel that has a strongly Jewish and male orientated outlook why are women incorporated In particular why include these four Old Testament women alongside Mary Rejecting traditional as well as feminist views Anne Clements undertakes a close literary reading of the narratives to discern how each woman is characterized and presented All are significant scriptural figures on the margins of Israelite society From this intertextual world established by Matthew Clements explores why Matthew may have named these women in the opening genealogy and what implications their inclusion may have for the ongoing gospel narrative Mothers on the Margin argues that Matthew s Gospel contains a counter narrative focused on women The presence of the five women in the genealogy indicates that the birth of the Messiah will bring about a crisis in Israel s identity in terms of ethnicity marginality and gender The women signal that Matthew s Gospel is concerned with the construal of a new identity for the people of God

The Theological Intentions of Mark's Literary Devices Dean B. Deppe,2015-10-22 What sets The Theological Intentions of Mark s Literary Devices apart from other books What niche does it fill that makes its publication important This volume will interest all those who value a literary approach to the Gospel of Mark Dean Deppe introduces some new literary devices in the research of the Gospel of Mark as well as demonstrates the theological intentions of Mark when he employs these literary devices Deppe argues that Mark employs the literary devices of intercalation framework allusionary repetitions narrative surprises and three types of mirroring to indicate where he speaks symbolically and metaphorically at two levels Mark employs these literary devices not just for dramatic tension and irony but also for theological reasons to apply the Jesus tradition to specific problems in his own day

The Quest for the Fictional Jesus Margaret E Ramey,2017-03-31 For almost two millennia Jesus story has been retold in various forms and fashions but in the last century a new way of reimagining the man from Galilee has sprung up in the form of novels about the life of Jesus While the novels themselves are as varied as their authors this work aims to introduce readers to some common literary strategies and theological agendas found in this phenomenon by surveying a few prominent examples It also explores the question of what happens when we examine the intertextual play between these reimaginings and their Gospel progenitors as we allow these contemporary novels to pose new questions to their ancient counterparts An intriguing hermeneutical circle ensues as we embark on our quest for the fictional Jesus and accompany his incarnations as they lead us back to re examine the canonical portraits of Jesus anew
